BOYS WHO 'KILLED COP' TO DIE

ALL ABOARD FOR U. S. ON AIRSHIP; FARE IS $3,000

Hop from Germany Set for Tuesday.

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 4.—It was announced today that four additional passengers will travel aboard the new German dirigible, Count Zeppelin, on its flight to America next week. They are all Americans and will pay $3,000 each for the passage. One is Fred Gillfillon, now in Zurich, and another Robert Reiner of Weehawken, N. J., now at Wuerzburg. The names of the others will be made known later. Hundreds of applications for the passage have been rejected.

The Count Zeppelin is being thoroughly overhauled for its trans-Atlantic journey. As far as can be judged at this hour nothing will prevent the ship from starting on Tuesday excepting extraordinarily bad weather. On Monday a flight will be made for final tests. All the apparatus and machinery withstood the strain of the last long journey to Holland and England splendidly and close examination has revealed no damage to any part of the huge and complicated structure that could not be quickly repaired.

Dr. Eckener Confident.

"The ship will master any difficulty it can possibly encounter over the ocean at this time of the year," Dr. Hugo Eckener, designer and commander of the dirigible, said today. "If, contrary to expectations, we should meet stormy weather we can evade it as we did on Tuesday just off Nuernburg, when we suddenly decided to take a western course.

"A collision is not to be thought of. So, with the two greatest dangers to steamship navigation eliminated in our case, what ill luck could befall the Count Zeppelin on her American journey? An explosion is not impossible, but on account of the well tried precautionary measures it is highly improbable."

Asked what chances the passengers would have to save their lives if disaster were to overtake the ship, Dr. Eckener answered:

"What can the passengers on a night express do to save their lives when the train, racing through the darkness at a terrific speed, suddenly crashes into another and nothing is left of either but a heap of débris and dead and dying human beings? But that does not prevent millions of travelers from trusting their lives to the railways every day.

Trip May Take 50 to 80 Hours.

"Passengers may take with them any life saving devices they wish to have, so long as the weight conforms to the regulations. Belts, parachutes and even little pneumatic boats can be taken, but what is the use, for if the airship perishes and you are lucky enough to jump at the right time you drop only to drown? My crew and I take no such precautions. We believe in the fine qualities of the Count Zeppelin.

"How long will it take to get to America? Well, from fifty to eighty hours. It all depends on the winds and the weather because air navigation practically means meteorological navigation. Personally, I should prefer the northern and shortest route, the circle route, leading via the north of England and the north of Ireland, across the Atlantic to Newfoundland, and down the coast via Boston to New York. Unfortunately, this otherwise ideal line is too often blocked by violent storms.

"Thus I am compelled to take another way. Either more north or south. Most likely I shall choose the latter, as I did four years ago with the Los Angeles, going via the Azores.

Winds May Hinder Progress.

"Regarding the length of the journey, it must be remembered that we do not start from a seaport as steamers do, but that we shall be nine or ten hours en route before reaching the sea. Another forty-five to seventy hours should land us in America. Counter winds, which have a strong effect on the immense surface of our ship, make it impossible to state precisely how long the journey will take.

"For instance, a counter wind blowing at a rate of fourteen yards a second means a reduction in speed amounting to about nineteen miles an hour. On the return journey, when we have west winds behind us, the speed increases accordingly, making it possible to reach Europe in forty-eight hours, or even less.

"The Count Zeppelin has not arranged for any special weather re-

INQUIRY FINDS LEGISLATOR ON ETTELSON ROLL

Wm. F. Weiss Paid as City Lawyer.

Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson's pay rolls, recently probed by the Loesch special grand jury, bobbed into the spotlight again yesterday with the discovery of the name of William F. Weiss on one of them as assistant corporation counsel at $6,000 a year.

The late William F. Weiss, state representative from Waukegan, was one of Gov. Len Small's supporters in the legislature. On June 21, 1927, while acting as temporary speaker of the house, he was credited with saving from defeat the key measure of the 87 Thompson finance bills boosting Chicago's bonding power. Mr. Weiss gaveled the house into adjournment at a moment when the measure seemed beaten. Later, Representative Howard Castle, who fought the bills, declared that Mr. Weiss' "outrageous conduct" indicated "collusion" between him and sponsors of the bills.

Ettelson Chief Lobbyist.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson was the chief lobbyist in behalf of the finance bills. He sat on the rostrum the night Mr. Weiss so effectively wielded his gavel.

The name of William F. Weiss, with no address given, appeared on Mr. Ettelson's payroll No. 1042 during August, 1927. He drew $250 checks semimonthly. Representative Weiss died Oct. 17, 1927.

Interviewed at her home, 426 North avenue, Waukegan, a few days ago, Mrs. Weiss, widow of the former legislator, was asked if she had received any money from the city since her husband's death.

Checks from Mr. Weiss.

"Mr. Welch was in business with my husband," she explained. "Mr. Weiss gave him business and he gave my husband business. After Mr. Weiss died I received several checks from Mr. Welch, but just where they came from I don't know."

"Did you know they were from the city of Chicago?" the reporter asked.

"Perhaps it would be better to have Mr. Welch here," she replied.

James G. Welch of Waukegan, former law partner of Weiss, summoned by telephone, came to the house from his office. He advised Mrs. Weiss that she have nothing further to say.

Decides to Keep Quiet.

"Do you wish to take that advice, Mrs. Weiss?" she was asked.

"Yes, I believe that is best," she replied.

The reporter then explained to the attorney that Mrs. Weiss had told him she was unaware where her checks had originated, whereupon she interrupted him.

"No, I didn't say that," she corrected. "What I did say was that I had received several checks from Mr. Welch, and that I didn't just now remember the items they were for. I didn't say I didn't know. But please just say for me that I haven't anything to say at this time, like Mr. Welch."

Welch's Name on Roll.

The last check sent to Mr. Weiss was on Oct. 7, 1927, the payroll record shows. On that date, there appeared on the line of roll number 1042 thus left vacant the name of James Welch as assistant corporation counsel at $6,000 a year, the same title and salary as that of the state representative.

Further examination of the Ettelson payrolls disclosed that James Welch continued to draw salary checks for the remainder of 1927 and during the first four months of 1928. On April 22, 1928, his name was dropped from roll 1042. During the entire six months the time record shows him at work every day except Sundays and holidays. His total remuneration for the period was approximately $3,000.

For a time the name of Mr. Welch, like that of Mr. Weiss, but unlike those of others on the pay rolls, appeared without an address given. Later his address was listed as 600 Gary place, Chicago. To this address, presumably, the checks were mailed.

Inquiry at 600 Gary place, a three story apartment house near Sheridan road and Addison street on the north side, failed to show that any one by the name of Welch lived there.

The pay roll on which the names of Mr. Weiss and Mr. Welch appeared is the next after the now famous roll number 1041, bearing the names of investigators. Some of these have testified that they drew checks, but did no work. Mr. Ettelson was out of town on a vacation yesterday and could not be asked about the Weiss case.

Plan Study of Aeronautics in High Schools

Principals of ten Chicago high schools met yesterday with William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, and Albert G. Bauersfeld, director of technical study, to discuss the advisability of instituting classes in aeronautics in each of the ten schools.

"School boys everywhere are eager to learn the 'why and how' of aeronautics," Mr. Bogan told the principals. "The airports of Chicago are besieged by boys who wish to learn about aeroplane construction and flights. I believe the time has come for the mechanic arts instructors in our schools to direct this enthusiasm for aeronautics toward motivating their shop projects.

Display Model Airplanes.

"One experimental class in each of your schools would be helpful in determining to what extent the fundamental principles of aeroplane construction and operation are within the capacity of adolescent youth."

Elias R. Christiansen, principal of the Tilden high school, displayed model airplanes constructed by students in the summer classes. Other schools represented at the meeting were Senn, Lane, Crane, Englewood, Austin, Calumet, Harrison, Hyde Park and Lindblom.

Air Mail Doubles in Year.

Air mail carried over the transcontinental route from New York to San Francisco has more than doubled since September of last year, it was disclosed yesterday by the American Air Transport company. During September of last year 90,226 pounds of mail were carried over this route as compared with 226,756 pounds last month. Of this poundage, the National Air Transport company, flying between Chicago and New York, carried 116,000 pounds, and the Boeing company, operating between Chicago and San Francisco, carried 110,756.

Edward Harms, 15 years old, 2325 Lincolnwood drive, and Ernest Marcoullier, 16, of 719 North Homan avenue, left for Atlantic City, N. J., yesterday to represent Evanston schools in the annual miniature aircraft flying tournament of the National Playground and Recreation association, which will be held there tomorrow.

Gen. Obregon's Son Shot; Lovers' Quarrel Rumored

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—Humberto Obregon, eldest son of the late President-elect Alvaro Obregon, is at the White Cross hospital in a serious condition after a bullet had passed through his body near his heart. Police headquarters said the shooting, which occurred at 3 a. m. at the gate of the home of President Calles' secretary and Gen. Obregon's brother-in-law, Fernando Torre-Blanca, was accidental. Rumors said that he quarreled with his fiancé, Flora Vega.

SUGGESTS RAIL CHIEFS CUT OWN PAY TO AID MEN

Suggesting that executives of western railroads could meet wage increase demands of their trainmen and conductors by cutting their own salaries, George W. Hunt, general chairman of the railway trainmen of the Oregon short line, yesterday presented an exhibit before the government fact finding commission.

Hunt said that if the salaries of the executives and officers of all western railroads were reduced $161 a year the reductions would provide enough money to allow an increase of between 6½ per cent and 7½ per cent to the conductors and trainmen. His exhibit showed that the average salary of executives on the western roads in 1926 was $5,474 and that the average annual salary of a conductor is $3,000.

Kenneth C. Burgess, attorney for the carriers, stated that the western railroads have lost $20,000,000 a year in receipts from motor competition.

LEON MANDEL'S PLANE CRASHES IN FOG; 1 HURT

New York, Oct. 5.—[Special.]—A Universal Transport company's all-metal airplane bearing Leon Mandel of Mandel Bros., Chicago merchants, and three others from Cleveland to New York, crashed at Marksboro, N. J., early this morning and was seriously damaged. Neither Mr. Mandel, Mrs. Logan, a stylist for the firm, nor the mechanic, whose name was not learned, were injured. Pilot "Bungy" Shearing was slightly hurt.

After arriving over New Jersey Shearing became lost in a heavy fog. From 10 p. m., last night until 1:05 o'clock this morning he cruised about in the fog trying to get his bearings. At the latter he ran out of gas and attempted a forced landing, wrecking the plane.

355 Precincts Involved.

The boards of registration are required to meet at 9 a. m. in each of the 355 precincts and make a list of all persons known to them as qualified and entitled to vote in the November election. The law does not fix a time for the registration to close tomorrow.

Since the registration judges and clerks cannot know every elector personally, County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer urges every voter to visit the polls and see that his name is on the list. Sweitzer also suggested to the judges that they canvass their precincts to get the names of all voters registered.

Other Registration Days.

A second registration, the last before the November election, will be held in Chicago, Cicero, Chicago Heights, and Summit on next Tuesday. In the other precincts another registration will be held on Oct. 16.

Outside the jurisdiction of the board of election commissioners it is possible for a qualified elector to vote without being registered, but this is inconvenient, officials pointed out, since it requires an affidavit.

Army Tests Battle Tanks, Electric Robot

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., Oct. 4. — [Special.] — Light, speedy tanks, fast armored cars and a new mobile anti-aircraft battery equipped with an electric "Robot" that not only computes firing data but automatically aims the guns at the aerial target, featured the tenth annual army ordnance demonstration held at Aberdeen Proving Grounds today.

More than 17,000 spectators, including four cabinet members, high ranking army officers and civilians interested in industrial preparedness for war, swarmed over the extensive testing ground from nine in the morning until late in the evening while various units of the army demonstrated the new weapons developed during the last ten years.

Distinguished Guests Attend.

Secretary of War Dwight Davis, Attorney General John G. Sargent, Postmaster General Harry S. New, Secretary of Commerce William F. Whiting and military observers from a dozen European nations were among distinguished guests who watched the army demonstrate how it will fight the next war if the army's obsolete equipment is replaced with the new improved weapons developed by the ordnance department.

Allan Hoover, son of Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee, was among the spectators.

While great interest was shown in the anti-aircraft firing, which took place during the day and in the evening with the aid of searchlights, the army's new motorized equipment proved the biggest attraction. So great was the desire of the spectators to see the army's new tanks and armored cars in action that time and again they broke through the lines established by the military police and swarmed out almost into the line of fire of the advancing machines.

New Models Show Speed.

The greatest interest was exhibited when two medium tanks preceded by new armored cars attacked two wartime tanks and destroyed them with gunfire. Much attention was attracted by the performance of light tanks developed during the last year. These seven ton tanks traveled twice as fast as the old world war models.

During the exhibition of these weapons it was learned that the army will ask congress to appropriate funds for twenty-five of these tanks this winter and that efforts will be made to add 100 of these weapons to the army within four years. At present the war department has only four experimental models, the regular units being equipped with obsolete tanks.

Five effective hits were scored on the sleeve target fired upon by a 3 inch anti-aircraft battery used in today's demonstrations. Hits were also registered by the 105 millimeter anti-aircraft battery and a .30 caliber machine gun battery, both equipped with automatic instruments.

Has Automatic Eye.

By using the Toque amplifier, the fire control device, the firing data is computed automatically and this data is transmitted to electric motors on the guns which automatically aim them, not at the target, but where the target will be by the time the shell or shrapnel reaches it.

Gen. C. C. Williams, chief of ordnance, asserted that the percentage of hits scored on aerial targets had been doubled in the last few years. The ten hits registered in today's firing were made at 10,000 yards. The spectator followed the line of fire by means of red tracer bullets.

During the afternoon, seven pursuit planes from Selfridge field, Mich., gave an exhibition of acrobatics and staged a "mimic battle."

At an afternoon meeting of the Army Ordnance association James L. Walsh of the American Society of Me-

JURORS DECREE ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR 2 YOUTHS

Charles Walz and Tony Grecco were found guilty last evening of killing Policeman Arthur Esau. The jury fixed their punishment at death in the electric chair.

Walz, who is 18 years old, and did the actual shooting of the policeman, stood dazed when the verdict was read in Judge Harry B. Miller's courtroom. He glanced helplessly around and swallowed hard. Grecco, who is a year Walz's senior, went completely to pieces. He sobbed aloud, tears running down his cheeks, and he shook his head in a gesture of futility as deputy sheriffs, supporting him under either arm, led him out of the courtroom.

Policeman Slain in Holdup.

The youths were convicted of slaying Policeman Esau in the Community Drug store at 3404 North Clark street. Walz fired three times when Esau walked in as they were holding up the place.

W. F. Crowley, Grecco's youthful attorney, wept with his client as the verdict was read. Attorney Cameron Latter, Walz's attorney, demanded that the jury be polled. The two boys had to stand up before the bench while each juror was called by name and asked whether "guilty and death" was his verdict.

And each juror replied: "It was and it is." Firmly, too, these twelve men answered the question, showing the verdict was the result of determination.

Prosecutors Praise Jury.

Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Levy and Emmett Byrne, who prosecuted the case, called the verdict a warning to all Chicago's youthful killers. They said they believed it would have a salutary effect on the community.

"It shows that the killing of policemen has become a death penalty offense again in Chicago and Cook county," Mr. Levy said. "There is no question but what the verdict is a just one. The jury is to be congratulated. It will be a good thing for the city."

Earlier, Prosecutor Levy had pleaded with the jury for the verdict that it returned. He told the jurors that if this were not a death penalty case there never was one. Answering argument of defense counsel, he said that there was nothing but sorrow for him in seeking the death of the two youths.

Levy Argues for Death.

"Counsel for the defense have told you that I seek personal advancement in obtaining a death penalty verdict," Levy said. "I ask you what material, what pecuniary or moral or spiritual advancement for me is there in demanding that these boys die? Not one iota. It means nothing to me. It means a great deal to the community.

"What would you accomplish by sending these young men to the penitentiary? Only what they killed a policeman to avoid.

"Young Walz, describing his crime to Grecco—and this is in the record—said: 'He came at me and I shot him in the arm. He kept coming and I shot him in the head. He still kept coming and reaching for his gun and I took aim and shot him in the heart.'"

Girl's Testimony Recalled.

The prosecutor was referring to the testimony of Grecco and of Dolly Kazor, who was Grecco's sweetheart, and lived with him at the time of the killing in a north side hotel. She testified that Grecco took her to Walz's house after the killing and that Walz described the killing to the family as he sat at the kitchen table cleaning his gun.

The jury deliberated one hour and fifty minutes. It decided on the first ballot that Walz must go to the electric chair. Several more ballots were required to decide the fate of Grecco.

The final arguments took up most of the day. As the lawyers talked Walz sat stolidly staring ahead of him. Once or twice when he shifted his position he found himself looking into the eyes of a pretty young woman lawyer who sat in court, and then he smiled.

Grecco Weeps at Plea.

Grecco wept as Attorney Crowley and then Attorney Latter made strong pleas against capital punishment. He sobbed audibly when Attorney Crowley told the jury that he had lain awake half of the night before praying for inspiration to save his client.

Among other things Levy told the jury it might as well place a premium on murder as to allow Walz and Grecco to escape death in the chair.

"What do you suppose our policemen will do if you do not carry out the law and give these men the extreme penalty?" the prosecutor asked. "Will they have any incentive to protect your property or mine? Will they not be justified in turning their backs when there is a chance of getting killed in the line of duty? It is up to you men—you must write the answer."

Defense to Appeal Verdict.

Each defense attorney made the customary motion for a new trial and Judge Miller set Oct. 13 as the date for hearing the motions. Both lawyers also announced they will carry their cases to the Illinois Supreme court. Attorney Latter said he will fight to the end.

"I made an insanity plea which I could do little to substantiate," he said. "In the legal meaning of the term my client is not insane, but I am firmly convinced he is mentally incompetent and the only reason he is not recognized as such under the law is that the law is about 50 years behind medical science.

"I will appeal to the Supreme court. If I am beaten there I will go to the governor. And if the governor fails to help I will make every effort to get my client's sanity properly tried."

Shows Murder Trial Record.

Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the Chicago crime commission, last night made public figures on murder in Chicago compiled since Sept. 10, 1924, the day on which Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, killers of Robert Franks, were sent to the penitentiary. This compilation shows that there have been 623 murder trials in Chicago, involving 815 defendants, in that time.

Of this number of defendants 23 were given the death penalty and most of them were hanged; 266 were sent to the penitentiary, 17 to the reformatory, 314 were found not guilty, and 90 cases were stricken off the docket with leave to reinstate them. There were also 55 cases in which the charge was wiped out by nolle prosse proceedings.

LIQUOR SELLER GIVES U. S. COURT FRANK EARFUL

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Frank J. Sullivan, a government witness, today testified in federal court that prohibition agents had often visited his speakeasy on the upper west side, but that he never had been arrested or interfered with.

He testified that he had told Assistant United States Attorney Terry he had been running a speakeasy and that Terry did not have him arrested.

These admissions came from Sullivan on cross-examination in the trial of fifteen defendants charged with conspiring to create a "gin and beer ring."

When Terry asked him when he had sold his last drink, Sullivan answered, "Last night."

Canal Yields Woman's Body Two Days After Death Leap

The body of Mrs. Catherine Todd, 51 years old, 1631 West 62nd place, was recovered last night from the drainage canal at Lockport, 25 miles from the Archer avenue bridge from which she leaped into the south branch of the Chicago river on Tuesday night. Police were told Mrs. Todd had jumped from the same bridge six weeks ago while suffering from a nervous breakdown but was rescued and sent to a Milwaukee sanitarium. She had been home but two days when she slipped from the house while her nurse was in another room. Her night gown and slippers were found on the bridge.

COURT BATTLES TIE UP INQUIRY INTO HERTZ FIRE

Crowe Seizure of Records Is Called "Theft."

Investigation of the fire last Monday night in which eleven of John Hertz' race horses were burned to death was complicated yesterday by several court engagements. The fire had further strained the relations between the rival Yellow and Checker cab companies, both of which, however, deny that any "taxi warfare" exists.

States Attorney Crowe's endeavor to investigate the records of the Checker Cab company brought him into difficulties in three courts yesterday. Judge Harry M. Fisher in the Circuit court said Crowe's seizure of Checker cab books on a subpoena duces tecum amounted to "practical theft." Following that statement Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court was asked to issue a warrant for the arrest of Crowe and his assistants, which was denied, however, pending a hearing today by Chief Justice John J. Sullivan of the Criminal court on a petition to have a special state's attorney supplant Crowe and investigate "collusion of officials with the Yellow Cab company."

Murder Inquest Today.

Attorney Arthur F. Albert, former alderman, and his partner, Edgar J. Cook, former assistant state's attorney, said their main fight on State's Attorney Crowe will start this morning at the resumption of the inquest into the death of Eugene Thivierge, Checker driver, who was killed Sept. 23 by men supposed to be employés of the Yellow Cab company.

This killing was followed by several acts of violence, including the burning of Hertz' stables on Leona farm near Cary, Ill., in which the two famous horses, Reigh Count and Anita Peabody, were endangered. Then Crowe ordered the raid on the offices of the Checker Cab company.

Judge Fisher, sitting as a chancellor hearing a petition for a mandatory injunction which would force Crowe to return the books, said Crowe acted without authority and said if the state's attorney would not agree to return the books today he, Judge Fisher, would "instruct counsel how to draw a proper bill and this court will take action." That was in reply to the questioning of his jurisdiction, Assistant State's Attorney Charles Dougherty asserting the matter was not properly before a chancellor.

May Ask Venue Change.

It was indicated the state's attorney's office would today seek a change of venue if Judge Fisher showed an inclination to proceed with the hearing.

Attorneys Albert and Cook declared to Judge Fisher that Crowe was a stockholder in the Yellow Cab company, and Judge Fisher said if that were true "by seizing books and property he can serve the competing corporation."

In their petition to Judge Sullivan for a special state's attorney, the lawyers made the same assertion but this time it was denied, Prosecutor Dougherty saying he was informed Mr. Crowe did not own any Yellow Cab stock.

Mr. Dougherty asserted last evening that he will appear before Judge Sullivan this morning to refute the charge to the effect that State's Attorney Crowe is a heavy stockholder in the Yellow Cab company and therefore prejudiced.

"Mr. Crowe assured me that neither he nor any member of his family owns any Yellow Cab company stock," he said.

"This seizure of books and papers is unlawful and the state's attorney's office is using this court to go out on the highways and commit theft," Attorney Cook said to Judge Sullivan.

"If the facts in this case warrant the appointment of a special prosecutor, it would be my duty to appoint Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom," Judge Sullivan said.

"Your honor, I will present documentary evidence tomorrow of graft and corruption on the part of public officials," Cook said, supporting his allegation that public officials discriminated against the Checker Cab company and were in a criminal conspiracy to injure, wreck and ruin the business of the company.

The only activity on the part of the Yellow Cab company was the visit of its president, Mr. Hertz, to the detective bureau to ask increased protection for Yellow Cab garages and other property.

'BAD BOY' MAYOR SENT TO JAIL FOR 2 MONTHS, FINED TOTAL OF $545

Salem, Mass., Oct. 4.—[U. P.]—Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, Newburyport's "bad boy" mayor, will spend the next two months of his executive term in the Essex county jail here for the illegal storage of gasoline.

The sentence was imposed here late today by Judge Nelson T. Brown after the red headed executive had pleaded guilty last week. In addition to the two months' sentence on two counts of illegal storage of gasoline, fines totaling $545 were imposed.

For cutting down a shade tree Mayor Gillis was ordered to pay $400 to the city of Newburyport.

Silent and apparently crushed by the disastrous ending of his controversy with city and state officials over his gasoline station, Mayor Gillis was taken from the court under guard to begin serving his term immediately.

Subway Towerman Held for Death of 18 in N. Y. Wreck

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The subway tower man who was on duty at Times square on Aug. 24 when a switched underground train was torn in two, killing 18 persons, admitted in court today that the name Harry C. King was merely an alias he adopted to "get away from my past life." When he also admitted that his testimony concerning the wreck was false, and further that he had been convicted of stabbing a man in Baltimore, Magistrate Corrigan ordered him arrested on a charge of second degree manslaughter.

Magistrate Corrigan stated he was convinced that the switch was thrown by some one in the tower.

2,000 U. S. CITIES INTERESTED IN AIRPORT SITES

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Approximately 1,000 cities in the United States are organizing airport committees and studying available sites, while another thousand are actually engaged in developing airport facilities, Harry H. Blee, chief of the commerce department's airport section, told aviation experts today.

He spoke at the first national aeronautical safety conference, held under the auspices of the National Safety council and the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics. The conference continues tomorrow, when Col. Charles A. Lindberg is to speak.

New York Votes 17 Million More for New Subways

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The board of estimate approved today appropriations totaling $17,146,500 for the construction of new subway lines and improvements to the city's independent subway system. The largest item was an appropriation of $6,490,000 for the construction of a section of the Bronx subway.

GOTHAM BUDGET $528,886,423.

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Mayor Walker today submitted the city's tentative budget for 1929 to the board of estimate. It provides for expenditures of $528,386,423.59, an increase of $16,000,000 over the final budget for 1928. Experts expect the budget will be nearer $550,000,000.

70 CHICAGOANS INSPECT LOCKS IN ILLINOIS RIVER

Find Work Speeding on Lakes-Gulf Route.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ottawa, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Progress of the construction work on the three major locks and dams of the Illinois river channel of the lakes-gulf waterway impressed a group of 70 of Chicago business men who inspected the system today. The tour of the group, consisting mostly of shippers and traffic managers, led them from the completed locks at Lockport to the nearly completed work at Starved Rock, the end of first day's trip.

Though the trip was undertaken, mainly to give the group first hand information of the progress of the waterway work, they also will inspect the terminal facilities along the channel and trade possibilities. For this purpose they will be taken tomorrow from La Salle to Peoria on the government boat, Comanche.

Complete Locks in 1931.

Completion of the locks and dams, located at five places along the 65 mile stretch of the Illinois waterway, between Lockport and Utica, in 1931 will signal the opening of lakes-gulf waterway and bring increased trade advantages to Illinois and the middle west, William F. Mulvihill, supervisor of the construction, told the group.

"Once barge transportation becomes an actual fact, Chicago will become the real industrial as well as agricultural center of America, with increased prosperity for city and country alike," Mr. Mulvihill said. "The interstate commerce commission is committed to the policy of requiring the railroads to join with barge lines in the establishment of through routes, with joint rail-barge and rail-barge-rail rates. The results of such coöperation are cheaper transportation and improvement in business conditions.

"The completion of the Illinois waterway will add at least $100,000,000 per year in volume of business and enable middle western shippers to reach the Pacific ocean trade, via the Panama canal, on a rate basis comparable to that now available to the eastern seaboards. It also will span the great south and southwest trade territory to Chicago and the middle west on rates that will equalize with those from the east by coastwise steamship."

Highest Lift Lock in World.

The first stop of the group was made at the completed locks at Lockport. There they were shown the highest lift lock in the world of that size. This lock, as well as those at Brandon Road, Marseilles, Dresden Island, and Starved Rock, can handle at one time ten barges, each with a load equivalent to that of 30 freight cars. The combined lift of the five locks is 126 feet, to offset the 140 foot fall of the channel bed in the 65 mile stretch. While the channel has a nine foot depth, the water will have a 14 foot depth over the miter sills of the locks.

At Joliet, the next stop, the party was given luncheon at the Joliet Chamber of Commerce, and then proceeded to the Brandon Road work, two miles down the river. This construction, begun last November, is the most important and difficult task in connection with the entire project, the group was told. It entails not only the construction of the lock and dam, but also the construction of four miles of retaining walls and the erection of five new bridges across the Des Plaines river in Joliet.

Much of Core Wall Finished.

A large part of the core wall is completed there, and the excavations for the main lock chamber and for the side walls running to Joliet are nearly finished. A river bed of rock formation and a rapid current are among the difficulties encountered on this $5,000,000 construction project.

Lack of time prevented a visit to the Marseilles and Dresden Island locks, and the group went on to Starved Rock. There, within sight of the beauty of that historic place, the locks are 75 per cent finished.

The tour was arranged under the joint auspices of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, Chicago Association of Commerce, Illinois Manufacturers' association, and the Illinois river division of the Mississippi Valley association.

DAD COOLIDGE TO PAY JOHN'S AUTO VICTIMS

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The matter of settling for the injuries received by Wilfred Veno, professional hockey player and his mother, Mrs. Mary Veno, when their automobile was struck by one driven by John Coolidge last week, is said to have been one of the reasons for the visit here of Everett Sanders, private secretary of President Coolidge.

Sanders assured the Venos that the President wished to do everything possible for them, but as far as can be ascertained no definite settlement has been made. Veno suffered a fractured skull, but is mending rapidly. Mrs. Veno, who was badly bruised, is out of danger. John Coolidge has been an almost daily visitor to the hospital.

Dr. H. A. Garfield Bolts Democrats; Is for Hoover

Williamstown, Mass., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Although he voted the Democratic ticket in the last four presidential elections, Dr. Harry A. Garfield of Williams college announced today he will cast his ballot for Herbert Hoover. "Prohibition, farm relief and foreign relations are the three main issues of the campaign," said Dr. Garfield. "I favor Mr. Hoover's stand on each of the three."

BANDITS SLUG BROKER ON CAR; GET $20,000 GEMS

CRIMINAL COURT.

Clifford Williams, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; John Hopkins, Leo Goldberg, and David Smith, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in Pontiac reformatory, by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Sam Lewitan, 62 years old, a diamond broker of 29 East Madison street, was slugged twice and robbed of $20,000 in uncut gems late yesterday on an interurban car bound from Joliet to Chicago. Two bandits boarded the car at Lemont. At Murphy's corner, three miles further east, they herded eight passengers to the front and compelled the motorman, Thomas Kowalsky, to stop the car.

Lewitan, making a break for the rear exit, was slugged twice on the head with the butt of a pistol. Without a word the bandits then jerked his jewel case from his inside coat pocket and fled, jumping into a sedan which had trailed the car from Joliet and was parked at the roadside during the robbery.

The sedan, containing the bandit pair and four other men, wheeled around and went west while the interurban proceeded into Chicago. Lewitan got off at the Argo station, had his head dressed by a physician and reported to the highway police. He said the bandits wore gray suits and gray hats.

GENE AND BRIDE ON AUTO TRIP; ROME STILL BOOS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Tunney, who were wedded here yesterday without benefit of press or photographers, pursued their honeymoon peacefully and alone today, autoing in the wooded hills of ancient Etruria, north of Rome.

A humorous weekly today prints a series of cartoons depicting Tunney viewing the Roman ruins, surrounded by a battalion of goose stepping cops and ending with the wedding ceremony. When the performer of the ceremony asks, "Do you take Miss Lauder for your wife?"

Tunney replies. "Sir, I refuse to be interviewed!"

SHOT 4 TIMES, BUT HE FIRES TWICE AT FOE

Shot four times in the breast, forearm, neck and knee, Sam Mushia, 37 years old, a fruit peddler of 2654 Thorndale avenue, yesterday managed to draw his own gun and fire twice at his assailant, who escaped. The shooting occurred in the Chicago and North Western railway terminal area at Kinzie and Clinton streets.

Mushia was taken to the Columbus Memorial hospital and later to the Bridewell, where it was said he may recover. He described his assailant as 25 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighing about 145 pounds. Police believe the other man was a fruit peddler with whom Mushia had a feud.

WOMAN, ILL, HANGS SELF.

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. A. F. Sackley, 30, hanged herself today. The woman's body was found by her husband in the basement. Relatives said she had been despondent over illness.

PEDESTRIAN, 81, KILLED BY FIRE AUTO; TOLL 730

Peter Ramakel, 81 years old, 1706 North Rockwell street, was fatally injured last night when he was struck at North avenue and Rockwell street by a fire department automobile.

Ramakel's daughter, Mrs. C. E. Smith, had left him on one side of the street while she crossed to purchase a paper. He determined to follow her, apparently, just as the fire automobile neared. Fireman Joe Horan, driver, and Acting Chief Frank Birmingham of the 4th battalion were in the car. Ramakel was thrown to the street and died a short time later in a hospital.

His death and two others increased the motor toll in Cook county to 730 since Jan. 1. The other victims:

Daniel Cross, 74 years old, 6128 North Oakley avenue. Struck by an automobile at Western avenue and Peterson road. The driver of the car, James Pospiril, was held.

Mrs. Alice McCaffrey, 47 years old. Struck by a taxicab at 73d street and Ridgeland avenue. Witnesses told the police that the driver of the cab, a Checker, drove rapidly away after the accident.

Deposition Is Taken from Miss Addams in Libel Case

Attorney Lewis J. West yesterday took a deposition from Miss Jane Addams to show that the social worker cannot in truth be called a communist "in spirit or in fact." The affidavit will constitute part of the evidence in a libel suit brought by a Mrs. Baldwin of Boonton, N. J., against the Rev. William H. Bridge of that city, who is a defendant for calling Mrs. Baldwin's reference to Miss Addams as a communist a "lying imputation." The case will be heard in the Circuit court at Morristown, N. J., tomorrow.

CITIES FOUND PRODUCING MOST SUCCESSFUL MEN

"There are three successful men of the present day born in cities to one reared on the farm," J. E. Smith, an official of the National Home Study council, declared yesterday at the annual convention of the council, meeting in the Stevens hotel. These figures are borne out by "Who's Who" statistics, he said.

"But the next generation, as the result of increased educational facilities, will show the rising generation of young men from the rural sections of the nation challenging the city youths on an equal basis," Mr. Smith asserted. Approximately 74 per cent of the men listed in "Who's Who" today were born in cities, he added.

Less than four per cent of the nations 42,000,000 gainfully employed earn $4,000 annually, according to Jesse Grant Chapline, vice president of the council, who spoke at the afternoon session.

ROOSEVELT SAYS HE'S AMAZED AT "MARTYR" GOSSIP

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for governor of New York state, in a statement issued through Democratic national headquarters today, said he was "amazed to hear that reports are being made to make it appear I have been 'sacrificed by Gov. Smith to further his own election.'"

The statement was telephoned by Mr. Roosevelt from Warm Springs, Ga.

"I am amazed to hear that efforts are being made to make it appear that I have been 'sacrificed by Gov. Smith to further his own election, and that my personal friends should vote against me to prevent such a sacrifice,'" the statement read.

"I was not dragooned into running by the governor. On the contrary, he fully appreciated the reasons for my reluctance and was willing to give up such advantage as he felt my candidacy might bring him, in deference to my wishes."

SEWER GRAFT IN NEW YORK PUT AT $16,000,000

"Pipe King's" Methods Laid Before Jury.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 4.—Evidence indicating that the late John Phillips, sewer pipe king, collected about $16,000,000 in graft on contracts in Queens was laid before the jury today in New York's gold plated sewer pipe trial. Special Prosecutor Emory Buckner tossed this breath taking development at the jurors who are trying former Burough President Maurice E. Connolly of Queens and Frederick Seely, former burough sewer engineer, on charges of conspiracy with Phillips to make millions out of the borough's $29,000,000 sewer expenditures.

Aided by a big chart of comparative prices of sewer pipe, Buckner offered evidence to show that Phillips collected graft amounting to about 35 per cent of the contract prices of Queens sewers built in recent years. He showed that on four of the biggest contracts, totaling $2,500,000—in the Jamaica sewer system in 1925 and 1926—Phillips charged $900,000 more than the market price of lock joint pipe to the sewer contractors, who added this excess cost to their charges.

Over Million a Year.

At this rate, it was shown, Phillips collected nearly $6,000,000 graft out of the $16,000,000 Jamaica system and more than $10,000,000 from the $29,500,000 worth of sewers constructed in Queens in the ten years from 1917 to 1927, or about $1,000,000 a year.

The prosecutor also showed that Connolly as borough president, awarded all of these contracts and that Seely, as sewer engineer under Connolly, drew the specifications so that Phillips had a virtual monopoly on all sewer pipe sold in Queens during that period.

Earlier in the day the jury had a look at the fine, disinterested friendship that existed between Phillips and his favored contractors.

Albert Decker, sewer contractor and "gravy man" to Phillips, did the telling. When the "pipe king" piped, Decker testified, it cost his faithful contractors plenty.

"Lent" $1,600,000.

"I was a kind of a private banker to Phillips," Decker admitted, "and advanced him sums totaling $1,600,000 in three years. This was always charged up against pipe I either had got or would get.

"I kept $150,000 in a safety deposit box in the Bank of Manhattan. Phillips told me he was playing the races and had to have money in a hurry. I always gave it to him when he wanted it and he told me he would pay me back in pipe."

Decker testified he bought some of his contracts and "got some of them straight from the city." He admitted the firm of Muccini & Decker had handled most of the sewer jobs in Queens.

A Tale of Easy Money.

The manner in which money was paid for "services" in sewer contract work in Queens was disclosed by George Everett, at one time superintendent of the Oxford Engineering company. One of the odd features of the sewer trial is that the defendants and almost all witnesses are always 'former" something or other.

Everett testified having paid $21,372 to Peter B. Campbell, handy man for Phillips, for the transfer of the contract to build a Queens sewer in 1925. The original award had been to the Riverdale Construction company.

Connolly figured prominently in the day's proceedings when Clifton E. Turner, president of the Highway Improvement and Repair company, was on the stand.

No Work and All Pay.

Mr. Buckner, in explaining the casual exchange of hundreds of thousands of dollars "just between friends," called attention to the award by Connolly of four sewer contracts in one day, June 26, 1926, to Turner's company, which had had no experience in sewer work and never before had bid on a sewer contract. He also brought out that Turner's company did not carry out the work, but assigned the contracts to others. Decker got three of them and the fourth went to the famous Awixa company.

The fourth contract, which grossed $2,500,000, according to Turner's testimony, proved profitable. Without doing a lick of work and without even the aid of a stenographer, Turner earned $86,910 for "assigning" the contracts. Later he turned back $26,910 to the Awixa company, Turner testified, "because the job did not turn out so good."

Just Among Friends.

The entire matter was just another good natured transaction among friends, according to Turner's tale, but one had to watch one's step when Phillips gave orders.

"He cursed me like everything for bidding," Turner told the jurors.

"Was the language hostile?" asked Steuer.

"Very hostile."

"Repeat it to the jurors."

"I couldn't possibly," replied Turner, "Phillips had no equal."

Despite the witness' effort to joke about it, Phillips' cursing must have had its effect, for the contracts eventually went to the pipe king's favorites.

James F. Richardson, vice president and treasurer of the Awixa corporation,, failed to throw any additional light on the records and canceled checks reported to have been stolen from his company and which the state is seeking as evidence.

CARLOAD OF FEDERAL ALCOHOL VANISHES AT BALTIMORE PLANT

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Special agents from the intelligence unit at Washington are investigating the disappearance of a carload of pure alcohol, approximately 8,000 gallons, from the plant of the United States Industrial Alcohol company at Curtis Bay, it has just been learned.

The alcohol disappeared two weeks ago. Six government inspectors, guards and gaugers have been suspended, pending a hearing of charges placed against them by John F. J. Herbert, prohibition administrator, who has supervision of distillers and alcohol plants in his jurisdiction. The men, it is said, are accused of gross dereliction of duty.

Local government officials are said to be convinced there was collusion "on the inside" in the disappearance of the alcohol, although those close to the dry unit contend that the officers suspended were accused only of carelessness.

10,000 RIDE NEW BUSES DESPITE BOYCOTT THREAT

Motor Coaches Filled as Feeder Fight Goes On.

Nearly 10,000 northwest side commuters paid 10 cent fares yesterday to ride on the new Chicago Motor Coach company buses in that district despite the threats of a boycott by promoters of 7 cent fare street car feeder buses.

John A. Ritchie, president of the motor coach company, in a statement last night announcing the passenger figures, was indifferent to the efforts of "a few agitators" seeking feeder lines. The comfortably filled coaches, he said, proved the merit of the service. The "agitators," on the contrary, declared that the patronage merely emphasized the acuteness of the transportation situation. Once 7 cent fare buses are put on the streets, they said, the coaches will be empty.

Women Protest Order.

The feeder bus-motor coach battle centered yesterday at the offices of the Illinois commerce commission, which were invaded by nearly 100 indignant housewives, led by Mrs. J. P. Crum, 6340 Diversey avenue, who protested the commission's order allowing the extensions. The "kitchen army" carried banners reading "Feeder Buses or Walk" and "Down with the Ten Cent Fare." The women jeered and cheered as attorneys for the surface lines and the motor coach company clashed at a hearing before Assistant Commissioner Pence Orr.

The hearing was adjourned until next Tuesday with nothing accomplished. It was balked when Attorney H. W. Weber for the surface lines declared that further debate was useless if the commission already had acted.

"The press states—we have no official notice—that the commerce commission disposed of the matters supposedly being considered here at Springfield Tuesday," said Weber. "I suppose this hearing is at an end."

Orr Wants to Go On.

Mr. Orr replied that his instructions were to go ahead.

"It would appear to me," said Mr. Orr, "that the orderly thing is to go ahead. We can't take official cognizance of newspaper stories."

"Every newspaper in Chicago can't be wrong," retorted Weber. "You talk of orderly procedure. That's a joke. The commission itself has dissipated everything orderly about this hearing. And, more than that, I'll tell you this: the commission has flown squarely in the teeth of every statute on the books."

At Mr. Weber's insistence the hearing then was adjourned to give Mr. Orr an opportunity to learn of the proceedings at Springfield.

Car Lines Retain Busch.

Following the hearing Mr. Weber announced that Francis X. Busch, corporation counsel under the Dever administration, had been retained by the surface lines as associate counsel on feeder buses. Corporation Counsel Ettelson repeatedly has held up Mr. Busch's opinion to sustain his own that the feeders are illegal.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th], chairman of the council transportation committee, yesterday appealed to northwest side residents to boycott the motor coaches. Within a short time, he predicted, feeder buses will be in operation.

CRIPPLED STEAMER FIGHTING ON THROUGH MOUNTAINOUS SEAS

New York, Oct. 4.—Special.]—The Dutch steamship Celaeno, reported sinking in mid-Atlantic with a crew of forty-four, is making for the Newfoundland banks under its own steam, with a northwest gale raging and mountainous seas encompassing it, according to a wireless message to the Radio Marine corporation at Chatham, Mass.

The message was flashed from the liner America by its commander, Capt. George Fried, last night and was relayed to the United States lines here this morning. It reads: "Celaeno making it O. K. alone. Very high seas running."

Additional reassuring words came in a message of considerable length from Capt. Paul Wiehr, skipper of the Hamburg-American liner Albert Ballin, who reported today that the Celaeno was fighting through the gale successfully.

"This morning," Wiehr wirelessed, "we received the following message: 'Steamship Celaeno to all ships: Here everything O. K. Lost six lifebuoys. Master.'"

No mention was made in the Celaeno's wire to an earlier one picked up by the Albert Ballin that the Celaeno's lifeboats had been torn away and a man washed overboard.

CARNES LINKED WITH MISSING RAIL PAY ROLL

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Clinton S. Carnes, who is being brought back to Atlanta for trial on charges of embezzling approximately $1,000,000 from funds of the Southern Baptist Home Misison board, of which he was treasurer, today faced a new accusation—that of the disappearance of a railroad pay roll in Indiana.

The prisoner has been identified by Chief Wilmot Bonnor of the Clinton, Ind., police department, as "the man we want," according to dispatches received in Atlanta today from the Atlanta Constitution correspondent on the train with the prisoner.

Dispatches also stated that Carnes asserted that the mission board knew the financial accounts were in a muddle. "They knew all about how the board's finances were all messed up," he said.

Early in 1914 Carnes was the station agent for the former Southwestern railroad, now the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, at West Clinton (near Terre Haute), according to the new disclosures. Carnes left there about the time the West Clinton pay roll was reported missing.

CARNES HERE ON WAY SOUTH.

Clinton S. Carnes, charged with embezzling $1,000,000 in Southern Baptist mission board funds, came through Chicago yesterday, in the custody of Atlanta officials, after his arrest in Winnipeg, Man. Although Carnes met questions with a smile and refused to talk, his captors said they were convinced that they had obtained sufficient information to make a good case against him.

Gifts Are Received from 100 Chicagoans.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Nearly 100 residents of Chicago and vicinity are included among contributors to the Republican campaign funds announced today by J. R. Nutt, treasurer of the national committee. Contributions in September amounted to $1,074,870, bringing the total thus far up to $1,733,289. Expenditures during September amounted to $1,194,618, making the total cost of the campaign up to date, $1,406,834.

Several $25,000 contributions were made during the month, those giving this sum including W. P. Chrysler, William Nelson Cromwell, Harrison Williams, S. R. Guggenheim, Daniel Guggenheim, Harry F. Guggenheim, Cyrus S. Eaton, Clarence Dillon, George F. Baker Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, all of New York City. Treasurer Nutt, a Cleveland banker, contributed $20,000.

Morris Gives $10,000.

Julius Rosenwald was the largest Chicago contributor with $15,000. Marshall Field of Chicago and New York gave a similar amount. Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago, who was minister to Sweden under the Wilson Democratic administration, and W. P. Murphy were Chicagoans giving $10,000 each.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes, who has not figured actively in the campaign, contributed $5,000. Others residing in Chicago and suburbs who gave $5,000 were George M. Reynolds, Arthur Reynolds, B. G. Dahlberg, H. B. Riley, Sewell D. Avery, Thomas E. Wilson, Albert W. Harris, E. R. Graham, H. L. Stuart, George B. Everitt, Frank R. Hoover, and James Norris.

Each of These Gave $4,000.

Senator Norbeck [Rep.], South Dakota, called on President Coolidge today. He voiced the belief that Gov. Smith did not make much headway on his western trip. The senator admitted Gov. Smith's speeches did him some good, but said he did not appeal to the average voter. He predicted South Dakota will go for Hoover, but said the situation is not so good for the Republicans in the other northwestern states. Senator Norbeck did not visit Hoover headquarters.

14 Women Leaders Freed After Raid on Tea Room

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Fourteen women, declared to be political leaders of this city, arrested on gambling charges yesterday in a police raid on a tea room, were dismissed by Police Judge John H. Morgan today with a reprimand to the officers for arresting them without evidence that they had actually bet on a horse race pool. S. W. Allen, proprietor of the tea room, was held on a charge of keeping a gambling house.

ARCHLAST EIGHT
THE MODERN SHOE

Keep your healthy feet healthy

THE ARCHLAST EIGHT involves a new principle in shoe making which checks the foot difficulties with which men are threatened. This modern shoe is designed to overcome the weakened structure of our feet. We're no longer pedestrians, we're motorists, and as a result we are undermining and weakening our foot muscles and metatarsal bones. The Archlast Eight is designed to prevent rather than cure arch difficulties. It consists of a concealed steel support, tempered and moulded to hold the arch of the shoe in the natural and proper shape in which it was originally lasted. The arch is always new, no matter how old the shoe is, or how long it has been worn, the arch will never sag.

ROW'S TRIBUNE

ELLER PRECINCT CAPTAIN JAILED AS GUN TOTER

First Conviction Won by Special Prosecutors.

As the legal tangle resulting from the unexpected writ of habeas corpus filed directly in the Supreme court by attorneys representing Morris and Emmanuel Eller and Charles Farrell, an obscure figure in the south side vice and crime ring, was being ironed out yesterday to the satisfaction of the special prosecuting staff of Frank J. Loesch, the first conviction of an election day hoodlum was credited to the prosecutors.

Edward Brownstein, an Eller precinct captain, charged with many election day crimes in a series of special grand jury indictments, was given a 30 day sentence in the Bridewell and fined $100 and costs by Judge Daniel P. Trude in the Municipal court on a charge of gun toting.

Wolff Defends Brownstein.

The sentence of Brownstein came despite the testimony of Coroner Oscar Wolff, who had been called as a state's witness, but who said that Brownstein was in his employ from time to time as an "undercover man" and was given a coroner's star.

Special Assistant Attorney General William Haynes, who obtained the recent indictments against the south side vice ring, is credited with first success in the battle of Frank J. Loesch against the alliance of crime and politics. He argued to Judge Trude that despite Coroner Wolff's testimony that Brownstein was an employé of his and had been given a star, he was not so employed at the time of his arrest and had no authority to carry a revolver.

Attorney Roland Libonati, representing Brownstein, produced no defense for his client, depending solely on the testimony given by the coroner as a state's witness. The attorney, however, indicated that he would appeal from the decision of Judge Trude.

Asked to Return Star.

Coroner Wolff testified that Brownstein at various times in the last two years has produced valuable evidence while acting as an "undercover man." The coroner said that he asked Brownstein to return his star shortly after the April primary, as he did every other person holding a star from his office.

Wolff said that Brownstein appeared and offered the star, but that he then told him that the general order issued did not apply to him and that he would notify him again when he wanted the star returned. Several days later, he said, he called Brownstein on the telephone and asked for the star. It was never returned.

Sheriff Charles Graydon, who by the unusual move of Attorneys Michael Ahern and Thomas Nash in filing the habeas corpus writ was placed in the position of defending the legality of the special grand jury, although his political faction has opposed the inquiry, consented last evening to allow Special Assistant Prosecutor Edwin J. Raber to draw up the return.

Graydon also agreed to place no obstacles in the way of Prosecutor David Stansbury in appearing before the Supreme court. The sheriff will not be represented by any attorney at the hearing today, and will consent to Stansbury appearing to argue against the writ. The sheriff was served with the writ by Attorney Ahern at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

State's Attorney Crowe's office had refused to represent the sheriff because, it was explained, the prosecutor was disqualified in the original investigation.

"I have no objection to the attorney general appearing in the proceedings," said Sheriff Graydon. "I am just a sheriff wanting to perform my duties in a legal way. I am not interested in any political moves in connection with this inquiry. I have always given the special prosecutors all assistance within my power."

Farrell in Springfield.

Farrell, the subject of the writ, was taken to Springfield last night. Whether the Supreme court will render an immediate decision or take the case under advisement was not indicated.

The trial of the Eller henchmen was again slowed down yesterday by the illness of a second juror. Frank Nichols of Western Springs was placed under the care of a physician when he developed a fever and a sore throat. A health department examination will be made to make sure he is not a victim of diphtheria.

OLD LOVERS WED AFTER 50 YEARS DIVIDED BY SEA

Fifty years ago William H. Bush and Mary Anne Bryan were sweethearts in Leeds and Leicester, England. Then William came to America, found a job, married, and had a family. Mary remained in England and likewise married. A few years ago the first Mrs. Bush died. The widower, lonesome, returned to England and found his childhood sweetheart a widow. FAHERTY URGES $800,000 PAVING IN ROGERS PARK

Immediate paving of eight miles of streets in the Rogers Park district at a cost of $800,000 was recommended yesterday by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements. Mr. Faherty ordered preparation of plans by his engineers.

The streets involved in the program are in the area bounded by Clark street, the lake, Granville avenue, and Juneway terrace. These include Greenview, Chase, Sherwin, Jarvis, Birchwood, Wayne, Lakewood, Magnolia, and Columbia avenues and Juneway and Eastlake terraces. The pavements on these thoroughfares are said to be the worst in the city.

"This is to be a comprehensive plan," said Mr. Faherty. "One section will not suffer by the paving of another, as all of the work will go forward simultaneously."

GETS 60 DAYS FOR GUN TOTING.

Amos Lee, colored, 35 years old, 3700 Vincennes avenue, was sentenced to sixty days in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Albert B. George. The charge was carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

SEARCH FOR MAN IN SCHOOLGIRL SUICIDE TRAGEDY

Friends Tell of Romance That Ended in Death.

Police continued last night in their search for Charles Tennis, 27 years old, 921 Crescent place, for love of whom 16 year old Dolores Malcher, Waller High school student, committed suicide by inhaling gas Wednesday. An inquest was continued until Monday so that police may have time to find Tennis, who disappeared shortly after the girl's body was found in the home of her chum, Audrey Helm, at 158 West Schiller street.

The following views were expressed yesterday by those interested in the death of the schoolgirl:

Mrs. Ada Tennis, wife of the missing man—I knew about Charley's affair with Dolores for some time, but I didn't think anything of it. I go out with men and he goes out with girls, and we know it means nothing serious. He regarded her only as a "silly little girl." She even gave him her high school ring, which he showed me, laughing about it.

Audrey Helm, 15 years old, 158 West Schiller street, chum of the dead girl—She knew Chuck for a year and was crazy about him. They went swimming together at the beach and he met her at school at noon and took her to lunch. Lately she told me Chuck was cooling towards her, and she said she didn't know what she'd do if he stopped loving her."

Dr. William Benson, coroner's physician: "I made a physical examination of this girl and she is in perfect health. There is no evidence indicating that she had relations with any man."

Otto Malcher, commercial artist at 824 West Superior street, father of the dead girl: "She was such a laughing, merry girl. They called her "Happy" at school. She never seemed the least bit morbid and her mother and I knew of nothing about this affair with Tennis. I'll make certain that he doesn't take any more girls out and have affairs like this."

ports as the normal service which is used by steamers will be quite sufficient. While over the ocean we shall maintain an average height of 900 to 1,000 feet.

"During the first part of the voyage we shall rely on weather reports from Norddeich and Koenigswusterhausen and on the second part we shall use those of the American coast stations."

Passengers May Send Messages.

The passengers, Dr. Eckener said, could send and receive wireless messages at any time and the ship would make her position known whenever necessary.

"It is quite possible," continued Dr. Eckener, "that you may not hear from the ship for hours and hours. So it was in the case of the Los Angeles. She was not heard from for ten hours and people told me afterwards that all the world feared some disaster had occurred. The fact was that near the gulf stream we found the atmosphere strongly charged with electricity and that completely paralyzed the efforts of our wireless operators. Nobody need be alarmed if it happens again.

"All care will be taken to make traveling in the Count Zeppelin at least as safe as traveling in any steamship. Even if by any chance two motors should fail, the rest would suffice for the continuation of the voyage without lowering the speed much. If the steering wheel fails there is still an auxiliary apparatus in the stern through which the movements of the airship can be directed. Our system of cells may be compared to the water tight compartments of modern steamers.

Postage Rate Is $1.

Life aboard ship during the ocean voyage will be exactly like that on an ocean liner. Our crew consists of 39 men, who will work in shifts, having four hours to themselves after two hours' work. There is a large room in the center of the ship's body, where the men may spend their leisure hours, and sleeping accommodation is distributed all over the structure. We are democrats aboard the ship and therefore passengers and crew get the same two principal meals each day. Of course, it remains the privilege of passengers to order any extras within the limited range of the kitchen.

Dr. Eckener hopes there will be enough Americans anxious to experience travel by airship to fill twenty cabins on the return journey.

The postoffice at Friedrichshafen has already accumulated a small mountain of mail bags containing messages for America, despite the fact that the postage costs four marks [$1]. Albert Loeffler of Chicago has posted 300 letters for stamp collecting friends in America.

17 Arrested in Australia for Mutiny; 8 Convicted

BRISBAN, Australia, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Seventeen members of the crew of the steamer Fiona were arrested today at Lucinda, charged with disobeying the orders of the ship's master and hindering transport. Eight of the men were convicted and sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

NEED OF STRONG NAVY TOLD BY DR. CIGRAND

England and other nations holding colonies in the western hemisphere owe the United States a vote of thanks for the Monroe Doctrine, Dr. B. J. Cigrand of Batavia, Ill., president of the American Flag Day association, declared last night at a meeting at Waukegan under the auspices of the American Legion.

"Foreign nations have never fully recognized the Monroe Doctrine. They entertain the idea that it is just a happy dream of Uncle Sam's. It will take the steel teeth of a strong navy to make it understood. For 104 years we have protected Canada, and a vote of thanks is due from parliament. Other nations having lands or colonies in this hemisphere are similarly indebted.

INDIANA CITIES WOO CHICAGO'S GRAIN ELEVATORS

Offer Aid in Board of Trade Dilemma.

Several Indiana cities yesterday started campaigns to capture Chicago's grain storage business.

Poor shipping facilities in the central business district and the refusal of the Illinois commerce commission to grant the Board of Trade a license to conduct a warehousing corporation caused the board's president, Samuel P. Arnot, to appoint a committee recently to determine whether it would be feasible to transfer the elevator business to Indiana or Wisconsin.

La Porte Telegraphs Offer.

"Avoid difficulties in years to come," the La Porte, Ind., chamber of commerce wired. "Establish warehouses in northern Indiana, eighty minutes from Chicago. Laws are favorable here. We have many desirable sites on railroad sidings and will give land and full coöperation."

Among the other cities which have similar offers are Hammond and Michigan City.

[illegible] E. Bennett, chairman of the investigating committee, explained that removal of grain warehouses with a capacity of 40 million bushels outside the state would free the Board of Trade from the handicap placed on its trading facilities by the action of the state commerce commission.

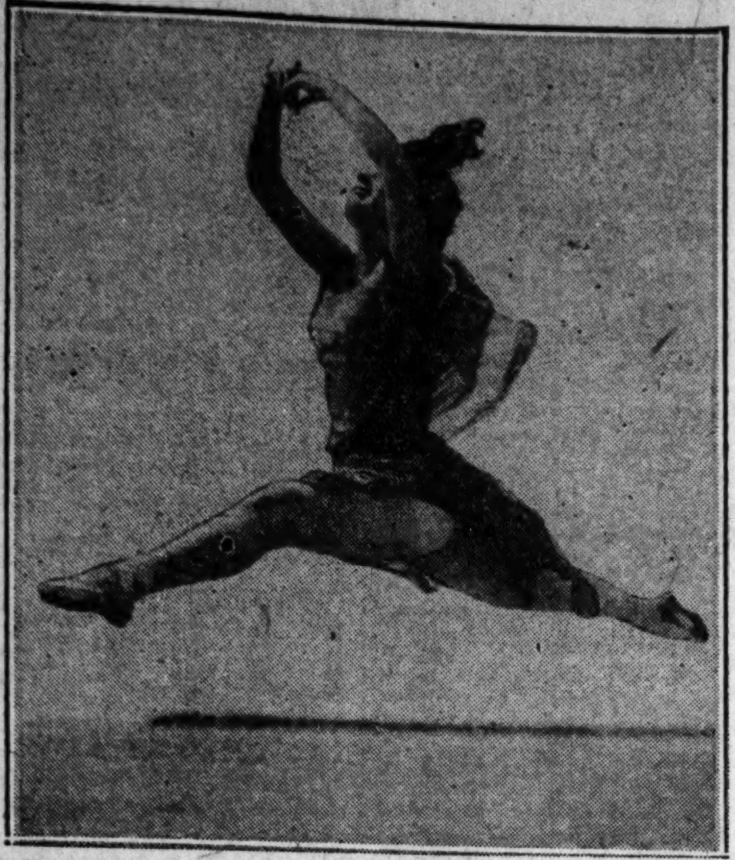
The Board of Trade had formed a plan for its warehouse corporation under the provisions of the McCarthy bill passed at the last regular session of the general assembly. The commerce commission, declaring that the management of such a concern by Board of Trade members would give them unfair advantages, unanimously rejected the proposal.

Asks Better Shipping Facilities.

"There is still to be considered the matter of traffic congestion," Mr. Bennett said. "All grain business in Chicago suffers because of it. Harbor facilities in the city and in the Calumet district have not kept pace with growth in lake traffic, which will become even more important with the deepening of the Welland canal. This work is being done by the Canadian government and there will soon be a 24 foot channel and locks equal to those at Sault Ste. Marie. The grain trade here must have better facilities for shipping."

As to railroads, the rates to Chicago, with no switching charges, apply to Roby, Whiting, Indiana Harbor, East Chicago, Grasselli, and Hammond. Establishment of elevators in any of these towns, it was said, would make it easier to do business than to keep the storage facilities in Chicago.

DANCER IS MARRIED



MISS MARY CORDAY, WHO IS NOW MRS. BEN ALI HAGGIN.

[Kadel & Herbert Photo.]

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Friends of Ben Ali Haggin, famous for designing stage tableaux and scenery, revealed today that he was married last Saturday in Connecticut to Miss Mary Corday of Florence, Italy, and New York. Mr. Haggin, who had been separated several years from his second wife, Bonnie Glass, a stage dancer, announced early this week that a divorce had been granted in Sonora, Mexico. Each had charged the other with mental cruelty.

Start Service Over New "L" Tracks in Evanston

Evanston public officials and officers of the Chicago Rapid Transit and the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad were passengers yesterday aboard the first elevated train run over the new roadbed from Church street to beyond Central street, Evanston, replacing the existing surface right of way and eliminating eleven grade crossings. Fares will be collected by conductors instead of by station ticket takers until new stations are erected to replace those made useless by the elevated right of way.

ARRESTED ON BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Louis Feinstein, 34 years old, proprietor of a fruit commission house at 216 South Water market, was arrested there yesterday on a warrant charging him with issuing $1,080 in worthless checks to an apple grower at Jonesboro, Ill. He will be taken there for prosecution.

57 INDICTMENTS MAKE CORPSE OF "PLEASURE MAN"

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special]—Working with almost unprecedented speed, the New York county grand jury today heard evidence and returned a blanket indictment against Mae West, the author of "Pleasure Man"; Carl Reed, the producer; Charles E. Davenport, the stage manager, and fifty-four actors and actresses who appeared in the play at the Biltmore theater.

The indictment, based on the law forbidding the exhibition of a play portraying degeneracy, was handed to Judge Koenig a few minutes before 1 o'clock this afternoon. It took less than two hours to get the evidence gathered by the police in the two raids on "Pleasure Man" before the jurors.

Judge Koenig at once issued bench warrants for the defendants. Miss West, therefore, stands an extremely good chance of spending additional time in jail. Last year, after being convicted of obscenity in the presentation of her play "Sex" she served a ten days sentence on Welfare island. She is starring in another of her works, "Diamond Lil," at the Royale theater.

The police raids, it was learned were based partially on the actions of the players as well as on the lines of the show. Therefore, according to the detectives they found it necessary to demonstrate the antics of the female impersonators in the show for the benefit of the jurors.

Whatever the fate of the defendants, "Pleasure Man" is off Broadway for good.

MABEL GETTING U. S. PAY WHILE OUT ON STUMP

Mrs. Willebrandt Not on Leave, Sargent Says.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Congressman A. J. Sabath of the Fifth Illinois district charged yesterday, on the strength of a letter from Attorney General Sargent, that the Coolidge administration is responsible for the campaign activities of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, including her speeches before two Methodist church conferences in Ohio against Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Congressman Sabath wrote to Mr. Sargent asking if Mrs. Willebrandt had taken a leave of absence from her position as assistant attorney general or was still drawing her pay. The answer said that she is receiving her salary. A second question concerning the amount of money she has drawn for traveling and other expenses could not be answered until he had referred it to the accounting department of his office, Mr. Sargent wrote.

Puts Blame on G. O. P.

"The attorney general's reply," said Congressman Sabath, "establishes responsibility for the whispering campaign that is being waged throughout the country. Much as I dislike to make a woman the center of a disagreeable controversy, I do not intend to permit the responsible Republican leaders to hide behind her skirts and dodge responsibility for her actions.

"The fact that Mrs. Willebrandt is receiving her salary is proof that her conduct is approved by the national administration and that she is not the 'free lance' that the Hoover managers would have us believe. I intend to press the inquiry whether the government also paid her expenses during her whispering campaign."

"In Her Office at Work."

The congressman made public the text of the Sargent letter and there was some comment on the fact that the attorney general said explicitly that Mrs. Willebrandt "is in her office at work." This was taken as indirect confirmation of a report that she has been ordered to cease the campaign she had been making.

Congressman Sabath also issued a statement condemning the assertion of John R. Mauff, former secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade, that Herbert Hoover, through the operations of the U. S. Grain corporation, prevented a crash in the corn market in 1918.

"Mr. Mauff," read the statement, "merely gives substance to the frequently made charges that the corn market was manipulated by the grain corporation. In October, 1918, the farmers were forced to sell their corn at low prices. It passed into the hands of speculators and gamblers who were close to the men in the grain corporation. Then, and not until then, did it act to relieve the situation. The gamblers who had bought at low prices from the farmers reaped the profits. The farmers received no benefit from the operation."

Safe for Smith, Says Lewis.

Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who has been speaking for the Democratic national committee in Missouri, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Indiana, asserted yesterday, that the first three are safe for Smith.

Thomas F. Donovan, Democratic national committeeman, announced that he would take up with the war department a charge that Chaplain Evers of the Soldiers' home at Danville, Ill., attacked the Democratic nominee last Sunday as "Gov. Alcohol" Smith and "tried to show that he has been connected with the liquor interests and houses of prostitution."

The charge was made in a letter of protest from an inmate of the home, Louis G. Walz, who complained that the home is supposed to be nonsectarian and that the chaplain's remarks during Protestant chapel services constituted objectionable political tactics.

Senator Charles Curtis, Republican nominee for Vice President, spent a quiet day yesterday, his chief activity being a visit to the Lincoln Fields race track. Today he will tour the industrial section of northeastern Indiana, winding up with an evening speech at Gary.

SEEK TO PROTECT MABEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Tentative plans for the investigation of presidential, vice presidential and congressional campaign expenditures, which is to be undertaken next week, were discussed today by Republican members of the special house committee appointed last session.

None of the three members who participated — Representatives Lehlbach [Rep., N. J.], chairman of the committee; Chindblom [Rep., Ill.], and Nelson [Rep., Me.]—would reveal details of the conference.

It is understood however, that procedure was agreed upon to balk the avowed intention of Democratic members to demand the appearance of Herbert Hoover and an investigation into the campaign activities of Assistant Attorney General Mabel Willebrandt.

Offset to Senate Quiz.

One of the Democratic members, Representative Black [Dem., N. Y.], who will arrive in Washington tomorrow, has announced that he will insist upon a searching investigation into the "whispering campaign" against Gov. Al Smith and an inquiry to determine under whose auspices Mrs. Willebrandt has appeared before various religious groups in the middle west to attack the Smith candidacy.

Representative Ragon [Dem., Ark.], is the other Democratic member of the committee.

The investigation was authorized by the house under a resolution introduced by Representative Snell [Rep., N. Y.], and was designed, it was generally asserted at the time, to offset the activities of the special senate committee then investigating pre-convention campaign expenditures.

The latter committee, it was charged, was unfriendly to the Hoover candidacy. Headed by Senator Steiwer [Rep., Ore.], it was accused of showing undue partiality to the Lowden candidacy in the Republican party and the Smith candidacy in the Democratic party.

THREATENS TO HALT PRIMARY QUIZ BY SUIT

Madison, Wis., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—While the investigation of primary election campaign expenditures got under way at a John Doe hearing in Superior court today an attempt to block continuance of the quiz came from W. G. Kirchoffer, Madison consulting engineer, who objects as a taxpayer to Dane county footing the bill in a venture which he asserts is engineered by one political faction.

Mr. Kirchoffer served notice on C. O. Femrite, county treasurer, warning him against paying any money for inquiry costs and threatened injunction proceedings and a taxpayer's suit should payments be made for what he considers an illegal action. If there is to be a state investigation the state and not the county should foot the bill, he contends.

R. O. Wipperman, secretary of the state Republican committee, was the only witness at the hearing today.

Treasurer Femrite has appealed to Attorney General John Reynolds for an opinion as to whether the campaign expense inquiry is legal to make sure that he and his bondsmen won't be left "holding the bag."

WARRANTS OUT FOR 2 MORE IN KIDNAPING CASE

Warrants were issued yesterday by Judge Francis B. Allegretti for Anthony Cappellano and Joseph Peconti, charging them with being accessories to the kidnaping of Billy Ranieri. Cappellano is a nephew of Andrew Cappellano, owner of the farm where Billy was kept prisoner, and Peconti is a brother of Tony Peconti, one of the kidnapers, who has so far evaded arrest. Two suspects were arrested in Joliet yesterday by the police in an effort to find some trace of Julio Romano, the other missing member of the gang.

DENEEN FORCES SEEKING FRAUDS IN REGISTRATION

Democrats Open Drive for Colored Vote.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The Deneen Republican group opened a drive yesterday against fraudulent registration, while the Democratic county leaders got ready for intensive campaigning among the Negro vote, hitherto a great Republican asset.

At a conference of Deneen committeemen at the Morrison hotel plans were made to form a viligance body to investigate registration with a view of grand jury action and indictments wherever padding of the lists is found. Especial attention is to be given the river wards and the old flop house districts, where scouts reported that the usual percentage of floaters and stingers seem to be on the rolls.

Investigators declared that the great increase in public interest and in registration, as shown by the first day's enrollment in Chicago, has apparently given more cover for spurious registrations in some precincts notorious for election frauds. The Twentieth ward, home of the Ellers, is to be given special study.

Will Scour Many Areas.

After the second day of registration next Tuesday it is proposed by the Deneen camp to scour all areas brought into notoriety by election troubles in recent years, and, working in conjunction with County Judge Jarecki, in case evidences of padding and colonization and floaterizing are found, to blow the lid off before election day instead of afterward.

Colored leaders have been bringing word to Democratic headquarters that the Negro vote in Chicago is split this time as never before in a presidential year. They figure that between 80,000 and 90,000 Negro votes are cast in Chicago. Most of them are concentrated on the south side in the Second, Third, and Fourth wards, but there are twenty wards which have a good sized colored vote, and in all these organization work is being started by colored Democratic headquarters.

This drive links up with a state and national movement. There is a large Negro vote in Cairo, the East St. Louis industrial district, Alton, Peoria, Danville, and the coal regions of southern Illinois, and Negro leaders estimate that the Negro vote in Illinois will run between 150,000 and 200,000.

Klan Changes Negro Vote.

The matter of the klan is set down as one force that is changing the attitude of the Negro vote this year. Also the movement to turn the Republican organization in the south from "black and tan" to "lily white" in states like Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia, and Mississippi, is reported to have stirred up resentment among the Negro voters. Add to that the fact that the Republican county ticket is so scrambled, and that the white bosses who helped deliver the south side colored wards to the city hall machine, have less incentive for operating this time than usual.

The Republicans have figured that the naming of Oscar De Priest, colored leader, as Republican candidate to succeed the late Martin B. Madden in the First congressional district, would serve to keep the Negro vote. But De Priest has been indicted, and so has Dan Jackson, the Thompson committeeman from the Second ward and an appointee of Gov. Small to the state commerce commission, in connection with charges of protection for vice and gambling supposed to have helped finance the wet America First draft dry Coolidge movement of the city hall last spring.

See Turn to Democrats.

This is not setting so well with many of the Negro voters, according to the Democrats, and although De Priest seems to have a cinch on the election, the defection to the Democratic ticket is expected to be large. Democrats report, too, that the swing has been aided by the selection by the Democratic party in St. Louis, of Joseph L. McLemore, said to be a Negro of repute and unblemished record, to run for congress in a district where the vote is predominantly colored. This is said to be having effect across the Mississippi river in East St. Louis and through the coal fields of the southern counties, and it is being used in Chicago as an argument that the northern Democrats are as friendly to the Negro voter as are the Republicans.

FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME.

Andrew Forsythe, 40 years old, 7 North Elizabeth street, was found dead in bed at his home yesterday. Death is believed to have been due to heart disease.

Boal's Fruit Laxative Rolls
Many of us can remember way back when mother gave the children figs and senna leaves to correct little disorders that all have to contend with. When the feverish brow gave the signal, mother often diagnosed the case as "worms" or "bowel trouble." Then came castor oil or a dose of home-made fruit and herb medicine. Boal's Rolls simply offer you the old-fashioned treatment in a new form. They are made by mixing together figs, raisins, herbs, leaves and other correctives, then pressed into rolls. They are delicious and tasty as any candy bar. They always please the taste and correct the trouble.

Puts Rheumatics on Their Feet
Wonderful Effect of Nurito That Actually Enables the Helpless to Go Back to Work.
Rheumatic sufferers are certainly going wild with joy at the discovery of Nurito. For the first time they have found something they can absolutely depend upon to rid them of the pain of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia or neuritis. And to make it more emphatic, if it doesn't drive away the worst pain with two or three doses we will refund your money. A New York specialist was finally induced to put up his famous prescription as a great public benefit. It works like a charm, fast and powerful, but harmless even to children, no opiates or other narcotics. By all means make a trial of this remarkable prescription that gets the helpless out of bed, sends them back to work happy and free.

SMITH ON FOREIGN POLICY.

Although there is no such immediate and exigent problem in our foreign policy as could become a matter of concern to the mass of the American electorate in this campaign, there is or should be a considerable number of our citizens whose interest in the wise conduct of our foreign affairs and the evolution of our foreign policies is clear enough to induce consideration of the fitness of Mr. Hoover and Gov. Smith for the responsibilities of the presidency in this field. Our foreign trade and enterprise and foreign financial commitments have now become obvious factors in our prosperity and they are rapidly increasing in importance. Both agriculture and industry, both capital and labor, are deeply involved in their protection and extension. And we are impressed with the fact that many men who have a substantial stake in this evolution are overlooking its bearing upon a wise decision in this election.

We have briefly expressed the opinion that Mr. Hoover's equipment and preparation for the handling of our foreign affairs is better, so far as their careers provide a basis of choice, than Gov. Smith's, and we suggest that an analysis of what Gov. Smith has said thus far in the campaign supports this opinion. In his acceptance speech he devoted several paragraphs to this subject. They are in the main negative and critical, and they indicate that Gov. Smith has not given enough thought even to the problems upon which he touches to have got beyond the stage of mere objection. But their implications are important.

The first of Gov. Smith's remarks on foreign policy worthy of remark is his assertion that "at the end of President Wilson's administration we enjoyed not only the friendship but the respectful admiration of the people of the world," but that "today we see unmistakable evidences of a widespread distrust of us and unfriendliness to us, particularly among our Latin-American neighbors."

Now, analyzed as to their implications, those are assertions which illuminate Gov. Smith's present theory of American foreign policy and may fairly be taken as a forecast of what he will do if elected. To begin with, as to our losing friendship and confidence in Europe since the end of President Wilson's term, it is because we refused to enter the league of nations and later the league court, because we have let it be known that we expect to be repaid, in part at least and on the easiest terms, the loans made to the belligerents during and after the war; because we have refused to accept at Geneva a scheme of armament reduction which would have put our naval defense at a serious and probably permanent disadvantage compared to that of the other great powers. If any serious inference can be drawn from these remarks of Gov. Smith, it is that he considers all this course of conduct an error and would have had us avoid the loss of European good will by entering into the league and the league court, canceling the war debts, and accepting at Geneva the British plan for naval limitation at our expense.

We think a reasonable regard for the opinion of mankind is fitting, but good opinion in Europe at Gov. Smith's terms is too expensive.

As to good opinion in Latin-America, Gov. Smith's notion that President Wilson conserved it is not in keeping with the notorious facts. If, as he suggests later, it is to be maintained by not intervening in the "purely internal affairs" of other countries, we would remind him that it was in 1915, during the first administration of Wilson, that we resorted to "interference in the purely internal affairs" of Haiti, landed an armed force, took possession of the public administration, and have kept effective control ever since. It was also during the first Wilson administration that we interfered repeatedly in the purely internal affairs of the Mexican people, among other interferences taking its principal seaport by armed force and shooting quite a number of its defenders. At the close of the Wilson régime not only had the opinion of the Mexican not been made friendly but it was in the most unfriendly state it had been since the Mexican war.

Gov. Smith might and would allege that these were not interferences in the "purely internal affairs" of Haiti and Mexico, but involved international relations and fulfilled legitimate international responsibilities. This is true, but it is no more true of our intervention in Haiti and Mexico than of our intervention in Nicaragua, which Gov. Smith protests against and grossly distorts. In fact, the word "purely," which Gov. Smith adopts from the Democrat platform, is a weasel word. Neither Gov. Smith nor any one else can point to any case of American intervention in the purely internal affairs of any country. In every case, including that of Nicaragua, our intervention has had justification in the international consequences obviously flowing from and inextricably involved in internal affairs. Our intervention in Nicaragua in the Coolidge administration was brought about precisely as our intervention in Haiti and Mexico in the Wilson administration was brought about, by internal conditions which injured and imperiled lawful foreign rights and the persons of foreigners, including Americans, lawfully in these countries.

If Gov. Smith's remarks on foreign relations are any forecast of how he would deal with them, if elected, he is by that alone shown unfit to be put in charge of the multiplying interests of the republic in this field. His statement of our Nicaragua intervention, which he describes as intervention "in an election dispute," is either a deliberate or an ignorant perversion of the facts. If it expresses his intention, he will refuse to protect American lives or lawful rights imperiled by political irresponsibility or anarchy. He will make inevitable in such cases the intervention of other countries and not only cancel the Monroe Doctrine, to which he gives lip service in his acceptance speech, but reduce to a minimum our ability to influence the development of responsibility among backward peoples with which we have inevitable relations. His discussion of our foreign policy shows neither consistency, accuracy, nor sound judgment. Its basic fallacy is the notion that regard for the good opinion of other nations and people is and ought to be purchased by a surrender of American rights and an avoidance of American responsibilities. The opposite is true. It cannot be so obtained, and if it could be it would not be worth the price.

GLENN'S CANDIDACY FOR THE SENATE.

Otis F. Glenn, Republican candidate for the United States senate, has made known to his audiences the position he would take on national questions. He is opposed to any unreasonable reliance on the treaty to outlaw war and recognizes that pacifism will use it to attack army and navy appropriations. He is for the safeguarding of national defense, the maintenance of the army and navy, and the development of the air service. He is opposed to the cancellation of debts.

A statement of opinions on these subjects is pertinent to the campaign of a candidate for the senate. Mr. Glenn has a record of consistent and active opposition to the rule which has been scandalizing and injuring the state. He became a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States senate when it was far from certain that the Small, Smith, Thompson organizations could be defeated and he is in character and ability one of the best men made available by their defeat.

His record in state politics has entitled him to support in the election and his statement of his views on the national questions on which as senator he would vote indicates that he is such a man as the state would do well to have in the senate.

THE AWAKENED WEST SIDE.

The announcement that the west park board has voted in favor of an elevated highway extending from Wacker drive to Austin boulevard came on the eve of the opening of the widened Jackson boulevard. It is evident that the west side is awakening to the importance and the cash value of improved facilities for motor transportation.

Jackson boulevard is the first of three street improvements on the west side to be completed. It is to be followed shortly by the opening of widened Washington boulevard and Warren avenue. The west side will never regret the expenditure on these projects, but, valuable as they will be, west siders must realize that much remains to be done if their section of the city is to enjoy equality with the north and the south sides, with their outer drives and broad boulevards. It is now possible to drive from Randolph street to Thirty-ninth street, a distance of five miles, without encountering a traffic light and without being halted once for cross traffic. The distance can be covered in ten minutes. The west side cannot have equivalent service unless elevated roads are built.

That fact is understood by the west park commissioners, as is evidenced by their latest proposal. It is estimated that the elevated roadway will cost $11,000,000. This is not a large sum when viewed in the light of the increase in real estate values which is bound to follow, for the completion of an elevated highway will bring Crawford avenue within ten minutes of the loop. The impetus which such an improvement in communications will give to the development of the west side cannot be exaggerated.

The proposal of the park commissioners must be authorized by the state legislature. Later, probably at the election next April, the bond issue for the construction of the highway must be submitted to the voters of the west side for approval. The referendum will be a test of the intelligent self-interest of the west side.

Editorial of the Day

THOSE AWFUL REPUBLICANS.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Up in St. Paul Thursday night Gov. Smith asserted that the "fundamental weakness" of the last two Republican administrations has been lack of leadership, and that "not one large, constructive achievement can be pointed to in the record of the last seven and a half years."

When the Republicans went into power in Washington at the end of the Wilson administration the nation faced a war debt of enormous size, taxes were frightfully high and were burdening everybody in the country, business was on the defensive, the railroads were all but wrecked by their experience with government control, and largely because of the refusal of President Wilson to accept the compromise on the league of nations offered him by the senate the international prestige of the United States was at low ebb.

In the last seven and one-half years the original post-war debt of over $26,000,000,000 has been reduced almost one-third, and at the same time federal taxes have been cut so materially that they are scarcely felt by the average person. The railroads are in excellent condition and are prosperous. Though agriculture is in need of assistance in some parts of the country, the nation as a whole is in the midst of unprecedented prosperity, with wages high, business good, and prospects bright. And throughout the entire world the United States is looked upon as an international leader and is consulted and deferred to whenever great matters are up for consideration. If this is not constructive achievement, just what does Gov. Smith consider constructive achievement?

As to the governor's remark about "lack of leadership," it will, perhaps, become comprehensible to puzzled readers if they will recollect that in the Tammany Hall school of politics, where Mr. Smith received his political education, the words "leader" and "leadership" have specific meanings. They are largely synonymous with the words "boss" and "bossism." It is quite true that under Mr. Harding and Mr. Coolidge there has been no "leadership" in that special sense. Nor is there a visible indication that the country is hankering for anything of the sort.

ALL LIVERS ARE GOOD.

MISS WOLGAMOT advises people to watch the liver market for bargains. In the treatment of anemia, liver from one animal is just as effective as another. Therefore, when demand puts up the price of one kind, buy another.

In her investigation she ranked the price per unit of different kinds of liver as follows: Pork liver, 3; beef liver, 7; calves' liver, 17; and liver extract, 28. This was in Cleveland in a certain period. The relative prices elsewhere may be different.

To determine the palatability of liver from different animals, she cooked several kinds in exactly the same way, and had a group of blindfolded people express their preferences. This convinced her that there was no marked differences in the palate appeal of liver from different animals. The about-equal efficacy of liver from different animals has been proved by research work done by Whipple and others. Miss Wolgamot offers the following.

Pork liver puree, especially for children: Boil the liver 10 to 20 minutes or until tender. Grind twice in a food chopper. Place the ground liver in the water used in boiling and boil down to a thick puree. Rub through a sieve.

Start by giving a small portion. It can be poured on rice, cereals, mashed potatoes or other strained vegetables; lemon, orange or tomato juice; stewed apricots or tomatoes; or soup, or custard can be mixed with it.

To older children the puree can be given in sandwiches or with fruit juices or stewed apricots; in omelets, soups, tomato and other gelatins; with creamed eggs, rice or macaroni, or with tomatoes creamed over toast; or with baked potato, or in various salad dressings.

Recipe for chocolate liver pudding: Hot milk, 240 parts; granulated sugar, 35 parts; cornstarch, 13 parts; cocoa, 9.5 parts; liver puree, 30 parts. Pinch of salt.

Butterscotch liver pudding: Karo, 170 parts; milk, 300 parts; cornstarch, 31 parts; butter, 3.5 parts; liver puree, 30 parts. Pinch of salt.

Epstein pudding: Water, 200 parts; zwieback flour, 40 parts; granulated sugar, 40 parts; butter, 10-20 parts; beaten white of one egg; a little salt and soda. Cook in water bath for three-quarters of an hour.

HEIGHT OF CHILDREN.

A Subscriber writes: Is it true that a child, at two years of age, has attained half its adult height?

If so, my little boy, now 2, will be a little over 5 feet when 21.

REPLY:

Here are some average lengths of boys at different ages:

Birth, 20 inches; 12 months, 29 inches; 2 years, 32 inches; 5 years, 41 inches; 10 years, 52 inches; 15 years, 61 inches; 20 years, 68 inches.

Children, as well as adults, vary considerably in length. Much depends on racial and personal inheritance.

A child 2 years old and 30 inches long is short in length and may develop into a short man.

BUTTERMILK'S FOOD VALUE.

R. E. L. writes: 1. I am told that buttermilk is very good for intestines. I am constipated and ordinary milk makes my condition worse.

2. Has it any food value?

REPLY.

1. Buttermilk is easily digested. It is somewhat laxative. Rather sour buttermilk is better than the fresher article.

2. It has all the food values of whole milk except those due to the greater fat content of the latter.

GRAPES FOR CONSTIPATION.

Miss J. I. F. writes: May I recommend, for part time relief at least, the eating of Concord grapes in great abundance, five or six times a day, for constipation? The skins should be eaten also.

IMMEDIATE REMARRIAGE.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In the state of Missouri, how long must one wait after a divorce, secured in Illinois, before one can remarry?

I. M. D.

Immediate remarriage would be permitted in either state.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SMOGES AND SMUDGES.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—[Friend of the People.]—What action can be taken in regard to people burning rubbish continually on a lot and making of it a terrible nuisance?

Being subject to nasal troubles, I cannot leave a window open due to the dirt and stench.

The lot is on East 71st street. Also, the weeds are six feet high here.

L. R.

Report is made that lot referred to has been a source of numerous complaints. Last spring, pursuant to notice to do so, it was cleaned by owner and "no dumping" signs erected, which are still there and which are being observed. Storekeeper who was burning rubbish on lot has been notified to discontinue this practice and states he will do so. The city does not cut weeds on vacant property.

ONE RING FOR ALL.

Hinsdale, Ill., Sept. 29.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—When a widow is getting married the second time will her first wedding ring do, or does her husband have to get her another?

E. B.

The ring is of no legal importance. If the woman is satisfied to use an old ring we see no reason why any other person should object.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOT CLEAR TO US.

Chicago, Sept. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A owns a warranty deed to flat building. 1. Can he use a friend to sell and sign name to contract? 2. If A collects the monthly payments is he still within the law, although his name is not on contract of his building sold? 3. If buyer gets behind on payment can he foreclose?

C. H. H.

1. We do not understand the facts.
2. We see no legal objection.
3. If the buyer has merely a contract, then the seller could forfeit it for default without allowing the fifteen month redemption period which is allowed in case of foreclosure of a mortgage.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IF I HAD TIME.

If I had time I would write a rhyme
Of the things I have meant to do,
Of the places I've planned to journey to,
Of the sun-tipped heights I've intended to climb,
If I had time.

If I had time I would write a rhyme
Of the love I've meant to bestow,
Of the gratitude I've meant to show,
Of ideals rare and of dreams sublime,
If I had time.

If I had time, oh, if I had time!—
But day after day slips idly away,
And the best of the things I would do and say
Must lie undone, unuttered in rhyme,
Till I have time.

EOLUS.

TOP O' THE MORNIN' to you, Mr. O'Brien! And how are you getting along, Mr. O'Brien, with the big job of distributing five thousand tickets to five hundred thousand people and making everybody satisfied? Ah, 'tis the big job you have, Mr. O'Brien. But you'll do it if anybody can. When we heard that Martin O'Brien was to have charge of the tickets for Al's speech here in Chicago we said, "That's the very boy, Mr. O'Brien, he's the very one." Yessir, indeed, we did. 'Tis a fine day, Mr. O'Brien. Have a cigar, Mr. O'Brien. And the same to you and many of them, Mr. O'Brien.

The Microphone Doth Make Cowards of Us All.

R. H. L.: You have been in wars, Grant has spoken to you, you were not frightened during the Russo-Japanese war, you have traveled Ireland. So why do you fear to be alone in a room with the "mike" on your Air Line nite? J. F. W. B.

THE WORD "incommunicado" seems now to be in daily use in the newspapers. It is used to describe how the prisoners arrested by dry agents are held in jail. Although the constitution of these United States declares very solemnly that the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended except in case of rebellion or invasion, we read in the case of the men arrested by dry agents Thursday in Champaign, "Orders were left with the sheriff to hold the prisoners without allowing them to give bond and to allow no one from the outside to communicate with them.

Now, this is usually the case with persons arrested by government dry agents. There is no word in our language to cover such a case, because under the constitution such a thing cannot happen. But the Spanish in the days of their rankest cruelty did just what the dry agents in Champaign and innumerable other places are doing—they held the Cubans prisoners without allowing them to give bond or communicate with any one from the outside. The Spanish had a word to cover the case, "incomunicado," which is now a great help to the dry agents.

But you ask, how can a man be held in jail without the privilege of being taken before a judge and examined under a writ of habeas corpus as the constitution especially provides? Has Spanish martial law taken the place of the constitution of the United States? To which we answer and in Spanish—you'd better begin to study that language—Sí, señor! Sí, sí!

They May Dry Up.

Dick: The Nat. Prohib. Director says the men are handsomer under the dry law because now they spend on cosmetics. Oh, the little devils buying lipsticks and perfumery. If you ask me I think they look ornerier than ever.

THE UNPREFERRED BRUNETTE.

WHISKERS are coming back. Yessir, they are. The gals with their bobs, sunburn makeups, sport clothes, and swaggering walk are compelling the male biped to fall back on his last line of defense—whiskers. We will welcome the return of whiskers. The only gals that ever had 'em were the Bearded Ladies in the circus. We met a Bearded Lady once. She traveled with Barnum's circus. She was the Bearded Lady while the side show was going on, but when she was off duty she chewed tobacco, smoked a pipe, and wore men's clothes. Also her name was Jimmy and she was the husband of the Fat Woman. Nope! When it comes to whiskers—well, it takes a man to raise whiskers.

RIDIN' HERD ON A BUNCH O' DUDES.

RHL: Pa sez dudes is lots harder ta run than a cow outfit because ya gotta brush em off of an evening. Since tha drought come pa quit skinnin tha dead ones and took up with dudes. We get sixty dollars a week from tha dudes. Pa never had a pair of chaps and high heeled boots in his life till tha dudes come. Everybody sez, How many acres on this ranch and pa sez, Oh about a hundred thousand acres I guess. If we had a hundred thousand acres it would take in all our neighbors and tha post office and Juan Escalantes filling station. I heard pa tell em that one time he roped and tied two big steers when he was riding a hackamore colt. What he means is tha two steers were last seen on tha river and Leandro Calores caught his horse in tha morning but tha saddle was gone. Pa sez he dont ride broncs no more because he's all stove up. I guess he means he run our flivver into a mesquite tree and hurt his ankle. Ma's got tha house all fixed up with red chili and ollas and she sez she is Spanish. Ma come from Albany New York. I never wore Levi Strauss overalls in my life till tha dudes come. Pa got me chaps and a horse too. I hate em because I know they aint much romance jus trottin fer tha mail every day. I wish pa and ma would move back to Albany.

ORACLE.

UNEXPLORED.

My head has a world inside it
That must be explored some day;
I had a few thoughts that tried it,
But all of them lost their way.

ELLEN BORDEN.

WHAT IN THE WORLD has become of Mabel Spill-the-Beans Willebrandt? Goodness, we miss that girl! She was all over the place a week ago and now she has faded right out of the picture. If anybody sees Mabel, will they tell her to come back and do her stuff? Ah, she is lots funnier than Eddie Cantor, Al Jolson, or Fannie Brice, or any of 'em. Oh, Mabel, please come home and give us another hearty laugh.

AREN'T WE ALL!

[From the Pike County (Ark.) Tribune via Edark.]

A CORRECTION.

We wish to call attention of our readers to an error that appeared in the September term court docket as published in the Tribune two weeks ago. We reported "State of Arkansas vs. Will Smalling," selling liquor; when it should have read "State of Arkansas vs. Will Smalling," for making liquor. We are very sorry that the error occurred as Mr. Smalling is regarded by all who know him as among one of the best law-abiding citizens in the Kirby community, and is always on the right side of all moral issues.

AL AND MR. HOOVER have just got to do something right quick before the straw vote contest shows Babe Ruth sweeping all the states on the eastern seaboard and doing well in all the midwestern states with the single exception of Missouri.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY.

OCTOBER 5, 1863.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Byard and Wolford are still skirmishing with the enemy below London. The rebels are reported strongly reinforced in the east. Carter has fallen back to Bull's Gap. Arrangements are in progress for a decisive fight and windup of the whole guerrilla business.

NASHVILLE.—McMinnville was attacked at noon. The result is unknown, as fighting was progressing when the telegraph communication was interrupted. Rebel cavalry is reported crossing the Tennessee at Washington.

WASHINGTON.—Official dispatches from Chattanooga represent the situation there still favorable to Gen. Rosecrans. Bragg makes no advance. The statement of rebel papers that Burnside has retreated from Jonesboro to Knoxville is noticed.

WASHINGTON.—The new fractional currency will be ready for issue within the next fortnight. When all the presses are going they will produce $150,000 a day. The general design for the currency is the same for all denominations consisting of a medallion of Washington, with landscape behind, steamers, railroads, etc. The 5 cent notes are wood color, the 10s in green, the 25s in purple, and the 50s in bright carmine.

WASHINGTON.—President Lincoln issued a proclamation setting apart the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 5, 1898.

NEWPORT NEWS.—Amid the din of a hundred steam whistles and with applauding shouts from 40,000 people, the battleship Illinois slid gracefully down the ways into the historic waters where the Monitor pounded the Merrimac into subjection. Gov. Tanner, Mayor Harrison, and many other Illinois notables attended the launching ceremonies. Miss Nannie Leiter broke the bottle of wine on the big prow.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y.—Theodore Roosevelt, in a speech from the porch of his home, accepted the Republican nomination for governor.

NEW YORK.—Justice Van Wyck was formally notified of his nomination by the Democrats for governor.

ST. LOUIS.—The Globe-Democrat prints the following dispatch from Berlin: "Within the last 48 hours relations between the United States and this country have assumed so threatening an aspect that the emperor, cutting short his hunting party, has hastened with all possible speed back to this city. The trouble is in connection with the Philippines, the German government being resolved at all costs to oppose the retention or possession of this group by the United States."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 5, 1918.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN.—The Americans resumed the attack this morning west of the Meuse and advanced their lines from three to five kilometers. They captured Hill 240, north of Exermont, and the villages of Gesnes, Fleville, Chehery, and La Forges. In the face of heavy artillery and machine gun fire, Illinois, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia troops have forced the enemy back to the Kriemhilde position.

WASHINGTON. — The American troops who drove the Germans back to the Kriemhilde position evidently composed the 80th and 86th national army divisions. The latter, called the Blackhawks, trained at Camp Grant, and has been in France only a few weeks. This is probably the first combat in which it has been engaged.

LONDON.—Field Marshal Haig announced that his forces are within six miles of the city of Lille and that the German armies from the sea to St. Quentin, a distance of more than 75 miles, either were in retreat or fighting hopelessly against the allied advance.

AMSTERDAM. — Austria-Hungary has asked Holland to invite the belligerents to take part in peace negotiations, says the Vienna correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt. The Cologne Gazette says that a delegation of Hungarian statesmen arrived in Vienna in connection with a new peace move.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

HE HEARD MRS. WILLEBRANDT.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—E. L. H., writing under the heading, "Mrs. Willebrandt," in today's TRIBUNE, is correct in his views regarding her address to the Ohio conference of Methodist churches. Mrs. Willebrandt exhorted the ministers and laymen present to defeat Gov. Smith because of his prohibition views alone. I was there and heard the address from the second row. Religion was not mentioned.

Why is it that a wet Catholic Republican can change his politics and become a Smith backer because of his views on prohibition and nothing is said about religion or bigotry (witness Raskob), while if a dry Protestant Democrat changes his politics and becomes an opponent of Smith because of his views on prohibition, he is immediately set down as being narrow-minded, bigoted, and un-American?

SAMUEL FROOMB.

HOOVER'S SMILE.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Please print in THE TRIBUNE a lot of pictures (large ones) of Hoover smiling. This morning I was both amused and disgusted to hear two intelligent looking women say they didn't know much about either candidate for election, but Smith was always smiling, while Hoover looked so sober that they concluded Al Smith had a wonderful personality and would therefore be the better man for the place. If there are many more such nit-wits on our list of voters, why not make it hard for them to choose by showing Hoover's smile? We all, who have seen him, know he has one.

MARY RUTH WHALEY.

THE ROSE GARDEN.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—I should like to express my appreciation of the rose garden in Jackson park. Although, of course, at this time of year there are few roses, yet there has been such a wealth of other blooms that the present showing is, and especially that of a week or ten days back has been, simply gorgeous.

J. D. H.

AN ADMIRER.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Permit me to congratulate THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on its excellent reporting of the current presidential campaign. The fairness of your attitude toward Alfred and the Democrats should be an inspiration to other publications.

GENEVIEVE BARRY BURNHAM.

HIS HAT'S OFF.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—I take my hat off to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. It takes honesty and courage for a Republican newspaper supporting the Republican candidate to print today's editorial, "Smith on Volsteadism."

J. C. COVENY.

A HEALTH IN WATER.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—In connection with your news item this morning telling that the Canadian premier will not allow the king's health to be drunk in anything but water, I was wondering if this item was reported in practically every newspaper in the British isles some years ago? A pledged abstainer from the age of 5, I had always drunk toasts in water. One evening at a banquet, an officer in uniform sitting next to me tipped over my water filled glass and told me that it was an insult to the prince of Wales [afterwards King Edward VII.]. Next day I wrote to the prince and after telling what had happened asked him if he would consider it an insult for me to drink his health in water. Back came a delightful letter assuring me that he would consider himself more highly honored by my drinking his health in water than if I did so in wine.

OLIVER MCEWAN.

MOORED ON THE RIVER.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—One of your contributors in this morning's issue asks where the boat moored at Wells street bridge. I, too, would like to know. Last spring I bought a 65 foot power boat and have had to dock her [illegible] at a cost of some hundreds of dollars under the [illegible] I am a menace to navigation. My boat is lying along Park boulevard, [illegible] bridge. Navigation is principally outboard motors.

W. S. GRIEVE.

AGAINST STREET WIDENING.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Let's not vote any more bond issues for widening streets, boulevards or new roads until some thought is given pedestrians. Every time a street is made wider it's more dangerous to cross; more deadly weapons to dodge, more reckless drivers who are always in a great hurry to go nowhere but in a hurry just the same.

SAM SAYLOR.

UNGUARDED CROSSINGS.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—I was horrified when reading your account of the deaths of Margaret and Helen Bollweg, whose auto was struck by a Chicago, Aurora and Elgin train. I was told that there are no unguarded railway crossings in the whole of the British isles; and yet there are in the rich and powerful U. S. A.!

ENGLISH WOMAN.

FINAL NOTICE.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Special assessment warrant 52736 is a special tax for widening Peterson avenue. I just received a final notice to pay, it being the first notice I received. I know of several others that did not receive anything but a final notice. Is this a new method?

YOU ARE INVITED TO THE AUTUMN EXPOSITION

OCTOBER 1-6

Today, verging on the week-end, we extend a particular invitation to young moderns to attend the Exposition. And so we have chosen a trend that young people themselves have inspired in modern dressmaking . . . youthfulness! There is endless evidence of this youthfulness in each and every one of our apparel sections, for in an age of energy and speed youthfulness invades every branch of the mode. Sports frocks with their one, two, three pieces are endowed with a freedom which has become classic . . . daytime frocks have evolved numerous devices for plaiting, yet maintain the slim silhouette . . . and evening gowns, though delightfully feminine, are made to move with exquisite grace.

"Domino" is Lelong's striking and youthful interpretation of the black-and-white mode . . . an ensemble of mottled velvet. In the dress which appears above, a white velvet tunic flares over a flare skirt of black velvet. From the Misses' Ensembles.

"Solitaire," a youthful velvet evening gown, follows very new lines to smartness. The up-in-front feeling accentuated by the beading at the waist rises only to fall again into a train formed by a center panel in back. From the Misses' Dresses.

The coat-half of Lelong's "Domino" is pictured third. Completely covering the dress, it follows the exact lines of the flare by means of circular incrustations (an important new note). Cuffs and collar are of ermine. From the Misses' Ensembles.

These Models by Lelong Are Assembled in Fashion Bureau, Sixth Floor, Middle, State

Lelong, an exponent of Modern Youthfulness, writes:

"It is not an accident that the present silhouette is entirely in harmony with the modern interior setting. Speaking artistically, we are imitating nothing in art. We are preoccupied in building an original art that is entirely expressive of our own day and of no other.

"If dress design happened to be in an imitative or decadent phase while interior decoration was striking out boldly upon original lines, then in all likelihood we should be producing silhouettes out of harmony with the modern interior. But dress design is as eagerly reflecting the modern mood as any of the other arts. Therefore, since the new interior decoration and the new dress design are both arising from the same artistic and social impulses, it follows that they must be in harmony with each other.

"I expect to see dress design persist in the new spirit. Outlines and silhouettes may change, but the essential insistence upon fine design at the expense of floridity and superficial complexity I expect to see endure as long as the moderne interior endures.

"The art of dress design is as responsive to this mood as any other art. Thus it is not following other arts, it is keeping abreast of them. The same forces that are producing advanced painting, sculpture, poetry, and interior decoration, are also producing the present silhouette and the seasonal changes in fashion.

"As might be expected, dress today has many qualities in common with the work of other modern art forms—notably its undistracted unity of design, and the purposely concealed technique which apparently achieves these qualities without effort. The modern gown, in short, as an artistic conception is as advanced as any painting you can see in the most liberal of modern art galleries."

ARMY SHOWS OFF NEW AND SPEEDY BATTLE MOTORS

Annual Ordnance Exhibit Holds Rapt Attention.

chanical Engineers praised the army for its progress in developing the new tank and improved artillery weapons, but warned that "this country must remain unprepared on land until the obsolete weapons with which the army is now equipped are replaced at least in part with new weapons."

"The army has developed wonderful new weapons but this work will be wasted unless the development of new weapons is followed by their introduction into the army," Mr. Walsh said.

"The trend today is toward a greater and greater use of machine guns and semi-automatic rifles in an effort to achieve a greater volume of fire power, but this development will not help us unless the army has the weapons to use."

Gen. Williams, in summing up the progress made in developing new weapons, asserted that the ordnance department can now supply the army with artillery "second to none in effectiveness" in case of emergency.

Recent Gun Developments.

In listing the accomplishments of the army during the last ten years Gen. Williams pointed out that a new 75 millimeter gun has been standardized which has a range double that of the old French "75" of world war fame. Other improved weapons mentioned were the 37 millimeter infantry gun, 75 millimeter infantry mortar, 105 millimeter gun and howitzer, a 155 millimeter howitzer and a 155 millimeter rifle and several new types of semi-automatic rifles.

Gen. Williams revealed that the war department will hold a competition this summer to determine the type of semi-automatic rifle which the army will adopt. At least two .276 caliber rifles will be in the competition.

HOOVER STARTS FOR TENNESSEE THIS AFTERNOON

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee for President, late tomorrow will depart for Elizabethton, Tenn., where he will speak Saturday afternoon. Johnson City chamber of commerce.

Following his Elizabethton address, the Republican nominee will speak at the National Soldiers' home. Later he will be entertained at dinner by the Johnson City chamber of commerce.

CARPENTERS LINK FIVE UNION LEADERS WITH MOSCOW, EXPEL THEM

Lakeland, Fla., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Branded as communists, five members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America were expelled from the organization today by delegates at the annual convention here.

The deposed men were former members of Local 376, New York, the charter of which was revoked for alleged irregularities. They are Morris Rosen, Nathan Rosen, his brother; Thomas Schneider, Robert Golden, and Joseph Lapidas.

The vote for expulsion was unanimous in each instance.

Morris Rosen charged the charter of Local 376 had been revoked under guise of irregularities and that the local had been persecuted.

Secretary Frank Duffy set forth that Rosen had been a candidate for general president four years ago. Duffy linked Rosen with the Trade Union Education league and the Workers' communist party, which, he said, are controlled in America through instruction from Moscow.

"We are not the only union that has had these fellows to deal with," Duffy said. "We have them in the American Federation of Labor. They have them in the United Mine Workers of America. They have them to deal with in the Fur workers, in the Lady Garment workers, and in the Machinists, and now they are breakinto the Carpenters'."

Rosen and the four others expelled were given a safe conduct by the delegates until they left Lakeland.

TOOMBS' ADVISER SOUGHT HERE ON LARCENY CHARGE

Dr. E. F. Morgenstiern, intimate business associate and financial adviser of Roy C. Toombs, head of the International Life Insurance company, was sought in Chicago last night on a warrant issued in St. Louis charging larceny in connection with the operations of the insurance company.

Announcement that the warrant had been issued came in the midst of testimony given by Toombs before Referee in Bankruptcy Garfield Charles. Toombs was recalled to the witness stand by Louis Cohen, counsel for the receiver of the Toombs & Daily brokerage concern, after O. R. Daily, treasurer, had admitted preparing false financial statements exaggerating the assets of the company by millions of dollars.

Mr. Toombs finally admitted that he "suspected" as far back as June, 1927, that his brokerage house was insolvent. This suspicion was strengthened in August, 1927, when he requested but did not receive of Daily certain securities of the company.

Toombs told of the purchase by the brokerage company of 2,000 shares of International stock, for which $2,000,000 was paid in cash and $1,000,000 in notes was given.

N. Y. TELEGRAPH IS PURCHASED BY JOSEPH A. MOORE

New York, Oct. 4.—[U. P.]—The Morning Telegraph, a New York morning newspaper, tonight carried a statement of change of ownership. The paper in the future will be devoted to a specialization in sports, the announcement said.

It was signed by Joseph A. Moore, new owner of the paper, which in the past has been devoted largely to the sporting and theatrical world. It read:

"As of this date, ownership of the Morning Telegraph passes into new hands.

"Together with a small group of men who believe that there is a real need for a newspaper specializing in the most thorough and complete presentation of news pertaining to sports of all kinds, I have purchased this newspaper. JOSEPH A. MOORE."

WILBUR SCENTS TARIFF DISTRESS IN SMITH'S PLAN

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur declared in an address here tonight that the competitive tariff plank of the Democratic platform "means distress and disaster to the American laborer and farmer."

Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, on the other hand, the secretary said, firmly believes in a tariff that will result in development of domestic industries and resources.

POLICE PROMISE NEW HUNT FOR ABSENT SALTIS

Despite his reported yearning for Chicago, now that the cool nights are close at hand, Joe Saltis, beer baron, sought for 137 days by Chicago police, is still supposedly in his hidden retreat in Wisconsin or Michigan, Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege declared yesterday.

137

A new hunt for Saltis, wanted to serve a 60 day Bridewell sentence and to pay a $50 fine for gun toting, will be undertaken without delay, Commissioner Stege said. The long drawn out search received new impetus ten days ago when Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson forfeited Saltis' bonds in connection with a liquor indictment and issued a capias for his immediate arrest. But thus far, federal deputy marshals admit, they have had no more luck in their search than the police.

Finds Fountain of Youth in Cigars and Massages

"Smoke twenty-five cigars a day and keep your pores clean, and you'll be hale and hearty at seventy-eight." That was the advice given yesterday to delegates to the National Beauty and Barber Supply Dealers' association convention at the Stevens hotel by Dr. Edward James Cattell, 78 years old, of Philadelphia. Dr. Cattell says that twenty-five cigars and a daily massage are major parts of his daily routine.

CALLS RACKET THREAT TO CITY'S BUSINESS LIFE

Hostetter Lists 40 Bomb Outrages Since April.

Business by bombs, extortion and violence—or business by orderly and decent competition with equal opportunity for all.

That is the choice offered in Chicago, according to Gordon L. Hostetter, executive secretary of the Employers' association, who yesterday issued a list showing that since April 1 there have been more than forty racket bombings in the city.

Mr. Hostetter said that Chicago is facing its first winter of organized racketeering. He declared that it did not require the explosion of the forty bombs to prove that the racket is now the most insidious and dangerous form of crime in the city.

Three Elements Form Combine.

"The racket as it now operates against Chicago business is made up of three elements," he said. "These consist of the unscrupulous union leader, the trickster business man and the crooked politician.

"They are a strong alliance—with politics protecting the crime. Remove any one of the three and the racket structure would collapse. At least one of these three will have to be removed soon, or Chicago business is in for some new and violent experiences in the way of racketeering."

Mr. Hostetter pointed out that it is now apparent that the labor union movement, as well as the employer, is now dominated in many lines by the racketeer.

Hostetter Defines Racket.

He defined the racket as:

1. It camouflages itself as the protector of the weak, although it actually exploits and terrorizes them.

2. It pretends to stabilize business, while actually throttling and victimizing it.

3. It destroys personal freedom and initiative by despotic regulations viciously enforced.

4. It is a constant threat to life and security through its hoodlum personnel and hoodlum violence.

5. It substitutes profits for the few in place of equality of opportunity for all.

6. It corrupts law enforcement officials and converts the defense forces of decent society into protective forces for crime.

7. It is destroying the commercial as well as the civic reputation of the city.

Lists Alleged Racketeers.

"My list shows only various associations or groups of small business people which are classed in the ultra-racketeering class," said Mr. Hostetter.

"These include the Midwest Garage Owners' association, the Master Jewish Butchers' association, the Chicago Candy Jobbers' association, excavating contractors, Fish Dealers' association, Tire Workers' union, Soda Dispensers and Table Girls' brotherhood, the Apartment House and Hotel association, the Floor Covering association, the Garage Employés' union, the Master Photo Finishers of America, the electric sign manufacturers, the Jewish Chicken Killers' union, the junk dealers and peddlers, and the Cinder and Scavenger association."

Bombings Also Listed.

Since April the following bombings have occurred, declared Mr. Hostetter:

3616 S. Kedzie, restaurant.
8316 S. Racine, vacant store.
6401 S. Ashland, florist shop.
1549 Indiana, "soft" drinks.

4802 S. Crawford, candy store.
822 W. 22d, garage.
Chicago Heights, newspaper.
3446 Broadway, garage.
220 N. Clark, restaurant.
6400 W. 22d, theater.
5219 Harper, hand laundry.
1473 Summerdale, police captain.
7401 Clyde, private garage.
Glen Ellyn, residence.
145 W. 26th, restaurant.
1701 Albion, apartment house.
1510 Taylor, ice cream plant.
6825 St. Lawrence, residence.
1648 W. 51st, "soft" drinks.
3553 W. North, delicatessen.

"These are the facts of the situation now facing Chicago," said Mr. Hostetter.

U. S. BALKS AT LEAGUE'S OPIUM TRAFFIC INQUIRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Formal notice that the United States will not participate in the selection of a permanent central board to investigate ways and means of controlling the traffic in narcotic drugs has been transmitted to the secretary general of the league of nations at Berne, Switzerland, it was announced at the state department today.

The notice, however, pledges the American government to coöperate with the other powers in any sincere effort to limit the production of opium and cocoa leaves to medicinal and scientific needs.

Here's American Program.

The proposed board was created under the Geneva opium convention which was entered into by the other powers on Feb. 19, 1925, after the United States had withdrawn when its program for the suppression of the production of habit forming drugs was rejected.

The American program, submitted to the conference by Representative Porter [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, provided for suppression of the production within 15 years after the treaty was signed.

This program was opposed by Great Britain, France, and the Netherlands, who, while favoring the principle of the scheme, insist that the progressive limitation should not be undertaken until the production of opium in China had been suppressed. Great Britain virtually controls the world production of opium and cocoa leaves while France and the Netherlands lead the world in production of derivatives.

Note to League.

In the note to the league of nations secretary general, which was made public today, Secretary Kellogg expressed doubt that the Geneva convention is an improvement over The Hague convention of 1912, to which the United States is a party, and adds that in any event it is so unsatisfactory in certain important respects as to make it impossible for the United States to participate.

TRADE UNIONISTS DEDICATE NEW CHICAGO HOME

Officials of the Chicago Trade Union Label league last night celebrated the dedication of the league's new home and headquarters at 630 South Ashland avenue. Miss Agnes Nestor, president of the league, was in charge of the dedication festivities.

The new home of the league is the remodeled residence of John McLaren, which has been changed to provide for an auditorium, library, tearoom, and lounge and a classroom for the use of the Chicago Trade Union college, which will open its fall course next Monday.

The classroom is a memorial to the Misses Anna and Grace Nicholas, former heads of the Neighborhood house at 67th and May streets.

BANKERS URGE LIMITATION OF STOCK LOANS

Favor National Policy for Farmers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The American Bankers' association today by resolution urged limitation of "bootleg loans" in the call money market. But the meeting did not offer a solution of the problem, other than to suggest that individual bankers and the federal reserve give the matter some thought.

The resolution pointed out that limitation of loans for speculation might be based upon the maintenance of normal balances, which should not be disturbed by those who take part in such stock exchange loans.

Traces Easy Money Course.

After tracing the course of easy money since 1921, the great capital that has accumulated and the liquidation by corporations of indebtedness by easy sale of their securities, the resolutions said:

"Many corporations have been supplied with funds for which they have no use during the major part of their fiscal years and which they have utilized by making loans against stocks and bonds. At this same time, we continued to make loans to Europe, which, followed by exports of gold, resulted in a net loss of $500,000,000 in gold, which lessened to that extent our surplus reserves.

"Never before in our history has the public taken the same interest in stock investments or speculation as it has during the last six months and this, coupled with favorable business developments, has caused market values to advance to unprecedented levels, thus increasing the demand for stock exchange loans.

"We respectfully suggest that bank depositors who have funds for investment, coöperate with their bankers to the end that nothing unsound shall develop that might result in the disturbance of healthy business conditions.

"We suggest to the federal reserve board that it again permit a weekly adjustment of reserves and penalize only those banks which abuse the privilege. We also suggest that the percentage of reserve be based upon the bank's condition at the beginning of the day."

Ask National Farm Policy.

The bankers also went on record as against a capital gains tax, declared by them to be "uneconomical and unsound in principle and practice," and against "discrimination by states in bank taxation and against the rendering of service by banks without proper compensation."

The agricultural situation was declared to be in a phase of readjustment and the resolutions suggested the adoption of a comprehensive national agricultural policy. It was declared that the remedy for agricultural depression lies in the adoption of methods that will lower the unit costs of production.

The national bank division adopted resolutions favoring the formation of an international banking association.

Points to Reclamation Loss.

Harry L. Russell, dean of the college of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, who addressed the bankers, declared there can be no universal remedy for the relief of farm problems.

He declared the farmer's success lies in improving his labor income rather than waiting for an advance in the value of his land.

Dr. Russell pointed out that there is a surplus of land and cited figures showing there are 7,000,000 acres of irrigated land without farmers to plow it.

"Congress might refrain from further extension of reclamation projects until at least population needs in those sections economically warrant development," he declared.

He said taxes do not rise and fall with income from land or the assessed value of property, which he believed should be the system employed as one way to aid the farmer.

He believes the basic difficulty with agriculture is lack of adjustment between what is produced and what is consumed.

Craig B. Hazlewood, vice president of the Union Trust company of Chicago, who was installed as president of the association, in his acceptance speech, referred to the important accomplishments of the association in the past and outlined his program for the coming year.

"I propose," said Mr. Hazlewood, "that we emphasize the study of all phases of bank technique. I see great possibilities and need for research and leadership in matters of bank management. If there is any lesson to be learned from surveys of the banking business which have been made in this country, it is the imperative necessity for better management."

RITUAL MURDER QUIZ ENDS; AL TO GET REPORT

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, made public tonight a letter from Mayor W. Gilbert Hawes of Massena, N. Y., in which the latter expresses his regrets in connection with the summoning of a rabbi to the Massena police station on the Jewish Day of Atonement, to account for the disappearance of a child in connection with a report of a Jewish "ritual murder." The child later was found, having wandered into the woods.

Dr. Wise who, with other representatives of the American Jewish Congress, attended a hearing on the case at Albany ordered by Gov. Smith, also made public an apology by Corporal H. M. McCann of the state troopers, who questioned the Massena rabbi.

The hearing in Albany was held in private before Maj. John A. Warner, superintendent of state police.

For three hours behind closed doors, Rabbi Wise, Rabbi Brennglass of Massena, N. Y.; Lieut. Edward F. Heim of Troop B, Trooper H. H. McCann, and Mayor Hawes of Massena were in conference. Maj. Warner declined to discuss the affair other than to say he would report to the governor at once. It is understood State Trooper McCann has been suspended pending a final decision.

SMITH ANSWERS WADSWORTH ON DRY LAW REPEAL

Asserts States Have Say on That.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Prohibition was Al Smith's theme today. His text was former United States Senator Wadsworth's declaration in New York City last night that if the Democratic nominee for president were "really consistent" he would "come out for actual repeal of the eighteenth amendment."

The reason, the former senator from New York added, "is that as President, Smith's hands would be tied on modification of the amendment because the South will vote for drys and send dry Democrats to Congress. Hence he would be beaten before he started."

Gives his Answer.

"That," said Al Smith, "ain't a very sensible thing to say. Jim knows better than that. I am a Jeffersonian Democrat. I am for state rights. If a state wants to be dry, I want to let it be dry. That is the answer.

"Jim came out for repeal of the amendment only when he wanted to be re-elected. He never introduced any resolutions in the senate when he was there, and he only became violantly interested in the repeal of the eighteenth amendment when he wanted to be re-elected.

"But it did not do him any good, because the people of this state caught on to that, and that's the reason he was defeated—one of the reasons."

Asked for comment on the support which certain New York newspapers are giving his nominee for the governorship of New York, Franklin D. Roosevelt, despite the fact that they are also supporting Hoover, Smith said:

"Very gratifying! These newspapers have supported all along my constructive policies and I suppose they want to see 'em continued."

Yesterday's efforts by state Republican leaders to answer his Rochester speech of Monday, in which Smith charged the Republicans with balking progressive legislation, made the governor happy today.

G. O. P. on "Defensive."

"It's music to my ears," he said, "because it was defensive. They're on the defensive!" They know what they have done and they know the people don't like the looks of it. They know that if they'd sat up all night—as they sometimes did—to bedevil the state of New York, they couldn't have made a better job of it."

One of Al's campaign presents today was a dollar bill from Robert A. Mills of Riverside, Cal., who is one hundred years old, and who cast his first vote in 1852 for Franklin Pierce.

No Service on Druggan in 4 Years; Judgment Entered

For four years, the sheriff of Cook county and his deputies were unable to serve a summons upon Terry Druggan, beer gangster, according to court records in a case disposed of yesterday. A judgment of $4,633.94 was entered by default against Druggan yesterday before Circuit Judge Craig A. Hood. The judgment is in favor of the Western Motor company, 2501 South Michigan avenue. The plaintiff charged that in 1924 Druggan borrowed an automobile for a test run and never returned it.

HOOVER'S LEAD OVER SMITH SHOWS GAIN IN LATEST "DIGEST" POLL

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover continues his lead in the third installment of the Literary Digest presidential poll. Of the 752,810 straw ballots tabulated to date Hoover is credited with 514,397, or 68 per cent of the total, and Gov. Albert E. Smith with 231,061, or slightly less than 31 per cent. Last week's returns showed the two candidates with an even 67 per cent and 31 per cent, respectively.

Of the New York state returns recorded 83,472 are for Hoover and 33,245 for Smith, but the Digest explains that no returns from New York City are included.

One southern state, Arkansas, is included in the returns. This state gives Smith a slight lead over Hoover, the vote being Hoover, 1,800; Smith, 1,955.

Boy of 12 Kills Himself Rather than Go to School

Brownstown, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—David Charles, aged 12, killed himself by taking poison today. He told his parents that he would "rather die than go to school." School authorities and the boy's parents had disciplined him for playing "hookey."

EMMERSON SAYS HE IS NOT UNFAIR TO UNION LABOR

Defends Record Before Chillicothe Railmen.

BY LEVERING CARTWRIGHT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chillicothe, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Louis L. Emmerson, the Republican nominee for governor, undertook this afternoon to quash the attack on his labor record which was started by Len Small partisans during the primary campaign, and which is being carried into the present contest.

Before the meeting in the public square of Chillicothe, Mr. Emmerson was informed by Postmaster T. R. Pearce that there is resistance to his candidacy among the employés of the eastern division shops and headquarters of the Santa Fe railroad here. This was a strong Len Small community which was influenced by the charges that Secretary Emmerson was unfair to organized labor, the postmaster reported.

Small Audience Applauds.

Prompted by this information, Mr. Emmerson entered a general disclaimer to the charges, reviewed his record as secretary of state insofar as it pertained to labor matters, and promised labor a "square deal" whether or not it supports him. Although the Emmerson meeting was small, the world's series radio returns and three women's meetings furnishing rival attrractions, the audience applauded the labor section of his address.

"It has come to my attention," Mr. Emmerson declared, "that my administration of the office of secretary of state has been criticized as being unfair to organized labor. We politicians are accustomed to having unfair things said about us and we are inclined to become indifferent to charges against us. But in some cases, and this is one of them, we must rebel. I want to tell you people something about my labor record.

"The first time I ran for secretary of state, 12 years ago, my majority was about 100,000. Four years later I was elected by a majority of 500,000 and then four years ago my majority was 923,000. My labor record must have been satisfactory as secretary of state.

Bought Union Mined Coal.

"While I was secretary of state I purchased all the coal for the power heating plants in Springfield from Illinois mines and I have never bought a pound of coal outside of Illinois. Furthermore, none but producers of union labor coal have been permitted to bid for the contracts under my jurisdiction.

"I would like to have labor support me. My labor record entitles me to the support of the Republican element of labor, but whether labor supports me or not, I'm going to give labor a square deal."

In the discussion of the candidates among downstate workers, it has been discovered that the name of Otis Glenn, candidate for United States senator, is being confused with that of the late John M. Glenn, one time managing director of the Illinois Manufacturers' association. Because of some hostility on the part of labor groups to that organization, Otis Glenn is finding opponents.

Sterling Asks Thompson's Defeat.

Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, the other speaker at the Chillicothe meeting, urged the defeat of Judge Floyd E. Thompson, the Democratic candidate for governor, on the ground that the next Illinois assembly is destined to be predominantly Republican. With a Democratic governor and Republican assembly, a condition of "chaos" would exist in the state of Illinois much the same as existed under Wilson, the Democrat, and a Republican congress, Mr. Sterling contended.

While Mr. Emmerson and Mr. Sterling were speaking at Chillicothe this afternoon, Oscar Nelson, candidate for state auditor, and Omer N. Custer, candidate for state treasurer, were conducting a meeting in Elmwood. Oscar E. Carlstrom, candidate for attorney general; William J. Stratton, candidate for secretary of state; Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for congressman at large, and former Gov. Richard Yates, candidate for congressman at large, were divided among afternoon meetings in Granville, Toulon, and Wenona.

This evening, simultaneous meetings were conducted in Peoria and Pekin, the speakers making the ten mile trip between towns to keep both engagements.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS VERIDCT.

A coroner's jury investigating the death of Owen Doyle, 39 years old, 4468 Lake Park avenue, a carpenter, who was asphyxiated by fumes used in fumigating his apartment, yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death.

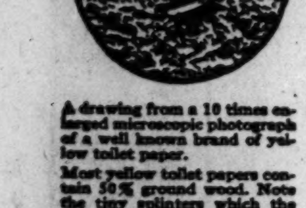
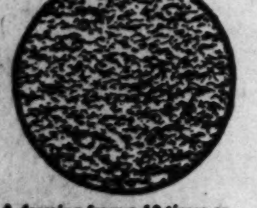
This Sterilized Bathroom Paper offers new hygienic protection that doctors urge



A drawing from a 10 times enlarged microscopic photograph of a well known brand of yellow toilet paper.

Most yellow toilet papers contain 50% ground wood. Note the tiny splinters which the microscope reveals and to which many doctors attribute rectal troubles, such as Pruritis Ani.



A drawing from a 10 times enlarged microscopic photograph of snow-white Northern Tissue.

Every sheet of Northern Tissue is made from pure cellulose paper pulp—sterilized 20 times in manufacture by our own process. Note the firm, down-like texture—free from all irritating particles.

Costs no more than ordinary toilet paper

Now you do not have to use yellow, groundwood toilet paper, to which medical science attributes many rectal troubles, such as Pruritis Ani. (See drawings at left.)

For every roll of Northern Tissue is made from pure cellulose paper pulp, cooked at 302° F. and sterilized 20 times. Tests by Columbus Laboratories have proved it as sanitary as sealed hospital cotton. It's snowy-white, downy soft and doubly absorbent, too. Yet it costs no more than ordinary toilet paper. Try a roll and note the difference.

Doctors Advise
the exclusive use of this sterilized Bathroom Paper (especially where there are children) because its extra hygienic protection safeguards health.

DENEEN FACTION FACES DEFEAT IN RACE WITH TIME

20,300 Ballots Uncounted in Eller Contest.

The contest brought by the Deneen faction to remove the Thompson-Crowe-Eller group from the Republican ticket appeared yesterday to be defeated for lack of time to complete the recount. With only two days before the deadline for certifying nominations—midnight Saturday—County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki still has about 20,300 challenged ballots that he must examine and pass upon before he can enter a decree.

Confronted with this task, the judge yesterday heard a motion by Cornelius Harrington, attorney for Morris Eller, to dismiss the contest. This will be opposed this morning by Deneen attorneys, who plan a court fight to prevent any nominations for the contested positions being certified with the recount incomplete.

Nusser Loses 2,000.

The only member of the Eller group who seemed to be nervous about possible developments today and tomorrow was Eugene Nusser, candidate for assessor. His majority over his Deneen opponent, A. W. Sullivan, was placed by the canvass at 4,055. Official figures are not available, but he conceded he has lost about 2,000 votes in the recount thus far.

The other Eller candidates, Coroner Oscar Wolff and Morris Eller, also have lost about 2,000 votes, while their opponents lost about 200, but it took daily hearings since Aug. 21 to do it. The canvass gave Wolff a majority of 24,216 over Hugo C. Fisher and showed Eller a majority of 12,114 over John H. Glenn.

Court Denies Writ Plea.

Nusser went before Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg yesterday with a petition to enjoin Jarecki from proceeding further with the recount, alleging that the county judge was exceeding his authority in investigating the fraud at the polls rather than merely tallying the ballots. Judge Feinberg, sitting with Judges Kickham Scanlan and Philip L. Sullivan, denied the writ and dismissed the petition.

Judge Jarecki has examined approximately 40,000 ballots. Work to be done consists of the following: 33 precincts with between 5,800 and 6,000 ballots where fraud is suspected from discrepancies in the initials on the ballots, 2,038 ballots not counted in the canvass and not passed upon by the judge, 5,726 ballots challenged but not decided, and 19 precincts with about 6,640 ballots not included in the tallies.

BORAH ARRIVES IN CHICAGO ON WAY TO CAPITAL

Senator William E. Borah, who has been stumping throughout the northwest for Herbert Hoover, arrived in Chicago last night en route to Washington, where he will confer with Mr. Hoover on plans for the senator's future speaking itinerary.

Before going on east Mr. Borah will confer today with James W. Good at Republican headquarters here. He will make no address in Chicago on this visit, although he plans to make a public statement today. A speech scheduled for tomorrow in Carbondale, Ill., has been cancelled.

His next speaking trip is expected to take him into North Carolina and other southern states. He said he would speak in Illinois at a later date.

Prospects for a Republican victory throughout the northwest were good, Mr. Borah said.

CHIROPRACTORS PICK OFFICERS.

Dr. J. W. Dugger of Springfield was elected president of the Illinois Chiropractic society, in session yesterday at the Morrison hotel. Dr. William M. Rice of Chicago was named vice president and Dr. W. A. Maxwell, Decatur, secretary-treasurer.

BRIDE GETS WHAT SHE ASKED FOR; NOW ASKS MORE

Leap Year Wife Wants Alimony.

A leap year marriage was in the divorce courts yesterday before Judge William N. Gemmill. The fact that his bride had made the proposal of matrimony was cited by James R. Mendenhall as grounds for his being excused from paying alimony.

"On the night of Sept. 10, she spent three hours in persuading me to become her husband," the young man testified. "The next day we visited the marriage license bureau and the marriage court."

Audited Too Well.

Mrs. Silvia Mendenhall, 860 East 40th street, was in court seeking temporary alimony in her suit for separate maintenance. She testified that they separated on Sept. 27 because her husband quarreled about money. She charged that Mendenhall, who is an auditor, kept too close a tab on her spending allowance.

"Sure, I kept an account of how much money I was giving her," the husband replied. "She was entertaining a lot of her girl friends and she also was giving some of the money to her mother. She was getting an average of $20 a day from me."

Both Married Before.

Judge Gemmill made inquiries and disclosed that, although both are still in their twenties, both have been married before.

"From your experience," the judge addressed the couple, "you ought to know that sixteen days is not enough time to give the marriage a chance to succeed. Go back together and try again. I'm not going to award any alimony, and see if you two can't come to an understanding before the suit is reached for trial."

BOY DIES OF LOCKJAW.

Abe Sandler, 12 years old, 1226 South Keeler avenue, died yesterday of lockjaw and blood poisoning which developed after he had stepped on a nail two weeks ago.

JEWELERS PLAN TO FIGHT PARDON FOR IRA PERRY

Also Oppose Parole for Edward Cronk.

A protest on the part of all the jewelers in Illinois was sought yesterday against the granting of executive clemency to Ira D. Perry Jr. and Edward P. Cronk, killers now in the penitentiary, in a letter addressed by officials of the Chicago Jewelers' association to its members.

The membership of the association comprises 120 leading jewelry manufacturers and wholesalers, and includes such concerns as the Elgin, Hamilton and Illinois watch factories and the makers of Community silver. H. Paul Juergens is president of the organization.

Announcement that Perry, who in 1921, killed William Schaller, northwest side jeweler, during a holdup, and Cronk, who killed Paul Loberg, Milwaukee avenue jeweler, will on Oct. 9 seek a favorable recommendation for clemency at the hands of Gov. Small from the state board of pardons and paroles, brought about the sending of the letter.

Now Seeks a Pardon.

Three years ago Perry's life sentence for murder was reduced to manslaughter by Gov. Small's parole board, and Perry was then granted a parole. A storm of protest ensued, with the result that the parole was rescinded and Perry returned to his cell. Perry now seeks a pardon, and Cronk who was sentenced by Judge Michael L. McKinley to serve twenty years, will ask to be paroled.

William Schlossman, chairman of the "Good and Welfare" committee of the jewelers' organization, sent out the letter. Other members of the committee are Frank Milhening, Albert Ellbogen, George Engelhard, J. T. Montgomery, Taylor Strawn, and William F. Juergens.

"The efforts and accomplishments of our Good and Welfare committee are being threatened with nullification," reads the communication.

Ask Aid of Jewelers.

"We are advised that an effort is being made to secure the parole of two of the most vicious jewelry crooks and confessed murderers of jewelers, and we request the immediate and united support of all the jewelers of Illinois.

"We refer to the cases of Ira D. Perry Jr. and Edward P. Cronk, whose applications for executive clemency will be heard at Springfield on Oct. 9. We urge you to voice your protest by letters, telegrams or otherwise direct to Hinton G. Clabaugh, chairman of the parole board, and to similarly protest to the Hon. Len Small, the governor, to reach them not later than Monday, Oct. 8."

Attorney Francis V. Healy will represent the organization at Tuesday's hearing, it was announced.

COLORS GLEAM ON NEW MOTORS IN PARIS SHOW

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Oct. 4.—France has begun to apply to automobile manufacture and equipment the same care, taste, and good workmanship that has made Paris the foremost dressmaking city in the world. That is the dominant impression given by a visit to the automobile show which opened this morning.

There has never before been exhibited such a collection of elegant vehicles. Uniformity has gone forever. Every car must have a top of an entirely different color from the body. In one case the top was of leopard skin. In another it was of sky blue tapestry mounted on a mauve body. A gray top on a body of deep orange attracted attention.

With improvement in appearance and decoration, the cars have been given a new line. Anything with a running board now looks old fashioned beside those into which one steps directly from the sidewalk.

In Blindfold Test
Mrs. W. H. Vanderbilt compares leading cigarettes and selects OLD GOLD

MRS. W. H. VANDERBILT is one of the most beautiful and talented young women in New York and Newport Society.

"I did not think I could enjoy smoking on the morning I took the blindfold test, for I had contracted quite a sore throat.

"Thus the fact that I chose OLD GOLD from the other three leading brands . . . and enjoyed smoking it . . . is signal proof of its mild and smooth quality.

"I am grateful to any cigarette that can be that kind to the throat."

Emily Davies Vanderbilt

MRS. VANDERBILT was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing her taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

©P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1760

Made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant

Why you can pick them . . . even in the dark

IN THIS scientific cigarette test a blindfolded smoker tries four leading brands. The only question asked is, "Which one do you like best?"

Why should one cigarette win time after time? What gives OLD GOLDS their captivating charm? The answer is very simple: heart-leaf tobacco. No heavy, coarse top leaves of the tobacco plant . . . no withered ground leaves. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves are good enough for OLD GOLD.

It's sheer quality that gives OLD GOLDS their honey-like smoothness. Do you wonder that they win . . . even in the dark?

SNOWDEN MAPS BRITISH LABOR'S FINANCE POLICY

Accuses Present Cabinet of "Recklessness."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 4.—The Labor party's financial policy was fully expounded today by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Labor government. The whole text of his discourse was to lay aside money now for social amelioration without disturbing the trade of the country or frightening capital. Mr. Snowden also accused his successor, the present chancellor, Winston Churchill, of reckless finance.

"The next Labor chancellor will have a very difficult task the first year or two, because it will require a considerable sum of taxation to put the nation's finances back in the state of stable soundness existing when Chancellor Churchill took the office four years ago," he said.

Then Mr. Snowden pointed out that during the last four years about two hundred million dollars of indirect taxes were imposed."

"Repeal Indirect Taxation."

"We as believers in direct taxation, will have to consider the repeal of this new indirect taxation and find sources of revenue of which we more heartily approve," Mr. Snowden said. He added that the national revenue under a Labor government would be as follows:

1. Reliable profits.
2. Large incomes.
3. Accumulated wealth.
4. Sources which were socially created.

He also foreshadowed drastic death duties.

"I think it wholly indefensible that there should be an opportunity for dead hands to rule the living; that a man who has amassed a large fortune should have the right to bequeath huge fortunes to any one he may select and put them in the position of being independent of work. No chancellor of the exchequer would be fit to hold his job who did not frame all his financial policy with the idea of conserving, increasing and utilizing national resources. When you are putting new taxes you must look not altogether at what you eke, but what you leave."

Raps "Worship of Gold."

Referring to the currency question, Mr. Snowden said this is not within the province of any one nation to settle as it pleases. He saw no better basis than gold, but he thought gold still was too much worshiped; that banks were ridden by the fetish of large gold reserves, which he did not think necessary. There was supposed to be in the Bank of England now $850,000,000. It did not matter whether it was there or not, he said, so long as the people thought it was there.

Regarding the control of the Bank of England, he said he was wholly in agreement with the MacDonald plan to keep it from the hands of politicians and in the hands of experts. Parliament is not a competent body for anything so delicate as the control of credit, he said. As to the nationalization of other banks, he favored the principle, but did not think the time ripe, as about 99 per cent of the trade is carried on by private enterprise under the competitive system, and it is essential that there should be alternative sources for credit for the business man.

"There is only class of people who need fear the Labor policy," Mr. Snowden concluded. "Those who are engaged in honest trade and industry need not fear. Only rich idlers need fear."

Mexican Rebels Explode Two Bombs Under Train

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—[U. P.]—Sixty rebels exploded two bombs under a train and fired on the guards today, according to dispatches from Guadalajara. BRITISH WOMAN SOARS 5 MILES IN LIGHT PLANE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Lady Heath, British aviatrix, today broke the world altitude record for light planes. She ascended more than 26,000 feet (nearly five miles) over Croydon airdrome, near London. The machine was a D-H Moth, with an air-cooled engine, which functioned perfectly throughout the flight. The machine was still climbing when Lady Heath was compelled by cold to give up the flight. The visibility was excellent and Lady Heath says she could see clearly for eighty miles. The entire climb took an hour and forty minutes.

How to Unclog Drains and Sterilize Them, Too

EDNA LEWIS

Today most women know it is no longer necessary to put up with slow-running, clogged drains. There are three or four drain cleaners on the market that not only open drains easily and swiftly, but actually sterilize them, too. Thus, mothers feel, their families' health is protected.

Housewives know from experience that a 15c can of drain cleaner will often save a $15 plumber's bill—and that the worst-clogged drain can be quickly made free-flowing.

There is one drain cleaner that has stood the test of time with thousands of women. Lewis' Lye is its name. Once used, nothing else can take its place with the discriminating housewife. This is why:

The finer ground the lye is, the faster and more economically it works. For that reason, today most women are using Lewis' Lye. Lewis' is the oldest brand on the market, the standard for 60 years. Uniformity, strength and purity of every can is insured by 15 tests before it can go out. Thus the housewife can be sure of best results from its use.

Lewis' Lye is endorsed by Sanitation Authorities everywhere. It costs only 15c for a large can. Thousands of women know how quickly and easily it opens any clogged drain—many housewives prevent stoppage simply by using a tablespoonful in every drain once a week.

MOVE TO CHANGE INDIANA LAW AND TO WIDEN ROADS

Meeting in South Bend Discusses Plans.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.] —A group of more than fifty leading business men of South Bend today instituted a movement to change the highway laws of Indiana at the coming session of the legislature to the extent that it will be possible to widen to forty feet the main roads leading into the Chicago area.

The action was the result of a conference arranged by the Chicago Motor club. Present were representatives of every important civic organization of the locality. Charles M. Hayes, president of the club, outlined the plan now being urged in Illinois for widening the radial roads out from the Cook county line for a distance of 100 miles or more, and the gathering responded by going on record as willing to work for the widening of the main cross state highways all the way from the Illinois to Ohio line.

Law Imposes Limit.

"The people of northern Indiana, some 475,000 the census shows," Thomas Hines, head of the South Bend Rotary, declared, "almost unanimously favor the widening of these highways. But we are faced by a state law which limits the width of state roads to eighteen or twenty feet, and it will be necessary to have this law changed to achieve widening.

"It is therefore the first task of those of us who are interested in immediate improvement of road facilities to see that the law is changed."

Mr. Hayes also brought up the question of highway financing policy by suggesting that Indiana capitalize its future highway facilities by adopting the bond issue plan so that the "present generation may obtain the benefits of improved roads."

Opposes Bond Issue.

The idea was not favorably received, however, and President George Firman of the chamber of commerce cited figures to show that the state was gaining by the "pay as you go" policy, as compared with the carrying of a huge bond issue which would cost about double its face value in twenty years.

"If the laws are altered to allow the building of 40 foot pavements by the state," Mr. Firman said, "we feel confident that the state will proceed immediately to widen the highways leading into Chicago, and from that area across the state to the Ohio line."

According to official figures it was shown eight per cent of Indiana's roads are now carrying 68 per cent of the motor traffic, and the sentiment of the state, assurance was given, is for the widening of the heavily traveled arteries at once to care for this situation.

Chinese Student Is Sent to Cell on Mann Act Charge

Tom Wang, a Chinese art student, was given a three months' sentence in the federal penitentiary yesterday by Federal Judge Fred L. Wham after he had pleaded guilty to a Mann act charge brought by a Dodd City, Texas, girl. Wang admitted he had lured the Texas girl to Chicago through correspondence, claiming that he had married her, "according to Chinese custom," in the station upon her arrival. The young woman returned to her home some time ago, federal authorities said.

Static of All Kinds Jars on Elmer's Nerves

Electric Storm, Announcers Both Bother Him.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

By the gentle crackling from the loud speaker in the early evening we knew an electric storm was wending its way toward Chicago. The late evening hours were very stormy electrically and noisy acoustically.

But there were other types of static on the air. There are every evening. But last evening was such as to put one in the temper to talk about them. I refer to announcing that smacks of foreign language accent, imitation, and—what not? It is daily becoming more evident that English is the ideal and the proper language for songs over radio. It is daily becoming more evident that the English language—or, rather, American English accent—is the ideal and the only proper accent suitable for radio announcing.

There is no excuse for slinging sentences around in a sing-song or acrobatic manner, yet more than one otherwise competent announcer is guilty of this indiscretion. There is no excuse for trilling r's in a foreign manner or for pronouncing proper names—I am primarily referring to names of foreign composers—with the foreign pronunciation. Last evening one announcer pronounced Richard Strauss as Ri-Chard [accenting the last syllable] Strauss. I imagine that our school teachers have more than they can do trying to straighten out the English spoken by the children. Radio ought to set exemplary examples, not inexorable examples, for children as well as for all the rest of us.

The Musical Mélange program from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, was particularly noteworthy for the lovely playing of a Haydn string quartet—opus number not being announced. It is quite remarkable that any radio string quartet should be able to create so perfect an ensemble and so beautiful a tone, considering the limited time that the artists have for practicing together. I cannot get over regretting that this Musical Mélange feature is only of half-hour duration. It is one of the very choicest musical programs ever created by this station.

Raskob Declares Stocks Have Outrun Real Values

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Abandoning the optimistic picture of prosperity he has favored for some time, John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee and former chairman of the finance committee of General Motors corporation, declared today that security prices have so far outrun their demonstrated values that "a material readjustment is necessary" before they can become attractive for investment. The Democratic chairman declared that he has had nothing to do with the present "bull" market.

FIND 2D RUM RUNNER SLAIN IN HIGHWAY BATTLE

Greenfield, Ind., Oct. 4.—[Special.] —Police today found the body of a second man killed in the gun battle on the National road east of here yesterday when Newman Guy, former sheriff of Sullivan county, was held up by three alcohol runners and robbed of his automobile. In the fight Guy killed one of the gang outright and fired several shots at the other two. The second body was found today underneath a railroad trestle a quarter of a mile south of the highway. In the clothing was a slip of paper bearing the name "Malone." The man had been shot twice through the body by a revolver similar to Guy's. Finding that he was dying, he apparently committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

The first body was identified today by a railroad detective as that of Fred Malone, age 22, Cincinnati. Ohio records show the abandoned alcohol runners' car was licensed to George Malone, said to be Fred's brother.

Describing the shooting, Guy said he had made a long trip to Toledo, and feeling drowsy, pulled over to the side of the road, fearing he might fall asleep while driving. The alcohol runners sped down on him, and with drawn revolvers seized his car, saying their own was damaged. They transferred some alcohol to it and started to leave. Guy then grabbed his revolver from a secret hiding place and started firing.

MUELLER HINTS GERMANY WOULD REGAIN LOST SOIL

Refers to "Prosperity" as Borrowed Abroad.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—"Not only must we make the German economic position permanently secure by a final solution of the reparations question, but we must also reëstablish German sovereignty over all Germany, especially over the Rhine and Saar," said Chancellor Hermann Mueller, before the German Newspaper Proprietors' association tonight.

The words were met with cheers, expressing satisfaction that the chancellor was not content merely with the evacuation of the Rhine and Saar districts, but is aiming at the reincorporation of other lost German territories, believed to include the Polish corridor and parts of Silesia awarded to Poland.

The chancellor then read a lecture to the foreign press.

"Prosperity" Is Borrowed.

"Our position is in many ways entirely misjudged abroad, where people do not realize that much of the fine prosperity seen here by passing tourists is not the fruit of sound, fertile soil, but has sprung out of borrowed money.

"The press should correct this mistake about Germany, which has been spread over all the world. Not that I underestimate the value of the progress made in the last few years, which was not expected by many of us, but much remains to be done."

Refers to Geneva Speech.

Chancellor Mueller concluded with an allusion to the recent Geneva incidents.

"The opinions of foreign governments often differ from that of their peoples, otherwise I would be unable to understand how my Geneva speech on disarmament could have caused such excitement in the world."

TAKE ACTION ON ELEVATED STREET FOR WEST SIDE

Another step toward construction of an elevated highway on some unused street, probably Fulton street, from the river to Austin boulevard, was taken last night by the executive committee of the west park board's advisory council. The meeting was presided over by Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the west park board.

Members of the committee decided that an engineering company should be employed to estimate the probable cost of construction and to point out the best route to be followed. A tentative estimate of $11,000,000 as the cost of the highway has been made.

The problem of speeding up traffic on the newly widened Jackson boulevard was also discussed, but no action taken. Dr. Robertson said the most feasible plan seemed to be to operate four lane traffic east in the rush hours of the morning and west in the rush hours of the evening. This would leave two lanes going in the opposite direction for the buses and other traffic.

NAVAL TREATY NOTES REVEAL U. S. AS "GOAT"

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 4.—While other papers are carrying news that the British and French governments finally have decided to publish the naval agreement correspondence on or about Oct. 10, Echo de Paris steals a march on its confreres by publishing a resumé of three notes that are reported to have passed between London and Paris.

The resumé confirms several suspicions already accepted as fact. One shows that Great Britain acceded to the French desire that reserve forces were not to be counted in determining military strength. Both governments expected America to concur with this agreement.

Bargain for Support.

A British note dated June 28 referred to a conversation at Geneva between Admiral Kelly of England and Admiral Violette of France, in which the latter suggested the limiting only of ships carrying guns above 6 inches in caliber. In exchange for the French consent to such an arrangement the British promised to change their views about the subject of reservists.

Replying on July 20, the French accepted the limitation applying only to first line ships, airplane carriers, 10,000 ton cruisers, and submarines, but added the stipulations that all powers be allotted an equal maximum of tonnage in 10,000 ton cruisers, while submarines under 600 tons would remain unlimited.

Would Hamstring U. S.

The note ended with the strange prophecy, according to the paper, that not only Italy and Japan, but also America, would be clearly crippled by such an agreement, if they acquiesced, adding: "But if it was not accepted, there is urgent need that the coöperation between the two governments continue."

The concluding note of Great Britain, July 28, accepted the French amendments, and repeated the odd idea that America would welcome the proposition. The final paragraph, enumerating the points of agreement on the basis of the French diplomatic note, already have been published in America.

HEIRS GIVE $350,000 FOR ALFRED COWLES FOUNDATION AT YALE

New Havene, Conn., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Children of the late Alfred Cowles Sr., stockholder in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and who was for many years its business manager, have presented a gift of $350,000 to Yale university to establish the Alfred Cowles foundation for study of public government. The members of the Crowles family participating in the gift are Alfred Cowles Jr., Chicago, Yale '86; William H. Cowles, Spokane, Wash., Yale '87; and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip B. Stewart of Santa Barbara, Cal.

Mrs. Stewart is the daughter of Alfred Cowles Sr., who died in 1889, while Alfred and William are his sons. In commenting on the gift, President Angell said tonight that the foundation will make it possible to offer the students greater opportunities for usefulness in the political life of their community and to prepare them for a life of public service, after graduation.

A part of the fund will be used to offer fellowships at Yale and other universities, while another part of the fund will allow for the establishment of a collection of materials, relating to activities of political parties and the electorate.

FRANCE RESTORES PRIVILEGES TO RELIGIOUS SECTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Apparently the pendulum swung too far when France separated the church and state and deprived religious organizations of their goods. The commission of finances today passed provisions in the finance bill restoring to the sects part of their ancient privileges. The action came at the request of the minister of foreign affairs, Aristide Briand. Missionary societies once more are allowed headquarters in France. The reason given is that French missionaries rapidly are losing control of their organizations now centered abroad, and foreigners, chiefly Americans and Italians, are doing missionary work in France's own colonies, especially Madagascar.

ILL FATED S-4 TO BE USED IN SEA SAFETY TESTS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The submarine S-4, which sank with the loss of 41 lives off Provincetown, Mass., last December, following a collision with the coast guard destroyer, Paulding, will be placed in commission Oct. 16 as an experimental undersea craft to be used in testing safety devices.

The navy department today announced that while she will be fully equipped and manned for experimental purposes, she will not be replaced in the line.

Lieut. Norman S. Ives will be in command. Lieut. Commander Palmer H. Dunbar, submarine expert, was put in charge of the experimental work. Tests of the "lung," a submarine rescue device invented by Lieut. C. B. Momsen, will be carried on.

I'm a Real Man Now
Since I Gained 28 Pounds

That's What Thin, Rundown Atlantic City Man Wrote.

There are tens of thousands of exceedingly thin men and women who need more weight, and need it badly.

Most of these skinny people need better health—more vigor and energy and something more that we all strive to attain—a fresh, clean and clear complexion.

One underweight woman, exceedingly thin, gained 10 pounds in 22 days with McCoy's Tablets and doesn't have to worry any more about her figure.

Miss Alberta Rogers, thin, run down and weak, gained 15 pounds in six weeks and is thankful for McCoy's.

McCoy takes all the risk—read this iron-clad guarantee: If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your money will be refunded.

Just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store. Distributed by McCoy's Laboratories, Inc., also distributors of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil—there is none better.

For a breakfast surprise eat the new cereal that's so crisp it crackles in cream!

Kellogg's
RICE KRISPIES

it's new

NEVER before have you known such a cereal—such a treat so welcome to young and old—breakfast, lunch or supper!

Crunchy Rice Krispies. How crisp they taste! Bubbles of rice. Flavored and toasted until they just melt in your mouth.

Pour on milk or cream and you can actually hear them crackle with crispness. Delicious with fresh fruits and berries—or honey added. Nourishing and easy to digest.

Use Kellogg's Rice Krispies in place of nut meats—in macaroons, candies. Try the recipes on the package. Sprinkle Rice Krispies over ice cream for a tempting sundae.

Put them in soups. Butter and salt and serve them like pop corn. Eat them fresh right out of the package.

You've a surprise ahead if you haven't tried this newest cereal made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Order a red-and-green package from your grocer. Let the kiddies try the "crackling" test for crispness! It's fun—and then what a flavor treat always follows!

CHANGE PLANS IN DEARBORN-GOETHE FLATS

BY AL CHASE.

Plans have been changed somewhat for the improvement of the southwest corner of North Dearborn and Goethe streets, announced in this department on Sunday, April 1, 1928. At that time it was to be a sixteen story hotel. The owners, Harry L. Solomon and Irving M. Sevin now state that they will erect a thirteen story apartment building. It will contain 180 suites of one and two rooms.

The site fronts seventy feet on Dearborn and 150 feet on Goeth street. It was purchased from Emil Klingbeil. Loewenberg & Loewenberg are the architects of the proposed structure. Work is to start shortly.

Sells Evanston Flats.

Ernst Knodel has sold the fifteen flat building at the southwest corner of Washington street and Elmwood avenue, Evanston, lot 50x176, to Paul Weldin for a reported $180,000, subject to an incumbrance of $90,000. Mr. Weldin gave in part payment the six apartments at 744-46 Hinman avenue, Evanston, at $52,-500. The Evanston office of Baird & Warner handled the deal.

Fifteen flats at the northwest corner of Hermitage avenue and Jonquil terrace, lot 144x31x120, have been sold by Fred Sommerfelt to John T. Brown for an undisclosed consideration.

Buys Broadway Stores.

Alexander W. Hannah has purchased the one story stores at 4653-55 Broadway, just south of Leland, with a frontage of fifty feet, from Henry Wolf for a reported $175,000. Ringer, Wilhartz & Hirsch and Campbell & Rischer were attorneys.

The property at 3341-59 West Lake treet was sold by Solomon D. Jonas to Irving B. Tow for a reported $90,000, subject to $72,000. The 150x125 lot is improved with a 125 car garage, under lease to A. G. Castor, who will continue to operate it. Loewenstein & Rabinoff were attorneys.

MELLON LIKES JOB; READY TO KEEP ON IF HOOVER IS ELECTED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon is well satisfied with his present job and has given no thought to changing, he said today in discussing reports that he had been selected to retain his post as secretary of the treasury in case Herbert Hoover is elected President. The secretary added that if Mr. Hoover had determined he should again head the financial department of the government he knew nothing of it.

"At my age I might as well work here as anywhere else," he said. "I have made no plans about retiring."

AIMEE PROTESTS MONEY NO OBJECT IN BRITISH VISIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Aimee Semple McPherson, who has been giving the newspaper men a hot chase for a couple of days, dodging from one town to another, granted interviews last night in the Maid's Head hotel, Norwich.

Mrs. McPherson excused herself for her American accent, saying, "I am trying to get out of it for England, because when I talk American every one looks at me, and, this makes me feel sort of self-conscious.

"It has been said that I am going to drive the devil out of England. I am not. I am going to preach the gospel, and any one accepting my preaching becomes an enemy of the devil, and the devil falls back.

"There is a lot of talk that I am making money out of this trip. The fact is, I am here on the invitation of the Four Square Gospel churches, because I am president of the Four Square churches of America. I am just a guest speaker.

"Nothing was said to me about money, and it does not matter if, at the end of the tour, I get nothing.

Moaning men and women were writhing on the bare boards of the civic hall at Exeter yesterday at the end of an amazing divine healing service conducted by "Principal Jeffreys," founder of the Four Square gospel churches in the British isles. More than fifty declared themselves cured.

Many of the congregation fainted or fell in fits. They were quickly covered with rugs, and revived after the service.

TOMMY THOMAS.

It's the start of the ninth. The White Sox are leading the Cubs in the second game of the city series, 2 to 1. Tommy Thomas has had the Cubs eating out of his hand all afternoon. First up in the ninth: Mr. Cuyler, a slugger of parts, indulges in the second of his three strikeouts. One down. Mr. Wilson, joint home run king of the National league, also fans for the second time. Two down. Mr. Stephenson lofts a high fly. An easy out to end the game—no—it's a double. But the score's still White Sox 2, Cubs 1.

Comes Mr. Grimm to bat. Tough for Charley—he rolls an easy grounder to Shires. But wait—Shires misses it. Stevie comes in with the tying run. Skip a few harrowing innings. Now it's the fourteenth. Hack Wilson, after a triple gets run down between third and home for the second out. Then all hell breaks loose. In a little while the game's over. The winners: The Cubs. The score: Cubs 5; Sox 3.

Thomas pitched one of the greatest games ever seen in a city series. Tommy has pitched many other great games and lost them for the same reason he lost yesterday—the mediocrity of his mates.

What Tommy Achieved.

Here are some of the things that the losing pitcher did at Comiskey park yesterday afternoon:

Struck out 13 Cubs, including Kiki Cuyler three times, and Hack Wilson twice. Every one in the starting line-up except Maguire and Stephenson fanned and the relieving pitcher whiffed three times.

Allowed one hit until the seventh and only four up till the time victory should have been his in the ninth.

Struck out Cuyler and Wilson to start the ninth while enjoying a 2 to 1 lead, the extra marker having been driven in by himself.

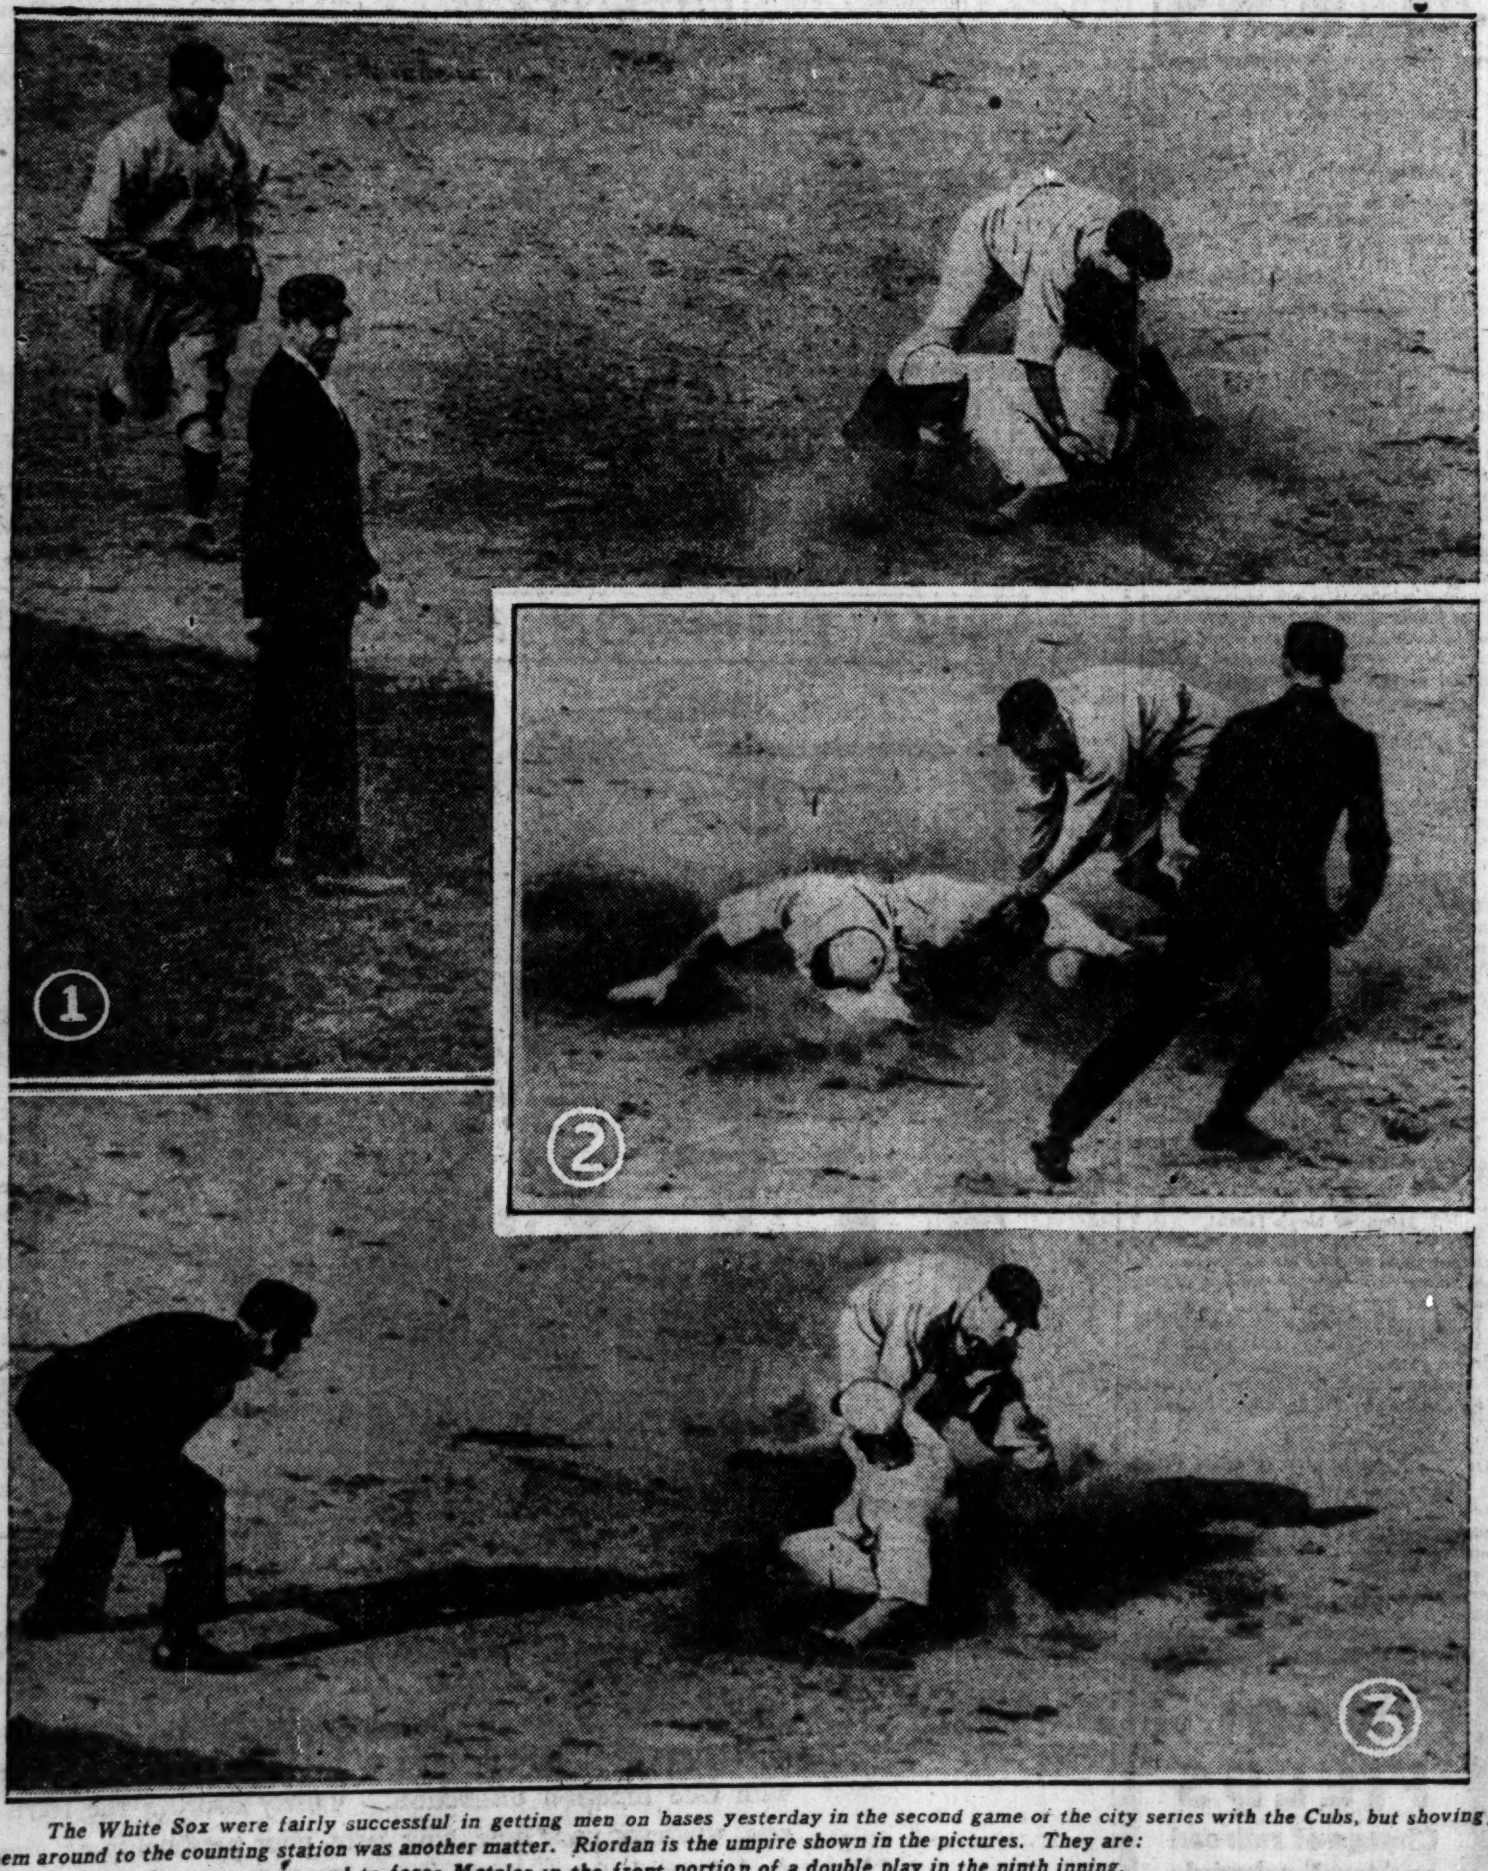
STOPPING THE SOX AT SECOND BASE



The White Sox were fairly successful in getting men on bases yesterday in the second game of the city series with the Cubs, but shoving them around to the counting station was another matter. Riordan is the umpire shown in the pictures. They are:
(1) Maguire steps on second to force Metzler in the front portion of a double play in the ninth inning.
(2) Mostil out at second in the eighth inning when the Sox center fielder attempted to steal. Hartnett's throw to English caught him easily.
(3) Metzler out at second in the fourth inning when the hit and run failed. The play was Hartnett to Grimm to English. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Yank Machine Purrs as of Old as Ruth Finds Stride

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 4.—Things just hauled off and happened so neatly and quietly in the first game of the world series this afternoon that the first thing anybody knew the ball game was all over. The Yankees had beaten the Cardinals, 4 to 1, and the people were leaving the ball grounds in a slow, orderly migration as big as some of those old nomad drifts that changed the course of history a long time ago, according to the police.

There were 61,000 people present, but the happenings happened in such a calm manner that all the customers together made no more noise than a couple of strangers in fairly good voice kicking about a $4 cover charge somewhere downtown. They just came in, a little moist and upset from the struggle through the turnstiles and up the ramps, saw the ball game, yelled a little, and spanked their palms lightly together when Yawning Bob Meusel and James Bumley Bottomley each hit a home run, and after one hour and 45 minutes, beat it.

Hoyt Loafs Along.

There may have been more color and strife out in the close-plucked grass plot of the ball yard than met the eye and ear of those who sat around looking on. When it was over, some of the players said Waite Hoyt, who pitched for the Yankees and faced only 32 hitters in the whole nine innings, was beginning to give under the strain of his work in the eighth, when he faltered to the extent of passing a pinch hitter named Orsatti. But from a point five stories up and 50 yards away, Hoyt seemed to be loafing along, taking his ease and his time and his toll, and guiltless of even the first dewey gleam of perspiration. That is an objection to these great ball parks of the corporation era. You see the sights, but hear no sounds and watching the game from some of those magnificent distances is like reading a wine list in Omaha.

Mr. Babe Ruth was around and about, giving impetus to the scant events of the afternoon and hurling mournful paragraphs right back at all those who had been tapping the tremolo keys of the portable typewriters in the press cage during the Yankees' western tour. At one point in that journey, Mr. Ruth had made only 4 hits in 39 times at bat and the temptation to speculate gloomily on the nature and duration of his future was pressing.

Ruth Flops for Safety.

This afternoon William Sherdel, a pitcher known as Wee Willie, allowed only four hits in seven innings and the Babe got two of them, both doubles. He was still gentling his legs, though, and when he overstepped his base after jaunting stiffly to second on the first blow he whirled around and flopped on his large, squashy paunch rather than slide and risk another knee.

Mr. Tanglefoot Gehrig hit a double just behind him in the first inning, giving him plenty of leisure for the homeward journey and in the fourth inning when Meusel sent him in with a homer Mr Ruth waited on the bag at second, clapping his hands at the yawning one until Meusel overtook him, after which they jogged in together. As they crossed the plate the Babe twined an arm around Meusel's waist and they walked to the dugout like roommates at Wellesley, discussing something, perhaps baseball.

It was a strange thing about this ball game that Sherdel was beaten and taken out to make room for a pinch hitter after wasting a performance that would have licked the Yanks almost any other day within the last month. He was throwing a slow ball that came drifting like dandelion fuzz and the Babe's double in the fourth was a hesitant swipe, half checked and then brought through as though Mr. Ruth felt sure he was wasting a swing. The ball sailed lazily over the infield and Douthit, the center fielder, came tearing in, his black goggles gleaming dully in the sun like blind eyes, but too far back to reach it.

Babe Fans on Fooler.

In the sixth Ruth came up again and once more Sherdel's left arm let go a strange, lingering pitch that seemed to have a rubber string tied to it. He threw four of these loafers in five pitches and finally, with the count 3 and 2 on Babe, coasted up another that deceived him and sent him away with backward glances of hurt and reproach at Mr. Owens, the umpire, for calling him out.

Only the Babe, Gehrig and Meusel were able to get in any work on Sherdel, and, not to linger any longer on the sad fate of a man who will be paid for his trials, he just happened to face a three hit pitcher in Mr. Hoyt. Sylvester Johnson pitched the eighth for the Cardinals, and three singles streaked across the grass from Koenig, Ruth and Gehrig. Tanglefoot's hit scored Koenig, so the solid man drove in two runs out of four, although scoring none himself.

The press section was congested with members of the sweaty school of literature, all covering the world series in a serious way, through their amanuensis, but the other sections were not so well filled. In fact, the official tally of 61,000 customers represented a shrinkage of some 20,000 from the anticipations sent out from the Yankee offices the night before the game.

Walker Twirls First Ball.

By the time the pleasure got under way all sections of the great crescent stands seemed to be well filled with the exception of a barren patch at the extreme tip of each wing. However, there were no standees to speak of and no trade dangled from the girders as on the day of the double header between the Yankees and Athletics a fortnight ago.

His Honor, James J. Walker, mayor of the place, lately returned to rest from his strenuous round of vacations, dropped the first ball over the wall of his box, and His Honor, K. M. Landis struck his quaint world series attitude, with his chin hooked over the rail of his box like an umbrella handle on a bar, while the photographers fired at will.

BOB MEUSEL.

New York, Oct. 4.—Last fall when the Yankees basked in the glory of their four successive victories over the Pirates there was no room for Bob Meusel. He had compiled only an elaborate string of strikeouts and nobody cared much about that.

But today long, lanky, indifferent Bob buried his past with one blow. From a spot on which were centered the eyes of some 61,000 spectators, he reached out, swung with his usual nonchalance, and the ball arched gracefully into the right field bleachers of the Yankee stadium.

Limping Babe Ruth, of whom luck made a hero for a day, ran home and Long Bob followed him. Those two runs and no more were all the Yankees, Waite Hoyt among them, needed to register a triumph over Wee Willie Sherdel and the St. Louis Cardinals, in the inaugural struggle of baseball's titular classic. The final score was 4 to 1.

Few Thrills for Fans.

This was no outstanding world's series thriller, such as might bring the multitude to its feet. The only thing apparent was that a ball game was being played. The pitching was too machinelike to permit of desperate situations. The fielding was too methodical. And even the spectators, either because title matters were old stuff to them, or because they came ready and willing to mourn over the rout of a supposedly wrecked Yankee team, broke loose only in spots.

It was a quiet, somewhat dull afternoon. If there were among that 61,000 any who really desired to mourn, they can now shed their tears for Sherdel, the man of misfortune. The day may come when the slow balling, rhythmic southpaw will be able to write a series victory into his record. This was not that day, but through no fault of his own.

Hoyt at His Best.

Beaten twice despite his brilliancy, when he faced this same Yankee outfit in 1926, Sherdel came back today confident that Old Lady Luck would give him a break. The fickle female gave no signs that she even realized he was present. She pitted him against Hoyt on a day that found the pitching mortician a workman the Cardinals couldn't come close to hitting. She extended her sinister influence so that the Yanks could enjoy hits that really weren't hits.

Sherdel's misfortunes dated from the first inning. Two hits, one of them a matter of inches on a fly ball, and the Yanks had a run in the opening round. Another fluke blow and Meusel's homer in the fourth, and the Yanks had two more runs and the ball game. That was all that was made off Sherdel—four hits in seven innings, whereupon he retired a beaten man to let Sylvester Johnson come in and feel what bad luck is really like. Johnson felt it to the extent of one run in the eighth.

Cards Held to Three Hits.

If Hoyt ever had an easy time registering victory this was the time. He just threw carefully and not many of his foes hit the ball squarely. He didn't use much speed, probably because he knew the shortest road to a win was to slow down. When he had gone through nine rounds of this there were only three hits against his record.

He yielded only three passes. Only one Cardinal traveled farther than

Cardinals 6-5 Favorites if Jess Haines Pitches Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Even though New York is in front tonight it was difficult to find Yankee backers who will wager the New Yorkers win the series. In the expectation Jess Haines will hurl for the National leaguers tomorrow, the Cards were 6 to 5 favorites to take the second game.

Sentiment seemed to favor St. Louis as much as the early betting. Jim Bottomley's homer was more enthusiastically greeted than any of the three sharp, run producing attacks of the Yanks.

Miller Huggins still plays 'em safe. With a fair lead and Hoyt inclining to wobble, the only man in major league history to pilot six pennant winners in eight years lost no time in moving in superior defensive men—Durocher replacing the lame armed Lazzari at second and the fleeter Combs going in for Paschal in center.

Sherdel established a series slow balling record by lobbing up six in a row to Ruth before striking him out with a fast breaking curve in the sixth. The Babe offered at none of the seven pitches.

Irish Meusel, ex-Giant, who came from the far west to watch brother Bob perform, conceded that it was a wild pitch by Sherdel that Bob hit for the circuit in a direction his blows rarely take. Meusel is death on a high ball outside and that was just what he walloped.

The Yanks now have won five straight world series games, second only to the record of eight straight hung up by the New York Giants.

PRINCE OF WALES WEARS SILKS; 2D IN AFRICAN RACE

NAIROBI, Kenya, East Africa, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The prince of Wales and his younger brother, the duke of Gloucester, sported silks here today. Riding in the races of the Kenya Jockey club, the prince tried his luck three times, finishing second in one race. The duke was satisfied with one attempt, in which he failed to show.

One of the biggest race crowds that ever assembled here watched the riding sons of King George. The prince won hearty plaudits when he finished second in the Duke of York's plate event, and again when he brought his mount in fourth in the Brigade of Guards cup race. He wound up his day by finishing last in a field of eleven in the eighth race, a seven furlong sprint.

61,425 Fans Pay $224,130 to See Yanks Beat Cards

Total attendance, 61,425.
Total receipts, $224,130.
Players' share, $121,030.20.
Clubs' share, $80,686.80.
Commission's share, $22,413.

The first game played last year, at the smaller Forbes field, Pittsburgh, attracted 41,467 fans who paid $182,477.

TWO TEAMS TIED AS SEASON ENDS IN COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Pacific Coast league officially ended its 1928 season today with San Francisco's Seals and Sacramento's Senators tied for first place in the second half of the split season.

A three game series, beginning Saturday, will be played to determine the second half winner. San Francisco won the first half race and if it beats Sacramento two out of three in the series will be declared the 1928 champions and receive $15,000 bonus hung up by the league.

first base and in no inning was there more than one National leaguer on the runway at the same time.

Hoyt was so good that only one of twelve different Cardinals who tried their skill against him was of an annoying nature. This was Smiling Jim Bottomley, who jumped into the big tent from the bottom of an Illinois coal mine. Bottomley walked once and the next time bounced to Gehrig. Then he hit a homer that proved St. Louis' only tally. And in the ninth, just after he had enjoyed a hearty laugh because Catcher Bengough couldn't quite reach a pop foul, Bottomley hit again. This time it was a single.

Ruth Makes 'Em Cheer.

As a sure sign that the crowd was in no particular fever over the show that was about to be unfolded there wasn't much more than silence when Babe Ruth, the man who hits 'em high and far, came up in the first inning. So far as the customers were concerned Ruth appeared to be nothing more than one of the boys. But when the Babe started a run of luck that was to give him three hits out of a total of seven collected by the Yanks, the crowd began to voice itself, not boisterously but loud enough to prove that there was action of some kind.

The Babe came along the first time after two were out in the initial round. Until now both Hoyt and Sherdel were displaying inclinations toward slow balls. Ruth waited for one that wasn't quite so slow and went after it. The ball sailed into right center and Douthit was after it. A mere matter of a split second kept him from his goal. The ball dropped at his sleeve, bounced and hit him in the midsection. Ruth ran to second and arrived there clumsily but safely. He was trying to protect his bad left knee.

Scores on Gehrig's Hit.

Young Gehrig, the so-called larruper was next. He, too, hit a fly ball but as in Ruth's case there was a horseshoe lying in it. It dropped just out of Harper's reach in right. Gehrig raced to second. Ruth cantered home because there was no reason to hurry. The two left handed hitters Sherdel was figured to stop had put him in the hole.

The Cardinals made the first of their few advances against Hoyt in the second chapter. Sunny Bottomley led off with a healthy swing that meant nothing more than a strike. Then among some wide pitches he fouled off a couple good ones and put the count at 3 and 2. The next was low so he let it pass and walked. Then Hafey got into a hole and pulled back without swinging at what proved a perfect third strike. The next two fellows were easy and six others were just easy for Hoyt in the two subsequent rounds.

Maranville Makes Great Catch.

There was only one thing about the Yanks' second and third that was of passing interest. Mr. Maranville who was playing world's series ball before most of his present mates and present opponents had reached the stage of carrying primers, supplied it. In the third the Rabbit dashed with youthful recklessness to the stand back of third base. He was seeking a pop foul off Hoyt's bat and he got it by putting his gloved paw out in front of his belt buckle.

The luck that surrounded the efforts of Ruth came back to assert itself against Sherdel in the fourth. Sherdel started to operate on the Babe with a slow ball that floated over unmolested. It worked so well that Wee Willie tried it again. But Ruth chose to pursue this one. He hit a fly ball almost to dead center, but the outfielders were not in position for a blow to that particular spot. Left Fielder Hafey, who was the closest, made a bid for the catch, but he didn't get there. It fell for another double.

Then Gehrig bit on a slow one and tapped gently to Sherdel, who drove Ruth back to second before making the throw to first. Meusel, the strikeout phenomenon of a year ago, stepped into the picture. The count became 2 and 1 and Sherdel tossed up a fast curve, a bit high on the outside. Meusel pawed with his bat and the ball sailed away to end its career in the hands of a $1 customer in right field.

Ruth Waits for Meusel.

Ruth didn't start for home the instant he saw where the drive was settling. He waited at second base until Meusel was almost up to him. Then the Babe indulged in a bit of hand clapping for Long Bob's benefit, after which he turned and started jogging easily toward the point where runs become official.

The Cardinals broke out with the first of their hits in the fifth. Hafey started the round by fanning for the second time. Harper followed with a single over short and, as usual, somebody immediately remarked, "Well, there goes the no hit game."

The next of the St. Louis standard bearers to reach safety was Douthit, who walked with two gone in the sixth, after which High flied to Meusel in left. Then the next to survive Hoyt's machine gun fire was Bottomley, who strolled up with one gone in the seventh and slashed a liner into the right field seats.

Convinced that Sherdel's pitching was of no use so long as Hoyt couldn't be solved, Boss McKechnie made the inevitable switch to pinch hitters in the eighth. After Wilson had flied to center, Orsatti, the movie man, was delegated to bat for Maranville. The pinch batter exercised rare judgment and drew a pass.

Holm Bats for Sherdel.

Holm was ushered up to swing for Sherdel. He took a cue from Orsatti and worked the count down to three and two. For a moment it looked as if Hoyt was going to wabble a bit and put two runners on base the first time for either side. But Hoyt sailed the next one through the plate and Holm hoisted it into the hands of the center fielder. Douthit let a third strike go past to end the inning, and all that the Cards did after this was Bottomley's single that came with two gone in the ninth. Hafey's fly to Ruth ended it.

The needless run the Yanks chalked up against Johnson in the eighth was the fruit of three successive hits after two were out. The first of these was a single that Koenig caromed off Frisch's glove. Ruth followed with a grounder toward short, but Thevenow, the hero of 1926, who had just supplanted Maranville, couldn't move a foot to his right to get the ball. It bounced past him for a cheap single. Then Gehrig sent a single between first and second, sending Koenig home, and a popup off Meusel's bat was the day's final gesture of the Yank attack.

CUBS WHIP SOX, 5-3, AS THOMAS WILTS IN 14TH

Extra Base Hits Break Up Hurling Duel.

get him out of the jam in which their inefficiency had hurled him.

And then, after the game, spent a half hour explaining why the perpetrators of three bad errors were not to be censured for their sins.

But to return for the time to the great fighting spirit displayed by the Cubs: No one was more impressed with Thomas' power than they. But they never folded up, and pounced on every bobble and break until, with two down in the fourteenth, they hammered the discouraged and weary Tommy and conquered for the second successive day.

In the third inning the Cubs had seen their first chance smothered. Hartnett made the first Cub hit, a single to left, and Metzler gave it a boot for an extra base. Beck layed down a sacrifice, and Gabby was on third with one out. But Tommy fanned Nehf, English walked, and Maguire popped to Shires.

Thomas got the same rousing support on the handling of the second Cub hit that Metzler gave on the first. With one out in the seventh, Wilson singled, and this time Mostil did the booting for the extra base. Stephenson then grounded sharply to Cissell for what the second guessers say would have been an easy double play had Wilson been held on first on his hit. But the Mostil boot and the result thereof were in the book, so Grimm got a chance to drive in a run. He doubled to left and Wilson scored from second, reducing the Sox lead to a run.

Shires Boots in Tying Run.

The big boot came with two out in the ninth, however. And because of it Shires may go down as the goat of the series. After Thomas had fanned Cuyler and Wilson, Stephenson sent a high fly which seemed a certain prospect for the final out of the game. Instead it fell just inside the foul line among Shires, Hunnefield and Reynolds. It was a two base hit. Grimm then bounced to Shires, but the rookie let it go through him. The ball had just enough force to carry it into right field, while Riggs Stephenson romped home with the tying run. Hartnett then grounded to Kamm.

From the ninth to the windup, Bush and Thomas went great, except for a brief time in the Sox twelfth. In this inning Metzler drove the ball to right and was held to a single on beautiful fielding by Cuyler. Kamm followed with a single to left, Metzler stopping at second. Sox sympathizers groaned when Cissell was allowed to come to bat. Their fears were justified. Cissell struck out in a really pitiful way. Maguire threw out Hunnefield.

The Cubs' final inning was a hot, cold and hot thriller. After Cuyler was out, Wilson tripled off the fence in right center, but was trapped between third and home when Stephenson grounded to Hunnefield. Stevie reached second on the run down. Grimm was given an intentional pass to effect a force at third. Then Hartnett tripled to right center, scoring Stephenson and Grimm and came in on Butler's double to deep left center. Bush struck out for the third time.

How White Sox Scored.

Now for the record of those Sox runs, two of which seemed so big before they were proven so little: Mostil opened the first inning with a double to left center, which reflected no particular credit on the talents of Stephenson and Wilson, went to third on Shires' infield out and scored while English was throwing out Reynolds.

In the fifth Hunnefield singled with one out, went to second on Berg's out and scored on Thomas' single.

In their end of the fifteenth, the Sox got a let down run. Shires doubled and, after Reynolds and Metzler went out, scored on Kamm's single to center.

Art Nehf pitched 6 2-3 innings, but was forced to retire with a wrenched leg after getting one strike on Berg in the seventh. Jones went in and retired the side by making Moe fly to Wilson on the one ball he pitched.

The third game of the series will be played this afternoon at Wrigley field at 2 o'clock. Charley Root and Ted Lyons have been designated as the pitchers.

Pennsylvania Athlete Dies of Grid Injuries

Washington, Pa., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Football claimed its first casualty in Washington county when William Charles Young, 29, of Monongahela City, today succumbed to injuries suffered in a game between the company A 110th infantry team of that city and the Blythedale Tornados. His back was broken when he was tackled after intercepting a forward pass.

Cards, Yanks Agree on One Thing; It Was a Good Game

BILL M'KECHNIE.

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—For perhaps the first time in the history of the world series, the champions of the American and National leagues played a ball game today and both were perfectly satisfied with the way it turned out.

"That was an easy game to lose," Manager Bill McKechnie of the Cardinals announced as his team trotted into the dressingroom, silent but by no means downhearted at the 4 to 1 victory of New York's belting beauties.

"Waite Hoyt pitched a marvelous game. There was nothing we could do about it. He was just in there, and right, and that's all there was to it. Little Lefty Sherdel pitched a great game, too, and his own brand of hurling would have won nine out of ten contests, Hoyt deserves to win. Don't think this series is on the chutes, though," McKechnie warned all within hearing. "The Yanks won the first game of the 1926 series, too, but the Cardinals won the championship. Pete Alexander will be in there tomorrow and there'll be another story."

Yankees Are Calm.

The American league champions took victory as calmly as though they had been the favorites all along with the pre-series dopesters.

"Looks like the cripples did pretty well," crowed the clouting king of them all, Babe Ruth. "We'll do it some more. Four games is enough for this series."

The Bambino, yanking off his socks in a hurry so as to beat some one to a hot shower, chuckled over the three hits he gathered during the day.

"I was sure due for some," he said. "That first double off Sherdel was a fast ball over the outside corner, the second a nice slow ball inside. I guess that Sherdel is a cousin of mine after all."

Miller Huggins, the mighty atom who directs the husky Yanks, seemed more in need of restoratives and violet ray machines than any of the crippled warriors on his staff. Worn and tired, Miller dressed as quickly as he could and got away from the sight and sound of baseball. He said either George Pipgras or Tom Zachary, the veteran southpaw, would pitch tomorrow.

There was a heart ache for Sherdel in the home run Bob Meusel smacked to settle the issue in the fourth inning. The little southpaw was quite disconsolate.

Hoyt Praises Koenig.

"All day," he said, "I fed Meusel low balls on the outside except just once. My control slipped and I tossed him a curve that broke high on the outside. You saw what he does to that kind of a ball.

"Those Yankees are a troublesome club. They had me in a hole all the time. I never could get ahead of them and take a chance wasting slow balls to get them biting."

"I suppose I did pitch a good game," said Hoyt as he scrambled for a shower, "but I did better when I shut out the Giants with two hits in the second game of the 1921 series. But did you see that stop and throw Koenig made on Frankie Frisch in the ninth inning; greatest play I ever saw."

Once out of the showers, Hoyt lined up his shaving tools for the ceremonial that follows every crucial game he pitches. With the rest of the players jeering good naturedly, he scraped away a 36 hour growth of beard.

"I'm not superstitious," he said half in apology. "My face smarts after shaving. If I didn't wait until after the game, it would take my mind off my work."

In the Wake of the News

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR WAKE: The last Kimbell has left Kimball avenue. [Note the difference in spelling. They once were identical.] M. N. Kimbell, a native of New York, bought a claim in the vicinity of what is now Logan Square, paying $1.25 an acre for it. That was the year Chicago was incorporated. He afterward helped to lay out Milwaukee avenue, then known as the Plank road. It was planked twelve miles out from the city and was extended by degrees to Milwaukee. A trail crossing the Kimbell farm became known as Kimbell avenue.

The family homesteads were hospitable places and are pleasantly remembered by many. One house in particular lives in memory with its long rooms and sloping ceilinged chambers. Out in the barn—it's a clubhouse now—there was a party room upstairs and there some nights the fiddle played and they danced the old dances. That place dated from before the Chicago fire. F. S.

I was a fairly regular attendant at the old People's 10-20-30 theater out on the west side and used to stand in line on Saturday to get first choice at the 10 cents seats when the doors opened.

One Saturday when May Hosmer was doing Camille, and coughing to indicate her illness the gallery joined in the chorus of cough for cough. She rang down the curtain, came out before it, and how she did bawl 'em out.

Those were the days when after the show we had the additional thrill of going back stage and receiving a celluloid button with the pictures of May, Myrtle Bigden, Frances Wilson, and other members of the company right from their own hands. Then how we kids did trade around to get the picture of our favorite. Panky's Child.

Dear Harvey: Several years before we had a stadium at Illinois, when 20,000 people was a tremendous crowd, the great Hindu poet, Tagore, was here visiting his son who was a student in agriculture. Conversing with Tagore one day and tooting the old horn as usual about business, crops, community activities, etc., I called his attention to the enormous crowds that attended football games, as many as 50,000 being present at an eastern game.

Tagore, smiling in the kindliest manner, said: "Yes? You know in Calcutta it is not uncommon to have 125,000 at a soccer football game." Which brought home the fact that other countries have their great sporting events also. C. A. K.

SEEK SUSBTITUTE FOR MARRINER AGAINST SQUIRES

Either Otto Von Porat, Tuffy Griffith or Napoleon Dorval will be the opponent for Johnny Squires in the main event of the boxing show at the Hippodrome on Tuesday night.

Les Marriner, local heavyweight, had been matched with Squires, but Les hurt his right hand in his fight with George Gemas at Peoria Wednesday night. The injury is so serious that Marriner had to cancel the Squires fight. Matchmaker Joe Coffey is trying to induce either Von Porat, Griffith or Dorval to meet the South African.

Jack Berg, the English lightweight, and Spug Myers of Idaho are in strenuous training for their ten round decision match at the White City on Monday night. They will complete the harder part of the grind tomorrow with long boxing workouts.

INDIANS ROUT ROCHESTER IN 5TH GAME, 12-5

Leverette Is Victor in Relief Role.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Indianapolis went on a batting spree against Rochester today to gain a 12 to 5 victory and advance a step nearer the little world series baseball championship. Two more victories will give the American Association champions the title.

It was an uphill fight for the Indians, for Rochester drove Danny Boone off the mound with four runs in the first inning. Dixie Leverette then took up the pitching burden for the Hoosiers and the Red Wings bats were virtually useless the rest of the day.

Indianapolis got back into the running in their first turn at bat when old Reb Russell hit a home run, scoring Connolly, who had doubled, ahead of him. Four more local players counted in the second when Jim McCracken was driven off the mound. Southpaw Irving took his place. Score:

CHICAGO SHOWS MAJOR INTEREST IN CITY SERIES

BY ANN GARROW.

[Tribune Chief Operator.]

Chicago's baseball interest yesterday was centered on the city series game between the White Sox and the Cubs out at Comiskey park, if the number of telephone calls received in THE TRIBUNE office for results of the city series was a true indicator.

Approximately 15,000 calls were handled and of this number only a little more than 3,000 were for results of the world's series in New York. When the Sox-Cubs conflict got under way the city's fans apparently forgot that a game of national import had been played on the Atlantic seaboard.

HITCHCOCK IS SHIFTED IN U. S. POLO SHAKEUP

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The United States is trying a desperate remedy for its polo ills. Backed to the wall by the sensational attack of the Argentineans, who on Wednesday took the second game of the championship of the Americas and tied the series at one game all, the United States has decided to try a heroic experiment. Thomas Hitchcock Jr. will be moved out of the No. 2 position so generally accepted as his own and placed at No. 3. Earl A. S. Hopping, a 21 year old youngster, will be at No. 2.

The official announcement of this change is expected to be made tomorrow. It means that the United States changes its team for the fourth time since its original selection and that it will go into action in the following form: No. 1, W. Averell Harriman; No. 2, Earl A. S. Hopping; No. 3, Thomas Hitchcock Jr.; back, Winston Guest.

Western Skate Association Fixes Title Dates Tonight

The Western Skating association will hold a special meeting tonight at the Sleipner A. C., 4520 Grand avenue. According to President Edward A. Wahlke dates will be awarded to clubs which intend to hold races this winter. Dates for the central states, Illinois and western outdoor championships also will be determined. The meeting will convene at 8 o'clock.

DIEGEL BREAKS HAGEN'S GRIP ON PRO GOLF CROWN

Beats Sir Walter, 2 and 1; Espinosa Wins.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The miracle happened. The jinx is broken. Walter Hagen was beaten by Leo Diegel today in the quarter finals of the national professional golf tournament and his four year reign as champion is at an end. The score was 2 and 1.

For the first time since 1923, when Gene Sarazen nosed him out in the final by one up in 38 holes, the great Sir Walter met a man who could match him in competitive spirit and skill in this big pro fixture, over which Hagen has exercised paternalistic rule for so long. Diegel won his victory and a chance at the championship by fighting off one of Hagen's famous rallies and holing out a 14 foot putt for a birdie two on the 35th green. It was up to Hagen then to do the same if he was to save his crown, and he missed by about three inches.

Espinosa Beats Hutchison.

The downfall of Hagen, around whom a tradition of invincibility had been woven because of the regularity with which he has won the title, totally eclipsed in the eyes of the big gallery, the other three quarter-final matches which Gene Sarazen, Al Espinoza, and Horton Smith won.

Sarazen, who is to battle Diegel in tomorrow's play, won by the convincing margin of 7 and 6 over Fred Dudley, long driving young husky from Los Angeles. Espinosa's margin was 5 and 4 over Jock Hutchison, veteran ex-champion; while Smith, a newcomer to national golfing fame, downed Perry Del Vecchio of Greensburg, Pa., another newcomer, by the margin of 2 up.

Hagen Five Down at 9th.

Drama was packed into the Hagen match. It will go down in golfing history how Sir Walter, playing shaky golf, found himself 5 down after nine of the 36 holes, came back to pare his margin to two down at the end of the morning round of 18 holes, dropped a hole in the next nine to go three down, and then put on a hair-raising rally which left him just one down as they went to the 35th tee.

The stage was set for one of those Hagen finishes. Judging by what has happened many time before, Diegel should have dubbed his tee shot or banged it into the woods. The hole is a 155 yard one shotter [illegible] Diegel matched it, laying his own ball 14 feet from the hole. Diegel got his putt, but Hagan missed.

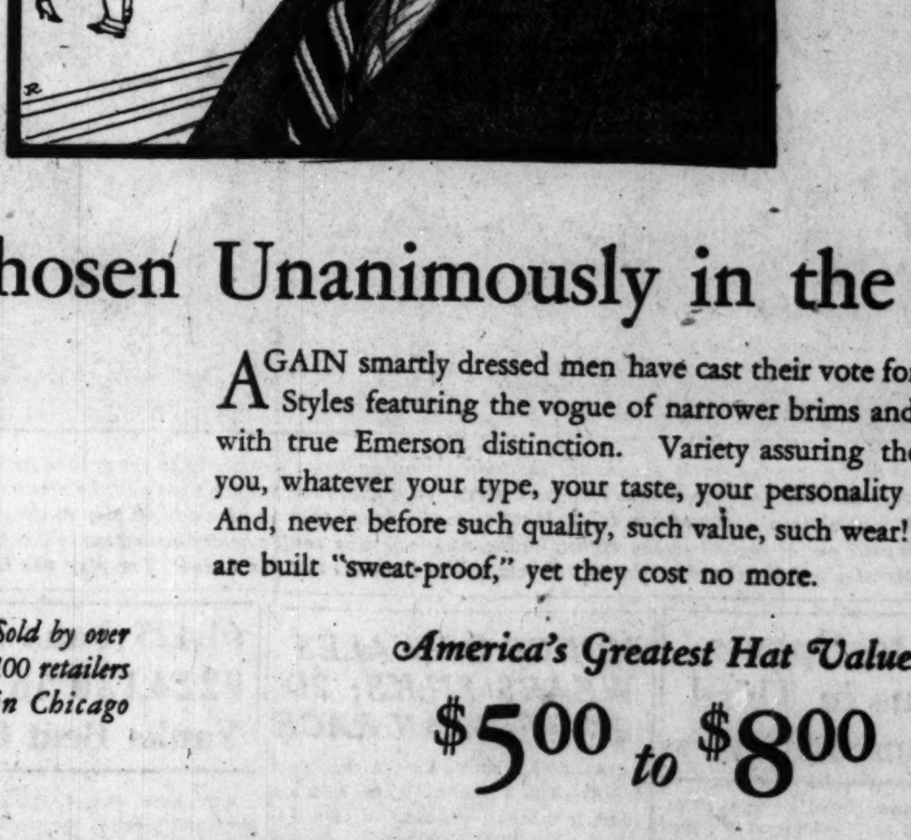
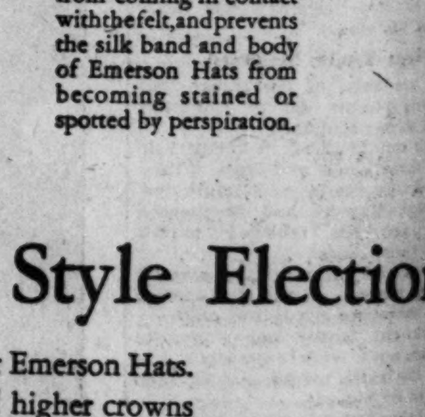
ALL EMERSON HATS ARE SWEAT-PROOF





Here is the construction of the Emerson Interlined, Double-Sewn Sweat Band. A waterproofed interlining is first stitched to the sweat leather, then sewn to the hat itself. This patented feature keeps the sweat leather and stitching from coming in contact with the felt, and prevents the silk band and body of Emerson Hats from becoming stained or spotted by perspiration.

Chosen Unanimously in the Style Election

AGAIN smartly dressed men have cast their vote for Emerson Hats. Styles featuring the vogue of narrower brims and higher crowns with true Emerson distinction. 57 WILDCATS GET CHANCE TO YOWL; TEAM LOOKS GOOD

All Take Field Against Butler and Loyola.

Northwestern's football team, stronger than its predecessor during November of last year, but with its prospects not as bright as in last October, wound up its three weeks of intensive preliminary practice last night and tomorrow will test its strength against Butler of Indianapolis.

The Wildcats commenced to ease up their work yesterday and only a forward passing drill, both defensive and offensive, some signal drill and kicking practice were held.

Hanley does not figure on using Dean Clarr or Henry Bruder on account of injuries, although Bruder can be of service if necessary. All other fifty-seven Wildcats are expected to see service in the double header at Dyche stadium, the reserves meeting Loyola of Chicago in a bargain afternoon.

The kickoff for the Butler game is set for two p. m., and about 35,000 fans and Boy Scouts are expected to fill gay Dyche's stadium to two-thirds capacity.

Hanley's Lineup.

The varsity lineup as selected by Coach Hanley last night will be Baker and Woodworth at ends; Hazen and Bixler, tackles; Dart and Anderson, guards; Erickson, center; Levison and Calderwood, half backs; Capt. Holmer, full back, and Lee Hanley, quarter back.

Baker, Woodworth, and young Hanley are sophomores. Four others, Holmer, Levison, Hazen, and Dart, were members of Thistlethwaite's co-champions of the western conference in 1926.

Pesty Clark's Butler players will arrive in Evanston today and are scheduled to work out at Dyche stadium.

STAGG MEN IMPROVED

The University of Chicago freshman squad made their initial appearance against the varsity yesterday and got off several good gains using Minnesota plays, which it is believed resemble those Wyoming will uncork tomorrow.

Buck Weaver, two hundred and forty pound veteran guard, was out in suit for the first time this year and is confident he will be eligible for the Iowa struggle. Weaver and Cushman will bolster the Maroon line.

Need Tackles.

Weislow is definitely out for the double header tomorrow and Proudfoot's lasting qualities are doubtful, so tackles are at a premium. Krogh, normally an end, was converted into a tackle Wednesday, and went well at the new position again yesterday.

Stagg used Jersold and Spence at ends, Krogh and Cushman at the tackle berths, Brown and Erickson at the guard posts, and Ken Small at center against the frosh, while Bluhm, Mendenhall, Raysson, and Leyers made up the back field.

Another back field, composed of Heywood, Libby, Laurel Smith, a sprinter, who took his first hard workout yesterday after an early season injury, and Red Burgess came in for a lot of attention from the Old Man.

Stagg dished out several new plays to the two back field combinations, presumably for use in the Iowa game. Wyoming and Lake Forest college are reported to have very strong teams, but will bump into a greatly improved Maroon aggregation.

AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Again showing a lack of sustained offensive drive, Michigan's regulars today were held scoreless by the "B" team until the final play of the game. Then a 45 yard pass, Wheeler to Holmes, scored a touchdown.

Pommerening, the bulwark of the "A" team's line, was kept out of the play, and without him Capt. Rich and Gembis were unable to make gains of consequence. Bator, first string half back, also was given a rest, and his absence resulted in the "B" team's advantage in the punting duel.

Draveling, the end who developed into a kicker almost over night, was kept out of the lineup to avoid further injury to his shoulder.

AT ILLINOIS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Bob Zuppke's quest for backs continued today with the probability that Bob Hickman would be transferred from end to back field. Zuppke has a first set of backs in Timm, Walker, Mills, Stussy and Humbert, but the "wealth" of back material mentioned by some dopesters is noticeably absent.

Hickman played part of the Ohio State game last season at end. Chuck Hall and Bodman are the other backs likely to get first chance against Bradley Saturday, with Kenfields as a quarter back.

Weinie Wilson, coach of the reserves, will take 25 players to Chicago tomorrow for a game with De Paul Saturday. The reserves include several players who may make a bid for the varsity later.

Senior Golf Classic Won by E. L. Essley

BY HARLAND ROHM.

E. L. Essley of Westmoreland, a lad of 62 summers, wrested the championship of the Illinois seniors from the hands of half a dozen other white haired young men, who shoot in the 70's or least the low 80's, by scoring a neat 42—40—82 over the Skokie course yesterday. Nearly 200 of the seniors, who range from 50 years upward, played the course in a gale which pushed scores half a dozen shots higher than they otherwise might have been.

Essley who won't reach his 62d birthday until Oct. 21, beat out C. W. Booth of Midlothian, three time champion, by one stroke, for Booth shot 41—42—83. One more shot back were the Wantz team, Ray of Rockford and J. B. of Butterfield and B. N. Anderson of La Grange. Five more had 85 and four 86, which is an indication of how close was the competition.

In that 85 class were Fred Hill of Skokie Charles Smalley of Olympia Fields, former senior champion, Thomas Dunbar of Glenview, Dr. F. E. Brawley, Flossmoor, and T. C. Moulding, Westmoreland. In the 86's were: N. Landon Hoyt Sr. of Indian Hill, J. B. Le Duc, Bunker Hill, Bertram Hopper, Taylorville, another former champion, and E. A. Engler of Glenview.

Dr. G. W. Webster of Flossmoor led the list of those who have passed the Biblical three score and ten by shooting 46—46—92. The other class winners appeared in those who were close up for the champions. Essley won in class C, 60 to 64 years; Booth in class D, 55 to 59 years; Engler in class B, 65 to 69 years, and J. B. Wantz in class E., 50 to 54 years.

Champion senior of the seniors, who is the low net man in class A, those 70 years and more, was J. H. Wood of Flossmoor, who scored 99—22—77 for his title. But this was only a shot better than the runnerup, Charles S. Cutting's 105—27—78, and better than Col. E. C. Carter's of Glenview 103—24—79, and L. C. Mowrey, Skokie, 95—16—79, who tied for third and fourth, Col. Carter winning on seniority.

Putts put two former champions out of the running. Booth had seven three putt greens, which marred his record of having been in not one trap nor in the rough.

Bert Hopper of Taylorville had 77 in practice, took 37 putts on, which helped him only to an 86.

"Chesterfield— that's it!"

Mild enough for anybody . . . and yet THEY SATISFY*

*THINK what that means: "Mild enough for anybody . . . and yet they satisfy!"

Mild—yes. But something more—a quality of leaf, a skill of blending, that brings out the natural taste and goodness of the tobaccos themselves.

Tobacco goodness, and without over-sweetening; mildness with character—that's the Chesterfield difference.

And it's the most important difference any cigarette could offer!

MY DANDY WINS CURTIS PURSE AT LINCOLN FIELDS

Republican Nominee Is Track Visitor.

BY FRENCH LANE.

They couldn't run fast enough to catch My Dandy in the Senator Charles Curtis purse at Lincoln Fields yesterday. The sprint sensation of the western turf made it seven victories out of his last eight starts when he rolled home a length in front of Blushing Maiden. Devon was a head back in third place.

Senator Curtis, the Republican candidate for Vice President, was one of the interested spectators. With a group of friends he recalled his boyhood when he was a jockey, riding in races on the western plains. He was entertained during the afternoon by Stuyvesant Peabody, president of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club.

My Dandy broke with the leaders and soon rushed into the lead. It was the same old story from there home. Those who tried to catch the fleet son of Porte Drapeau-Sceptre and Staff soon found themselves raced into exhaustion. They dropped back one after another, and while this was going on My Dandy was romping out in front and his jockey, Charley Allen, was looking back to the other boys yelling, "Come on!"

Has Checkered Career.

They staggered on, but always far away from My Dandy, and they were still staggering and trying to catch him as they went galloping past the finish line. It was one of the best fields My Dandy had ever beaten. His career has been rather checkered. He ran for $1,500 in a claiming race. Later he ran for $3,500 and was claimed, but because of a technicality the claim was not allowed.

The Reichert brothers, who own him, have turned a deaf ear to offers of $15,000 for him lately, and after his impressive performance in yesterday's event it is doubtful if $25,000 would buy him. However, My Dandy can hardly take rank with Happy Argo, Prince of Wales, and the great sprinters down east until he is tested under heavy weight. He is a 3 year old and only raced once as a 2 year old before he started piling up his brilliant record this season.

Because of the good field he mastered, the price against him was a little better than usual. He paid $5.86, in the $2. mutuels, there having been considerable support for Rothermel, Blushing Maiden, Canaan and old Jack Alexander.

Four Players Collect.

Except in the Lincolnshire Country Club purse, it had been a favorite players today. First choices were walking home nearly all the afternoon. But in the Lincolnshire, Poppyfield paying $35.04, was the winner in a desperate drive down the stretch from his older rivals, Martinique, from former Senator Camden's stable, and Minervis, from the barn of Stuyvesant Peabody.

It was the second start Poppyfield had made here. In his first effort against a band of 2 year olds, he made a show of his field and was the 6 to 5 favorite. But in the Lincolnshire he was meeting a band of older horses and wasn't given much consideration. Jockey M. Meyer took him to the front at the rise of the barrier and he was never headed. He gave an exhibition that stamped him as one of the real good 2 year olds in this section. He ran his six furlongs in 1:12 3-5.

TRINITY PLAYS TODAY.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Trinity High school of Bloomington plays its most important grid game of the schedule here tomorrow when it engages St. Viator's academy in the homecoming contest.

KICKERS TO PLAY MAJOR ROLE IN GRID CAMPAIGN

Coaches Scour Squads for Reliable Punters.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Reports from college football camps reveal that few coaches are overlooking the kicking end of the game.

Punting and field goal kicking always have been two of the striking features of football. Many a hard fought battle has been won by a well directed field goal, while punting not only has placed elevens within scoring distance, but it also has helped to keep the oval deep in opponents' territory.

Ever since he accepted the position of head football coach at Michigan in 1901, Fielding H. Yost has been a stickler for the kicking game, and Michigan has been represented by some great kickers. Among these were Sweeley, Garrells, Harry and Tom Hammond, Allerdice, Kipke, and Gilbert.

Grooms Draveling as Punter.

This season the veteran Maize and Blue coach has not the bright prospects of other years. He knows, through experience, a dependable punter will be a great asset. Consequently, Yost is devoting much of his time to teaching Leo Draveling, an end, the finer points of this important angle of football. According to reports from Ann Arbor, Draveling is a natural punter who needs just a little schooling in the art of getting his kicks away. Yost has so much faith in this player that he may be made a regular for his punting ability alone.

Dr. C. W. Spears of Minnesota, another coach who appreciates the value of the kicking game, is devoting a lot of his time to teaching Win Brockmeyer, a half back, how to get his efforts away. Brockmeyer is one of the fastest backs on the squad and will be a valuable player if he is entrusted with the punting. While in the kicker's position, the Gopher back can either run or kick. Coach Spears may also mould some forward pass plays around him. Reports have it that Brockmeyer has been lifting the ball for 40 and 50 yards in practice.

Ever since the days of Clarence Herschberger in the late nineties, Coach Stagg of Chicago has had good punters who have placed the team within scoring distance and then kept it out of danger by booting the oval deep in the enemy territory. This year Stagg has a fairly reliable kicker in Hugh Mendenhall, a half back.

Rockne Hunts Kicker.

Coach Robert Zuppke of Illinois is another firm believer in the kicking game and Zupp will have a reliable booter on this year's eleven. Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, although he has Niemiec back in harness, is hunting for another kicker. Efforts of Notre Dame players to score the extra point after touchdown by goal kick in last Saturday's game with Loyola were terrible. In both cases the ball was not raised six feet off the ground, and the direction was poor.

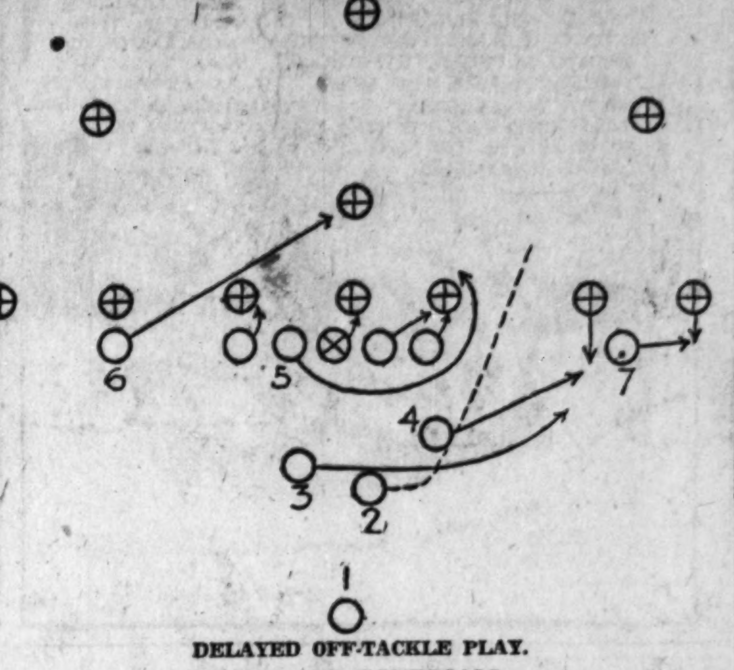
There is nothing in football which will discourage a team more than to have forty or fifty yards of hard earned ground taken away by one punt. When such a process is repeated a few times, the opponents will not respond with the same enthusiasm and sooner or later the ground gained in the exchanges will place the team which has the kicker in scoring positions.

BLOOMINGTON HIGH WINS.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Bloomington High school defeated Clinton High school today, 26-0. Leummy and Prothero, Bloomington half backs, scored the Bloomington points.

HOW TO PLAY FOOTBALL

DIAGRAM IV.



DELAYED OFF-TACKLE PLAY.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Offensive ends, 6 and 7, move out to draw defensive tackles with them. Back No. 1 drops back eight or ten yards as a threat. The ball is passed to No. 2 back, who delays until No. 3 back and his left guard have gotten into the interference. The offensive right end, No. 7, checks the defensive left end and No. 3 and No. 4 backs blocks the defensive left tackle. No. 2 back takes a step to right after receiving the ball and then drives off his right tackle.

This is one of the best plays in football. There is no reason why the play should not be good for at least five yards if the offensive players carry out their assignments. It requires blockers to stay with their opponents until they are out of the play. The No. 2 back who carries the ball must have plenty of drive, and he should lunge for the extra inches when about to be tackled. He never should be thrown back.

RUSSIANS' OIL NOW SABOT IN WORLD'S MACHINE

BY HARPER LEECH.

Reports that the big oil chiefs of the world are about to reach a common program of conservation, and will present a united front against Russian oil, bring sharply to attention the emergence into the world of a new form of commercial sabotage—a new species of "dumping."

Not being industrially developed to a point where home markets can consume the output of Russian oil fields, not in fact being able to transport its oil output over its own vast area, but being able to ship it out by pipe line and tank ship from Black sea ports, Russia has in its oil resources a means of acquiring cash and credit balances abroad and at the same time these exports can be made an instrument for demoralizing the oil trade of other countries.

Others at Disadvantage.

Oil companies in the United States and other countries, which have been developed by private capital, are constrained to pay their shareholders and creditors for the use of capital. Russia is under no such compulsions. Having expropriated the owners of Russian oil fields, having taken over their wells and pipe lines, Russia is in a position, other things being equal, to sell oil in foreign markets at less than other companies can sell it, by the amount saved in capital charges.

Of course, this is not such an advantage as it might seem at first sight.

In our domestic oil competition the solvent dividend paying producer and refiner has had to meet the competition of the bankrupt oil company selling its "distress" gasoline and other products. There have been years when this competition has been a ruling factor in the market. In coal we have a price level which is affected by the marginal producer, who is making no money and, in fact, selling his capital assets.

Hazards of the Game.

The fact that more capital probably has been sunk in American oil enterprises since 1859 than ever has been received by successful oil capital, indicates that on the whole private enterprise in America has produced oil for the consumer and let him have it, in the aggregate, below the actual cost of production.

Nevertheless, the Russian oil exports are an interesting instance of quasi capitalistic business methods, being turned into an anti-capitalistic revolutionary tactic.

Given the imagination of an H. G. Wells, one might write an interesting futuristic novel on that line. Needless to say, Marx, Kropotkin, Bakunin, and Sorel never visioned any such strategy.

The fly in the socialistic ointment—perhaps we should say vaseline, as we are discussing petroleum products—is very annoying.

As Food for Epigram.

In order to use capitalistic methods and capitalistic commercial competition to sabotage international capitalism, the Russians have been driven to organize their oil production and everything else on capitalistic lines. The result has been a good epigram from Henry L. Mencken—"Bolsheviki now playing at being bankers will be succeeded by bankers playing at being bolsheviks." Capitalism is contagious. To treat it surgically requires a golden knife, and the surgeon is bound to fall in love with his instrument.

BONDS ERRATIC, MOVING WITHIN NARROW LIMITS

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The bond list today generally fluctuated in a narrow groove. Barnsdall 6s with warrants again were a strong feature, soaring 5 points to a new high at 120 in heavy buying in sympathy with the strength of the stock. The 6s without warrants eased. Coppers were firm, Andes 7s gaining more than a point in good demand, while Anaconda 7s and 5s improved.

Seaboard Air Line 5s and Seaboard All-Florida 6s recovered about 2 points each, and Florida East Coast 5s rallied a point. St. Paul 5s, Rock Island refunding 4s, and Katy prior lien 4s eased. Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh 5s dropped 7⅝ points in a small turnover. Illinois Central 4⅜s were firm.

Simms Petroleum 6s, Standard of New Jersey 5s, and Standard of New York 4½s sagging. Utilities were generally steady. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s fluctuated more than 2 points in active trading, but closed unchanged. Consolidated Gas 5½s, however, encountered selling pressure.

Industrials generally sagged in dull trading. American Telephone issues and International Match 5s declined fractionally. Pressed Steel Car 5s were a strong point, gaining 1¾ points, and Cuba Cane Sugar 8s rallied more than a point. Dodge debenture 6s were again in demand.

Mr. Earl F. Potter, President of The Potter Company, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

BUSINESS: The Potter Company manufactures a complete line of by-pass condensers, filter condenser blocks and interference eliminator condensers for radio and industrial uses. Sales in the industrial field have been growing steadily and we expect continued expansion in this end of the business. Some of the more common uses are, viz.: A-B-C supply units, resistance amplifiers, loud speaker tone control, automatic ignition, circuit breakers, train control, thermostats, telephone and telegraph, electrical measuring instruments and power-factor correction. The offices and plant are situated at North Chicago, Ill.

EARNINGS: The business has earned a net profit in each year since its inception. Net sales and net earnings as reported by the Auditors for the three years ending April 30, 1928, after all charges including provision for Federal Income Taxes, have been as follows:

Year Ending April 30	1926	1927	1928
Net Sales	$299,075.88	$680,293.74	$1,001,353.33
Net Earnings	74,427.00	127,252.16	188,146.81
Earnings Per Share	1.48	2.53	3.73

Present indications are that the current year will be the most profitable in the history of the Company.

ASSETS: The audited balance sheet as of August 31, 1928, shows total assets of $382,093.43. Net assets amount to $295,871.86, equal to $5.87 per share outstanding. Our valuable good will and patents are carried at $1.00. Current assets amount to $218,628.64, and current liabilities amount to $86,221.57. Working capital is ample for present and prospective needs.

DIVIDEND: It is the intention of the Directors to authorize the payment of dividends at the rate of $1.75 per share per annum payable quarterly, January, April, July and October first.

Mr. R. O. Cunningham, President of the Company, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

HISTORY: The Allied Products Corporation has been organized under the laws of Illinois to acquire the entire businesses of the Indiana Lamp Corporation, Victor-Peninsular Company and Richard Bros. Die Works. These Companies started in business in 1910, 1917 and 1915, respectively.

PRODUCT: The Corporation manufactures all types of lamps for automobiles, including head lights, side lights and tail lights, at Connersville, Indiana, where it is also the exclusive producer of the Ilco-Ryan-Lite. Special dies, interchangeable dies and punches, cap screws, shackle bolts, etc., are manufactured at Detroit and Hillsdale, Mich. Approximately 80% of the company's products are taken by the automobile industry, and it numbers among its customers practically every manufacturer of motor cars and trucks.

ASSETS: With only nominal value given to patents, the pro forma balance sheet of the Corporation, as of March 31, 1928, adjusted to give effect to the present financing shows: Total net assets of $4,240,000, Net Current Assets of $1,200,000, Book Value of Class A Convertible Common Stock of over $84 per share.

CONVERTIBILITY: The Class A stock is convertible share for share into the Common stock of the Corporation at any time, at the option of the holder.

SALES AND EARNINGS: The net sales and net profits, after deducting all expenses, including Federal Taxes at present rates, but without absorbing any of the expenses of engineering and development, have been as follows:

Year Ended Dec. 31	Net Sales	Net Profits
1925	$4,108,442	$335,449
1926	4,676,845	418,058
1927	5,025,401	531,182
1928 for 3 months ended March 31	1,630,290	224,981

Six months' figures, without audit, show sales of $3,400,000 and profits of over $450,000.

* The annual average of such profits for the 3 years ended December 31, 1927, were at the rate of over $8.50 per share of Class A stock. For the year ended December 31, 1927, were over $10 per share and are estimated at over $15 per share for the year 1928.

The estimated earnings for the year 1928 indicate that over $8 per share will be earned on the Common Stock after deducting Class A dividends, and over $6 per share on the total of 125,000 shares of both Class A and Common stock to be outstanding.

MANAGEMENT: Those who have been responsible for the successful development and operation of this business in the past are to continue in the active management. The Bankers will have representation on the Board of Directors.

Appraisal and report by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc. Audits by Arthur Young & Co.

This offering is made in all respects when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel for the Bankers, Messrs. Good, Childs, Bobb & Wescott of Chicago and Messrs. Powell, Lowrie & Ruch of New York for the Company. It is expected that delivery in the first instance will be made in the form of temporary certificates on or about October 10, 1928. We reserve the right to reject any and all subscriptions in whole or in part.

Application will be made to list this stock on The Chicago Stock Exchange.

STOCK MARKET LOANS SHATTER PREVIOUS RECORD

Loans held by federal reserve member banks of New York for the account of stock brokers and bond dealers were $4,569,978,000 for the week ended Oct. 3. That registered a new high figure for all time, an increase of $45,270,000 over the preceding week. The previous high, registered on June 6, was exceeded by $3,000,000. The increase over the preceding week, however, compares with a gain of $14,232,000, established last week.

The member banks' loans for their own account were increased by $80,395,000 to $929,901,000. That plenty of funds for stock market purposes was available from smaller city banks is shown by an increase of $8,109,000, making $1,682,057,000 for that item. As to the account with others, mainly corporation surpluses, stock market loans decreased $43,229,000, the total of that item being $1,958,020,000.

Other Increases Shown.

For the twelve banks of the nation's reserve system, total bills and securities increased $63,281,000. Loans went up $15,152,000 and bills bought in the open market advanced $46,557,000. Gold reserves declined $16,367,000 and total reserves were down $19,683,000.

Total deposits showed a gain of $47,[illegible],000 and member bank reserves gained $31,741,000. Federal reserve notes in actual circulation increased $22,049,000 and the ratio of reserves to liabilities declined to 66.8 per cent from 68.5 per cent.

The report of the Federal Reserve bank of New York showed a decrease of $33,139,000 in total gold reserves, while total reserves were $35,262,000 lower. Loans advanced $16,277,000 and bills bought climbed $21,605,000. Total bills and securities increased $39,752,000. Total deposits went up $20,429,000 and notes in actual circulation were $4,328,000 higher. The ratio of reserves to liabilities stood at 63.3 per cent.

The Chicago bank increased its loans by $4,508,000, while bills bought advanced $3,820,000. Gold reserves declined $5,395,638 and total reserves were down $6,300,676. Total bills and securities increased $9,177,313. Federal reserve notes in actual circulation advanced $3,809,335. The member banks reserve account declined $3,889,968. The ratio of reserves to liabilities declined to 76.6 per cent from 77.9 per cent.

Warns of Car Shortage.

Addressing the fall convention of the Atlantic states shippers' advisory board in the east, W. G. Kendall of Washington, car service manager of the American Railway association, stated that, despite reports to the contrary, "the country today is actually nearer a car shortage than at any time during the last four years."

Box cars in particular, he said, are not equal to the demand in the west, due to bumper crops in that section. He reported a heavy demand in the west also for refrigerator cars for the transportation of perishable produce to the eastern markets. The convention, in discussing the report, regarded capacity loading of cars as the immediate solution of the problem. A motion was adopted recommending that this be done.

The Pennsylvania railroad system asked bids for 260,000 tons of steel rails for delivery in 1929. Announcement was made by T. B. Hamilton, vice president of the western region in Chicago, that the board of directors has authorized the purchase of this quantity, and that tenders are being requested from various steel companies. With the exception of the quantity authorized for purchase during the current year, amounting to 300,000 tons, the 1929 figures are the largest in the Pennsylvania railroad's history.

National Dairy Products corporation declared a stock dividend of four per cent on the common, payable in four quarterly installments of one per cent each. The first will be made on Jan. 2 to stock on record Dec. 5.

Australia Dock Workers Vote to Call Off Strike

ADELAIDE, Australia, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Striking waterside workers at a massmeeting today decided to go back to work under the award of the arbitration court, which provides for morning and afternoon hiring of dock laborers by the shipowners. The strike started when the dockers held out for only a morning "pickup."

Old Mine Bankruptcy Back in Federal Court

Chester W. Colgrove, 832 Argyle street, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District court yesterday, listing liabilities of $1,140,676 and assets of $250. According to Attorney George S. Pines, who filed the petition, Mr. Colgrove's liabilities are in connection with an old bankruptcy of mine properties in West Virginia and other states.

FUR ACTION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Best grades of Canadian badger advanced most today at the annual fall fur sale now going on here. They went up 20 per cent and sold to $51.50. Best colored Russian sables advanced ten per cent and sold to $265 each. Other sable was unchanged; top for beaver was $38, with Canadian and Alaskan skins unchanged. Western beaver declined ten per cent. Fisher with a top of $95 was unchanged. Dark mink, the best of which brought $26.50, also was unchanged. Other grades of mink off 20 per cent. Persian lamb sold to nine dollars; lamb to four dollars; caracul to $3.50 and shiraz to $1.25. The grand total to date is $2,650,000.

RAILROAD NOTES

A new type of car for helium and other volatile gases is being built by the General American Tank Car corporation for the aeronautical division of the navy. The car will have a capacity of 220,000 cubic feet gas.

Protest against amendment of the traffic ruling excluding their products from free icing in refrigerator cars supplied to other perishable products was entered before the interstate commerce commission meeting at the Hotel Sherman yesterday by the meat packers. The railroads contend that the ruling never intended such service for meat products shipped in less than carload lots, and that the new ruling is but an interpretation of the old.

Permission to take over and operate as part of its general system the railroads operated by seven of its subsidiary corporations was sought from the interstate commerce commission by the Great Northern railroad.

Erie railroad has requested the interstate commerce commission for authority to issue and guarantee $5,340,000 par value of 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates and use the proceeds to pay in par for new equipment purchased at cost of $6,739,586.

The interstate commerce commission has assigned for argument before it on Dec. 5 its anti-trust citation against Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and New York, Chicago and St. Loius railroads growing out of their purchase of control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad.

Chicago has moved a day nearer the southwest by freight, the Chicago Association of Commerce announced.

TOPICS OF FINANCE, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

The consolidation of Hygrade Food Products corporation with Allied Packers, Inc., now in process of reorganization, also will involve the Bronx Provision company, Chris Crozinger, Inc., of Brooklyn, and the Mohawk Provision company of Boston, it was learned yesterday. Combined gross revenues of the concerns involved will be in excess of $75,000,000 annually.

Trading in copper last week was the quietest in two months, Engineering and Mining Journal reports. Copper, lead, and zinc prices are virtually unchanged, while silver and tin are somewhat higher. September copper sales of 500,000,000 pounds established a new record.

Negotiations for the merger of nine western paint companies with aggregate assets of about $5,500,000 are about complete. Plants are located in San Francisco, Seattle, Los Angeles, Portland, Spokane, Tulsa, Youngstown, Milwaukee, and Indiana Harbor. The companies are California Paint company, Hill-Hubbell company, Jones & Dillingham, Rasmussen & Co., Seattle Paint company, Magner Brothers Paint company, Brininstool Paint company, Bradley-Wise Paint company, and the Technical Oil and Paint company.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s 1928 sales will be at least $330,000,000, due to a new policy of establishing retail stores throughout the country, Lessing J. Rosenwald, vice president, predicted yesterday at the opening of the new store in Richmond, Va.

The curb brokerage house of E. J. Rice & Co. becomes a member of the stock exchange through purchase of a seat by E. J. Rice for $425,000, it was announced. The stock exchange membership of Townsend Lawrence has been transferred to John C. Newsome for $425,000.

Woolworth company opened 23 new stores in September, making a total of 114 in 9 months, against 101 in all of last year. The company plans to open a total of 140 stores by Jan. 1.

J. J. Lyng, apparatus development engineer of the Bell Telephone laboratories, has been made vice president of the Electrical Research Products, Inc., in charge of engineering and technical development, according to an announcement made by the Western Electric company.

Chrysler Corporation of Canada has bought 67 acres between Ford City and Walkerville, Ontario, as the site of a $1,500,000 automobile plant.

Packard Motor Car company in the last nine months shipped 37,033 cars, against 24,124 in the same 1927 period, an increase of 53 per cent.

The recently organized National Metal exchange of New York will open for trading in November, Erwin Vogelsang, president, announced. Trading at first will be confined to tin futures.

The second expansion program this year for Isaac Silver & Brothers company is planned for the near future, according to report from company officials. This program includes the addition of new stores in the metropolitan area of New York and other sections of the east.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Financing through real estate bonds, debentures, collateral trust obligations, and land trust certificates totaled $63,927,350 in September, a gain of 23 per cent over the same month a year ago, and 69 per cent over August, S. W. Straus & Co. reports.

The gold exports for the week ended Oct. 3 totaled $2,194,000, of which Italy received $2,031,000. Imports were $82,000.

During the last week Barnsdall corporation has retired over $1,000,000 of the outstanding debenture bonds.

A. C. Allyn & Co., Inc.; Spencer Trask & Co., and G. E. Barrett & Co., Inc., are offering a new issue of $5,000,000 American Community Power company, secured gold debentures, 5½ per cent, series due 1953, priced at 94½ and accrued interest to yield over 5.90 per cent.

The New York Federal Reserve bank made no change in its discount rate of 5 per cent.

The Reichsbank acquired 61,160,000 marks in gold in the last week of September, mainly from London, making the bank's total increase during the month 140,000,000 marks. Combined circulation of the Reichsbank Rentenbank notes at the close of September was 5,400,000,000 marks, a record since stabilization.

COTTON ESTIMATES LOWER

Estimates on the cotton crop are being reduced ranging down to 13,960,000 bales by one Memphis authority, against 14,484,000 bales a month ago. Average of the private crop reports so far is for 14,200,000 bales. Uncertainty as to the showing by the government report next Monday is keeping the trade narrow and brings good selling on all bulges.

On breaks there is fair absorption, but the day's price range is comparatively narrow and net changes small, futures in Chicago being unchanged to 10 points lower, while other markets were 6 to 12 points lower. Spots in New York lost 10 points to 19.25, with New Orleans off 5 points to 18.60c, while Houston was 18.55c, and Galveston 18.75c. Liverpool had surprising strength with net gains of 10 and 11 points and spot sales of 8,000 bales.

Weather was more unsettled in the eastern belt with the central and western belt having partly cloudy weather with predictions of showers. News from trade circles was without material change. Prices follow:

When military genius developed the staff system of control in major operations it provided industry with a management principle of far-reaching importance—that of direction through specialists with authority and responsibility.

This is the principle that underlies the Divisional Organization of the First National Bank. At the head of each of its six Divisions, covering every line of commerce and industry, are two vice presidents—specialists in the financial problems of the related lines of business allotted to their care.

These men are expert not only in the tactical problems of day to day financing, but in the larger, more difficult problems of financial strategy so important in the successful operations of a business over a long period of years.

With the counsel and guidance of these men, you will have at your disposal, in addition to their expert knowledge, the full facilities of this bank which for sixty-five years has been an important factor in the commercial and industrial development of the entire Middle West.

Continental Baking.

N. N. E.—Continental Baking corporation reported a balance of $5,569,560 available for dividends on its own stocks for 1927, as compared with $6,546,724 for 1926.

Leaving out from the 1927 income $649,855 received from the sale of capital assets, the earnings per share were $10.55 on the preferred, $4.76 on the class A common, and nothing on the class B common in that year.

This compares with $12.62 per share on the preferred, $8.41 per share on the class A, and 6 cents per share on the class B common in 1926.

Surplus for the year was $881,809 in 1927, against $121,370 in 1926.

Current assets were $9,187,086 and current liabilities $3,747,940 at the end of 1927.

This left net working capital of $5,439,146, which compares with $10,667,183 at the end of 1926.

Net profits for the 25 weeks ended June 23, 1928, were $2,084,551, as compared with $2,536,516 for the equivalent period of 1927.

Earned surplus stood at $3,027,620 on June 23, 1928, against $3,822,546 on June 18, 1927.

Net working capital on June 23, 1928, amounted to $6,588,531, comparing with $10,185,099 on June 18, 1927.

No dividends have been paid on class A common stock since January 3, 1928, and none at all on class B common.

The preferred stock deserves just a fair rating at present.

The class A common is a speculation and the class B a mere speculation.

All of these Debentures have been sold.

Mr. Simon F. Rothschild, President of the Company, has furnished the following information regarding the business of the Company and this issue of its Debentures:

"The Abraham & Straus store, now the largest department store in Brooklyn, is the outgrowth of a business founded over 60 years ago. The present management has been associated with the business for the past 35 years.

In order to meet the expanding needs of the business, it is proposed to erect, in successive units, an entire new modern store building, the major portion of which will be on leased land, the lease of which is about to be extended and its terms modified, among other things, to increase the rental and to give the Company an option to purchase. The first unit, of eight stories and two basements, will cover about 40% of the store's present ground area, and with equipment and fixtures is estimated to cost about $7,450,000. The proceeds of the present issue of Debentures will be used toward defraying part of this cost, and it is expected that the balance necessary will be supplied by the Company out of accumulated earnings.

The net sales, and the consolidated net profits after depreciation but before deducting Federal income taxes, as certified by Messrs. Touche, Niven & Co., Public Accountants, were as follows:

Years Ended January 31,	Net Sales	Net Profits As Above	Times Int. Req. on This Issue
1926	$24,382,925	$1,398,303	4.93
1927	25,226,520	1,681,332	5.93
1928	25,571,149	1,780,968	6.28

For the six months ended July 31, 1928 of the current fiscal year, net profits as shown by the Company's books were substantially in excess of the net profits for the corresponding period of 1927.

The certified consolidated balance sheet as of January 31, 1928 giving effect, as of that date, to the sale of these Debentures shows net assets, after deducting reserves and all liabilities other than this issue, of $15,571,563, or over $3000 per $1000 principal amount of these Debentures; and current assets of $13,808,331 comparing with current liabilities of $1,187,722."

The above summary is subject to a fuller description of the Company and its building program set forth in the offering circular, copies of which may be had upon request

The Company has agreed to make application to list these Debentures on the New York Stock Exchange

Price 101 and accrued interest, to yield 5.40%

A part of the above $5,150,000 Debentures is being reserved for sale to stockholders

This offering is made in all respects when, as and if issued, and delivered to and accepted by us and subject to the approval of our counsel. We reserve the right to reject any and all subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. It is expected that delivery of temporary Debentures or of interim receipts will be made on or about November 12, 1928, at the office of Lehman Brothers, 16 William Street, New York, N. Y., against payment therefor in New York funds.

The Inland Telephone Company

First Lien Six Per Cent Gold Bonds, Series A

Dated October 1st, 1928 Due October 1st, 1948

Refund of state property taxes not exceeding six-tenths of one per cent of the principal per annum and state income taxes not exceeding six per cent of the interest upon timely and proper application, as provided in the Trust Agreement. Redeemable at any time as a whole or in part upon thirty days' published notice to and including October 1st, 1932, at 105 and accrued interest; thereafter, to and including October 1st, 1936, at 103 and accrued interest; thereafter, to and including October 1st, 1940, at 102 and accrued interest; thereafter, to and including April 1st, 1948, at 101 and accrued interest; thereafter at par and accrued interest. Central Trust Company of Illinois, Trustee.

The following has been summarized by the President of the Company from his letter to P. W. Chapman & Co., Inc.:

Business: The Inland Telephone Company, organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, owns or controls twenty-six subsidiaries which operate a general telephone business in the States of Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Pennsylvania. The system of The Inland Telephone Company includes sixty-one telephone exchanges providing service to 19,882 stations. The subsidiaries in each state are so grouped as to provide an interchange of toll service, and satisfactory traffic arrangements with the Bell System and other telephone systems afford nationwide service.

Security: These First Lien Gold Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be a direct and primary obligation of The Inland Telephone Company and will constitute its only funded debt, and in addition thereto will be secured by deposit with the Trustee of at least 97 per cent of the outstanding capital stock (except qualifying shares) of all the subsidiaries in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ohio and 93 per cent of the outstanding capital stock (except qualifying shares) of the Pennsylvania subsidiary.

These bonds represent less than a 38 per cent loan, based on a depreciated valuation of the properties by independent engineers of over $2,790,000.

Earnings: Consolidated earnings of the properties for the twelve months ended July 31st, 1928, are reported as follows:

Gross Revenue	$479,301.17
Operating Expenses*, Maintenance and Taxes (excluding Federal Income Tax)	286,067.90
Balance	$193,233.27
Annual Interest Charges on Company's Entire Funded Debt (this issue)	$ 63,000.00

*Includes $1,462.20 representing earnings applicable to minority stock interest.

Earnings, as shown above, are over three times the annual interest requirements of the total outstanding funded indebtedness of the Company.

Management: The management of the properties is in the hands of men whose long and varied experience in the field of telephone service assures the most efficient operation of the properties and further development of the business. All of the common stock of The Inland Telephone Company is owned by the Community Telephone Company, which, through its subsidiaries, supplies telephone service to a population in excess of 270,000.

These bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Chapman and Cutler.

STEEL STOCKS ARE AMONG DAY'S MARKET LEADERS

YESTERDAY'S AVERAGES

	High.	Low.	Last.	Net chge.
25 railroads	123.94	122.92	123.26	— .38
25 industrials	285.24	281.91	283.77	+1.30
50 stocks	204.59	202.41	203.51	+ .46

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Speculation for the rise held undisputed sway in today's stock market. Prices opened 1@4 points higher in the more active issues, and with the exception of a brief selling flurry occasioned by a somewhat pessimistic review of conditions and prospects by John J. Raskob, chairman of the national Democratic committee, moved steadily forward.

Gains of from 2 to more than 8 points were accumulated by a long list of favored stocks. Trading was in heavy volume for most of the session, the turnover totaling 4,318,000 shares.

Conditions in the credit market provided stimulus for the advance. The call rate was dropped from the renewal of 7½ per cent to 6½ per cent, and even at this figure the supply exceeded the demand and funds were to be had outside the stock exchange as low as 6 per cent. Time loans were available in substantial amounts at yesterday's rates.

New Peak for Chrysler.

Sensational dealings in Chrysler, which rose to a new peak; General Motors, Packard, which made a net gain of 1⅝ points; Mack Truck and other issues were a feature of the session. Steel shares came in for a good deal of attention, steel common rising close to its peak and many industrial specialties, among them Victor Talking Machine, which rose to a new record high; National Cash Register and a number of other popular vehicles were vigorously supported.

An overnight accumulation of buying orders gave the list a spectacular sendoff, opening transactions involving blocks of as much as five, eight, and ten thousand shares. The turnover in the first hour exceeded a million shares. Evidence of the operations of powerful buying interests was seen in many sections of the list and prices of the leaders moved ahead briskly. Then came the Raskob statement in which the former chairman of the General Motors finance committee insisted that security prices have so far outrun their demonstrated values that "a material readjustment is necessary" before they can become attractive for investment, and prices wavered for a brief interval. By the middle of the afternoon, however, the trend was definitely upward again, under the leadership of General Motors.

Fisher Interests Active.

Fisher interests were reported to be particularly active in the afternoon, devoting their principal attention to Briggs Manufacturing, which mounted to record levels at 60, up 4⅝ points. Buying of this stock drew attention to some optimistic forecasts regarding the company's business. In order to meet the demand for larger production by Ford and Chrysler, Briggs has purchased several woodwork plants in the south and has just opened a new plant in Cleveland.

Victor Talking Machine soared to new high ground at 119½, up 6¾ points from Wednesday's final—largely on expectation of an unprecedented volume of Christmas season for the company. The stock closed at 116, up 3¼. Another spectacular advance was that of International Nickel, which went to 135¼, the highest price in its history, and an advance of some 5 points from the previous close.

SHARES OF AUTO BUILDERS LEAD IN CURB MARKET

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Curb market developed strength throughout the list today. Automotive shares were prominent in the upward trend.

Marmon Motor shot up more than 7 points to a new top at 59½, while Checker Cab again extended its gain by 2 points and Bendix B added nearly 5 points to its recent gains. Oakes Products issues went ahead about 7 points each and Auburn Auto gained 4 points, but fell more than 5 toward the close. Galesburg Coulter Disc was a feature of the industrials, soaring 9 points to a new top at 92, while Columbia Graphophone mounted 5 points to a new top at 99 in buying in expectation of another stock dividend. Cuneo Press, Golden State Milk, Hygrade Food, Krueger & Toll, Neisner Brothers, Nichols & Shepherd, Ross Gear and Tool, Williams Oil Heating, and Swedish American Investment went ahead 2@6 points to new levels. Zenith led the radio shares with a spurt of 11 points to 121, a new top. Oils were firmer. Barnsdall debenture rights sold up nearly 4 points to 14⅝ in sympathy with strength of the stock on the "big board." Standards were mostly steady, although Ohio encountered realizing. Mines were heavy, Newmont and Noranda sagging.

Utilities were irregular. American Light and Traction rallied 4 points. United Gas Improvement overcame early weakness and made a gain of more than a point. Electric Bond and Share, however, fell more than 2 points.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)COTTON GOODS—In the gray are less active, but prices are holding about steady. The near approach of another government report and a need for rest following large purchases last month are given as causes for lighter buying. Fine goods are firmer and some combed goods are distinctly higher. Raw silk continued to advance in Yokohama markets, where sales are of moderate volume. More buying has been done locally. Continued activity in spot goods for cutting into garments and clothing was reported in the wool goods division. Burlaps were slightly easier in Calcutta.

CORN, WHEAT AND OATS ADVANCE; TRADING ACTIVE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A bull market was on in gains with corn in the lead, the March and May deliveries of corn selling at a new high on the crop. The finish was well toward the top. Wheat gained ¾@1c; corn, 1⅝@1⅞c; oats, ⅝c and rye, 1⅝@2c for the day. Winnipeg wheat showed independent strength and closed 1⅛@2⅛c higher with October leading, the latter being 1⅝c over Chicago at the last.

There was no material pressure on the wheat market from the start. While trade was not large, there was rather persistent buying in small lots by commission houses which absorbed the surplus in the pit. Later the pronounced strength in Winnipeg October wheat brought locals in as good buyers. At the top at Winnipeg for October was up 3c from Wednesday's close.

Liverpool wheat closed 1⅛d higher to ⅛d lower, the former on October. India bought a cargo of Australian wheat on Wednesday and Broomhall's Australian agent estimates the crop of that country at 152,000,000 bu, against 109,000,000 bu last year and 164,000,000 bu in 1926. Export demand at the American seaboard was fair, with sales of around 300,000 bu in all positions. Rain is needed for the newly sown wheat in Kansas, with 60@75 per cent of the work already completed.

Larger Trade in Corn.

Outside trade in corn is steadily enlarging. There was general commission house and local buying, which found offerings light at times. Sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the bulge. A leading local operator was credited with having bought freely, covering shorts. There were further export sales at the seaboard, while the local spot basis was ½@2½c higher, with No. 2 yellow selling at $1.03. An Iowa industry is shipping around 125,000 bu No. 2 mixed corn from Chicago to its plant and local stocks are expected to show a good reduction for the week. Charters were made for 300,000 bu to Georgian Bay at 2½c per bu. Buenos Aires closed unchanged on October at 94c, while February was ½c higher at 94½c.

Strength in corn had considerable influence on oats. Cash interests and locals were on the selling side, while commission houses bought. Rye was strong, with commission houses good buyers, and there was also buying of rye against sales of wheat. Export demand was slow.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

A fair export business was put through in wheat and corn at the seaboard, but figures were not given. Wednesday's sales of corn were placed at 500,000 to 600,000 bu. Local handlers sold 15,000 bu wheat, 93,000 bu corn, 58,000 bu oats, and 20,000 bu barley to the domestic trade. Purchases of 235,000 bu new corn were made to arrive. Deliveries on October contracts were 12,000 bu corn.

LARD TRADE LIMITED

Interest in the provision trade in general was about as light as ever known, there being nothing done in future until well along toward noon. Then a few orders were executed. Packers have their lines placed for December with speculative carrying the hedges. Hogs were in lighter supply at western points than a week and a year ago, and prices steady. Yet there were plenty for the trade. At the finish October lard was 12½c higher, and other futures unchanged to 2½c higher. Liverpool was 3d higher for spot, and unchanged for futures. Exports were 602,610 lbs.

Nothing was done in ribs and they closed unchanged, while a few traders were on in October bellies with a net gain of 5c. Cash trade in general was light. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Corn traders are predicting higher prices. One large local operator was credited with buying a big line of December. Operators who bought corn a few days ago in many instances have taken profits and the market was more nearly evened up at the close yesterday than for a long time. The disposition is to buy on all weak spots. Heavy sales were made on the bulge above 82c. Top prices show an advance of around 10½c from the recent low point, but many people in the trade believe that corn is headed for a higher level of values.

An Indiana farmer and speculator advances the belief that December corn should sell around 85c as the right price to give the farmer a little money. Farmers are buying cattle to feed and he does not believe there will be very low prices at any time, as consumption will be heavy

BUSINESS: Mapes Consolidated Manufacturing Company, incorporated in 1925, is the only concern in the world manufacturing the "Holed-tite" cup flats used in packing eggs for shipment, which are generally recognized as superior to all other packing material for the prevention of egg breakage. Because of the great advantages of this method of packing, the Company's production has grown very rapidly and during the first eight months of 1928, the total output was at the rate of 198% of the corresponding period of 1927. The Company owns two modern factories located at Griffith, Indiana and North Kansas City, Missouri, conveniently located near ample supplies of cheap raw material, from which "Holed-tite" egg flats are distributed throughout the United States and several foreign countries by several large manufacturers of egg shippers' supplies which collectively distribute about 80% of the egg case fillers of the United States.

MANAGEMENT: The management of the Company, which continues as heretofore, is in the hands of the men responsible for its successful growth. Included among the large stockholders are interests identified with the largest egg case filler manufacturers of the country which have contracted to obtain their entire requirements of cup flats from the Mapes Company for a ten year period.

EARNINGS: $700,000 preferred stock issued in 1925 has since been entirely retired from earnings. Net earnings applicable to dividends, as certified by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., Certified Public Accountants, have grown as follows:

Year	Earned per share of capital stock, after all charges and taxes
1926	$1.80
1927	2.28
1928 (8 months to August 31st)	3.77*

*Owing to the seasonal nature of the Company's business the remaining last four months of the year are not expected materially to increase the net earnings available for dividends.

FINANCIAL: The Company has no funded debt, bank loans or commercial paper outstanding, and although redemption of preferred stock was completed July 1, 1928 without recourse to financing, the Company's balance sheet as of August 31, 1928, certified by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., shows cash on hand in excess of all liabilities.

The stock now offered has been purchased from individuals and does not represent any financing on the part of the company.

Price: $32.50 per Share

Subscriptions having been received in excess of the number of shares available, all this stock has been sold, when, as, and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of Messrs. Dent, Dobyns and Freeman, counsel for the bankers and Messrs. Townley, Wild, Campbell & Clark for the Company.

Declines in cattle and lambs were checked after a slow opening yesterday, while strength was noted in hogs. Shipping demand for hogs was largest in five weeks for Thursday and with small local packers carrying more urgent orders, tendency in good grades was higher at the close.

Extreme top and general average prices were unchanged at $11.30 and $10.55, respectively, being the same as on the preceding two days this week. Uneven advances at leading western markets added tone to the late trade and some of the 8,000 hogs in the pens at the close were held off of the market.

Cattle Prices Recover.

The break in cattle prices ended yesterday, $2.00@2.50 below a month ago, with losses in four days amounting to 50c@$1. Feeders are holding back top notchers until the market has had time to recover some of the recent loss. Best available yesterday sold at $17.40, averaging 1,102 lbs, with few above $16.00. Bulk of beef steers sold at $12.00@15.75, against $13.75@17.75 a week earlier. Little change was noted in butcher stock. Calves broke fully 50c. More activity strengthened prices in the feeder division.

Sheep Receipts Large.

Despite the fact that sheep receipts this week promise to total largest since October, 1926, salesmen succeeded in blocking the downward swing of prices and held bulk of business in line with the previous session after a weak start. Slight losses early in the session brought top prices equal to the lowest of the year. Natives stopped at $13.00, with several large bands of westerns late at $13.25. Selected feeders reached $13.50.

First Mortgage Fee 6% Serial Gold Bonds
Dated July 15, 1928
Due Serially 1931-1938
Principal and semi-annual interest payable January 15th and July 15th at the office of the Central Trust Company of Illinois, Chicago, Trustee. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1000, $500, $100 registerable as to principal. Bonds redeemable as a whole or in part on 70 days' notice on any interest date at the following prices plus accrued interest: at 102 on or before July 15, 1933; at 101 thereafter and on or before July 15, 1936; and at 100½ thereafter and prior to maturity.
Title guaranteed by the Chicago Title & Trust Company.
The Central Trust Company of Illinois, Chicago, Trustee

Security. The bonds are the direct obligation of the 5240 Sheridan Road Building Corporation and are secured by a closed first mortgage on land 150 x 150 feet owned in fee, and the 12 story apartment building now under construction thereon, at 5240 Sheridan Road, Chicago. The building will be of reinforced concrete fireproof construction and will contain 220 apartments of two, two and a half and three rooms each. The building in its entirety will be of the most modern arrangement, finish and appointment.

Location. The building in its location fronting east on Sheridan Road, one half block south of the Edgewater Beach Hotel, has an unobstructed view of Lake Michigan over the beautiful grounds of the Saddle & Cycle Club. This section along the Lake Shore on the North Side with its fashionable hotels and apartments is one of the best known and finest residential districts in the country.

Valuation. Land and building when completed, have been independently appraised at $375,000 and $1,979,400 respectively, making a total valuation of $2,354,400. This loan is therefore only 59% of the appraised value of the property.

Earnings. The estimated net annual earnings, with 10% allowance for vacancies, will be $253,202—over three times the maximum interest charge and over twice the combined maximum interest and principal requirement.

Ownership. The bonds are the direct obligation of the 5240 Sheridan Road Building Corporation, whose principal stockholders are Mr. Milton S. Plotke and Mr. Jacob Grosby. These men have long been identified with some of Chicago's most successful building projects and are well known as men of the highest moral and financial standing.

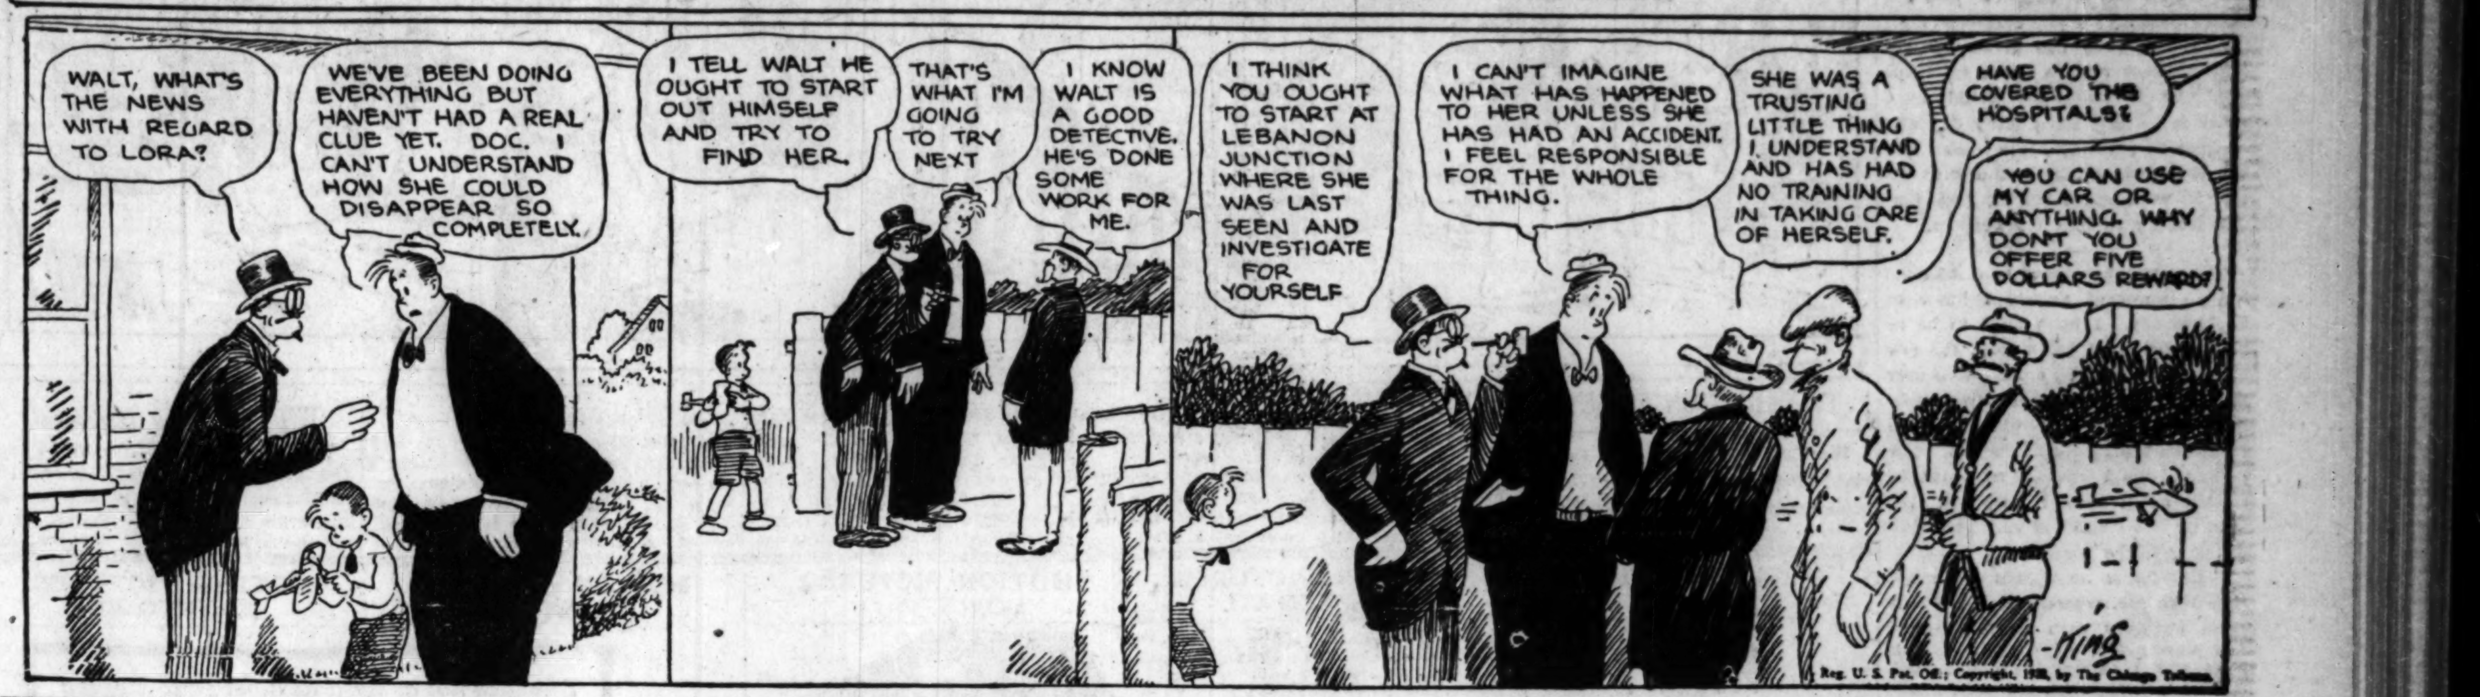
GASOLINE ALLEY—THE ALLEY HAS TAKEN THE CASE



WALT, WHAT'S THE NEWS WITH REGARD TO LORA?
WE'VE BEEN DOING EVERYTHING BUT HAVEN'T HAD A REAL CLUE YET. DOC. I CAN'T UNDERSTAND HOW SHE COULD DISAPPEAR SO COMPLETELY.
I TELL WALT HE OUGHT TO START OUT HIMSELF AND TRY TO FIND HER.
THAT'S WHAT I'M GOING TO TRY NEXT
I KNOW WALT IS A GOOD DETECTIVE. HE'S DONE SOME WORK FOR ME.
I THINK YOU OUGHT TO START AT LEBANON JUNCTION WHERE SHE WAS LAST SEEN AND INVESTIGATE FOR YOURSELF
I CAN'T IMAGINE WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO HER UNLESS SHE HAS HAD AN ACCIDENT. I FEEL RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WHOLE THING.
SHE WAS A TRUSTING LITTLE THING I UNDERSTAND AND HAS HAD NO TRAINING IN TAKING CARE OF HERSELF.
HAVE YOU COVERED THE HOSPITALS?
YOU CAN USE MY CAR OR ANYTHING. WHY DON'T YOU OFFER FIVE DOLLARS REWARD?

NIGHTMARE

By GERALD MYGATT

SYNOPSIS.

Patricia Shane is being entertained in one of New York's night clubs by Fanning Eddgar. She is annoyed by the insulting stare of a hawk-nosed man on the opposite side of the room. At the table with the Hawk are a blonde, coarse looking woman and a slight young man who appears to be drunk. The head waiter calls young Eddgar away from his table on a pretext, and as soon as he is gone the Hawk approaches Patricia and tries to engage her in conversation. He is interrupted by a good looking young chap who orders him back to his place. The newcomer introduces himself as Jimmie Kirklin. Patricia tells Kirklin that she thinks the hawk-nosed person has asked the head waiter to get rid of her escort. A fight ensues and Fanning Eddgar walks out on it. He pays the head waiter to restore order and Patricia introduces Kirklin to him and then asks Fanning to take her home. A few minutes later, as Kirklin leaves the place with his companion he is followed by a man on the street who appears to be drunk.

The hawk-nosed person, known as Bart Stoman, after taking the blonde woman home, makes for his secret hide-out and there goes over a number of old newspaper clippings dealing with the disappearance of the fourteen year old daughter of Col. La Verry, who offers a million dollars' reward for the safe return of the girl. Stoman gloats over the fact that the pictures of Sylvia La Verry resemble the girl he saw in the cabaret with Fanning Eddgar, except for a red birthmark shown in the pictures.

The next day, which is Saturday, Patricia and Jimmie spend the afternoon together and Patricia takes the evening train home to Far Harbor, Long Island, after Jimmie promises to come to Far Harbor on Monday. Patricia is followed to Far Harbor by the man who shadowed Jimmie when he left the night club.

INSTALLMENT XVII.

PATRICIA KILLS TIME.

Patricia plowed out of the warm shallows at the edge of the beach and ran into the bathhouse. There she took down a yellow slicker from the peg upon which she had hung it, flung the stiff garment about her and started off at a trot along the waterside path which led to the four room cottage belonging to that four-square fisherman, Tim Shane.

As she ran it was in her thoughts to tell him about the pallid faced stranger with his queer line of talk and his apparent alcoholic affinity for old Cap'n Ben. But as she slowed up, as she always did, where the path crossed the rubbish heap at the coal company's dock, she suddenly changed her mind.

An instinct told her that her father might not see the humor in the little man's persistent attempts at conversation with her, any more than he would see the humor in any one's taking advantage of Cap'n Ben's widely celebrated affinity. It was as likely as not that Tim Shane would start something, make a fuss, perhaps even make a mess. He was just like all other men. Once get them started and they took the bit in their teeth—no stopping them short of a smash. No . . . better not say anything to dad. Not just now, anyway.

Timothy Shane rose hastily from the radio set upon which he had been doing his daily tinkering and welcomed her with a hearty kiss. A big man, rugged and white haired, his blue eyes sparkled with good humor and that other more important thing which is the basis of all humor, a zest for life. He looked at his daughter with fond eyes. "You're gettin' browned up already, Pat," he said. "Had enough of the water for this morning?"

"Then You Aren't Coming Out Sailing with Me?"

"Just about, Dad. I only wanted a dip and a couple of dives. I'll take my real swim at high tide this afternoon."

"Then you aren't coming out sailing with me?"

"Why, Dad I told you——"

"O, yes—yes, yes—your boy. I forgot about him for a minute. You see, I guess I'm a selfish old man when you're down here with me, Pat. I'm so accustomed to havin' you to myself—well, that's that. And now it's a boy. You say he's comin' on the 'bus, honey?"

"Yes, the three-twenty."

"Well, you'll have a fine swim. I hope he's a fine boy, Pat. The tide's at flood then, honey. You'll have a fine, brave swim. And on the way home I'll pick up some clams for steamin'. He'll be to dinner?"

"Of course, Dad."

"Well, well, that's fine. I like to have good boys to dinner." He smiled, a little wistfully.

"You peach," whispered Patricia and hugged him. "What gang are you taking out today, Dad?"

"People from Stebbin's boarding house." Then he added, as if defensively, "They're payin' me twelve dollars." Abruptly he pulled from his waistcoat pocket a huge silver watch. "Holy mackerel!" he mumbled. "They'll have been waitin' at the wharf these ten minutes."

Patricia flung her arms ardently about her father's grizzled neck. She closed her eyes and held them so, and she thought a thought that was half a prayer: "He's got to like him, he's got to like him. O, he's got to!"

Ten minutes later a shapeless and temporarily abandoned one-piece bathing suit lay damp and limp upon the otherwise spotless floor of Patricia Shane's tiny chintz-hung bedroom. Soft, cool garments—a pink thing or two, a pair of white silk stockings, a crisp blue linen middy dress—were in process of being climbed into. It was at this moment, specifically the moment when she held the middy dress poised bell-fashion overhead, that Patricia was seized with the knowledge that before she did another blessed thing she simply and absolutely must wash her hair. Women can explain the mental process of this hair-washing seizure; they can explain it, almost coherently, to one another, but not to any man.

Patricia put on the dress with breathless haste, slipped into the rubber-soled white buckskin oxfords which had cost her a half week's pay, hurriedly coiled the tawny and glistening corpus delicti about her head and darted out to the drug store to buy a bottle of liquid shampoo.

An hour afterward she was sitting blissfully upon the beach, now and then fluffing out the mass of golden strands which hung about her shoulder so radiantly, now and then tossing the whole business backward with that unmistakable feminine shake of the head which denotes a complete and utter satisfaction with that most sacred of all woman's rights, the right to halt the wheels of time, of progress and of civilization while she washes—and then dries—her crowning glory.

Patricia hummed happily to herself. With an unquenchable good will toward all men and their varied works she beamed at the stretch of fair blue water which sparkled before her eyes.

She tossed her hair backward again, realized abruptly that she was hungry, wolf-hungry with the appetite of a healthy young animal. She jumped to her feet. First she would make herself a luncheon—just a snack because it was only eleven o'clock—and then she would hike up the beach, as she did every year, to pick up the threads of her ancient acquaintance with old Uncle Ephraim Williams Pawlett, for forty years keeper of the Petawket Point light. That was only three miles. She could make it each way in fifty minutes, and still have loads of time to meet Jimmy at the three-twenty 'bus. Anyway she wanted to be doing something; something, anything.

It was still before noon when she found herself walking up the familiar beach, picking her way now and then among pools of tepid salt water left there as security by the dawn's high tide. Never in her life, Patricia mused, had she been so thoroughly content. Even aside from Jimmy and the knowledge of Jimmy's coming. Just to loaf this way, to loaf and do nothing, to wander along between the friendly dunes and the even friendlier blue waters of her beloved Long Island Sound—that was heavenly. It was more than heavenly; it was heaven. To be alone, with no earthly possibility of having her ears greeted with that mechanical, inevitable, "Take a letter, please, Miss Shane;" to be alone, away from men and their businesslike commands, away from men and their even more businesslike—though somewhat camouflaged—approaches; ah, it was even more satisfactory than that. Something heavenly! It was life.

"The life of Reilly," she giggled aloud, though she didn't quite know what the old expression meant. "Well, the Shanes and the Reillys must be some sort of kin." There came to her now the lilt of an Irish verse which her father had been wont to intone to her at times of warm content, way back in her tiny-girlhood. Gravely but with a far away smile she proceeded to recite it:

And dream, with me features a'scorchin',
That when I'm too old for more fun
I'll marry a girl with a fortune.
I haven't a genius for work—
It isn't a gift of the Bradys—
But I'd make a most elegant Turk.
For I'm fond of tobacco and ladies."

She flung out her arms, danced a light step or two and pirouetted gaily with a whirl of her blue skirt. She was Patricia Shane, a girl, and she had met Jimmy Kirklin, a boy; and her heart was telling her and telling her the dear thing which even her head, wise as it was, could not effectively deny—that he was her Jimmy, her very own Jimmy, and that he was going to be her Jimmy all the rest of their lives.

'Mme. Butterfly' Given as Opera of Gentle Tints

English Version Reflects Japan; Pleases Critic.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"Madame Butterfly," the second item in the series that the American Opera company is presenting at the Erlanger theater, is a production in miniature. Or perhaps it would be more accurate to say that it is done in Japanese water colors rather than Italian oils.

Wherefore its effects create themselves through the medium of delicacy rather than smash, graceful turn rather than intense blaze of color. As the sliding doors are drawn aside—the curtain does not raise in this performance—your first impression is that this "Madame Butterfly" runs about a third to a half as noisy as any other "Madame Butterfly" in any theater in the world

Then you begin to discover, perhaps to your amazement, that though fortissimos have been thrown into the discard, the contrasts of light and shade have been so skillfully applied that the piece is just as poignant as it ever has been, and perhaps a little more ingratiating.

If ever an artist took thought to Mr. Rosing's theory of tying musical rhythm to physical expression, it is Cecile Sherman, who sang the Cho-Cho-San last night. That the surge and fall of music could be reflected by bodily movement, thereby making both good acting and more expressive music is, one would think, an amazingly simple idea, but it would seem to have occurred to few outside of ballet directors. On the face of it, it sounds uncommonly artificial, and like all other good art it is, but at the same time it is amazingly effecting and not in the least destructive of natural and lovely expression.

Miss Sherman is the theory's best possible proof. Her small and graceful body, her light and exquisite voice, transmitted more details of the emotions that swept the career of Cho-Cho-San than I, for one, have ever observed before. In fact with her and a few more like her, Mr. Rosing will be able to revolutionize another favorite operatic theory, to the effect that only broad dramatic effects are possible in opera. For in this company they are doing subtle things and getting them across the footlights.

For that matter, it was a balanced, and therefore a good performance all the way through. Charles Hedley as Pinkerton was perhaps not quite grown up vocally, but in first rate command of his present development, and entirely frank and persuasive as the young man of the navy. Mark Daniels was immense as the consul; Harriet Eells too a high percentage as Suzuki; lesser parts, done by Raymond Koch, Raymond O'Brien, Edith Piper, and others, were excellent.

No one was ever awkward, no one was ever at a loss as to the right place of the stage to be or how to get there. Another of Mr. Rosing's revolutions is to banish the mushroom growth at the center of the stage which supposedly hides a prompter. Yet I heard no one hestitate over a word, and no glazed and despairing glare was ever fixed upon Conductor St. Leger for a cue. On his part, he swept along in a perfectly composed, suave, and logical performance, without an angle in it.

Once again English justified itself, partly because good English had been selected, partly because it was well used. But one of the greatest effects of the performance was pictorial. It occurred at the second act, where Cho-Cho-San and Suzuki wait in the moonlight for Pinkerton to return. But here the house was reversed, the doors were closed, and only the shadows of the two women showed against the translucent panels. It is a picture that will stick in your memory for months to come.

Chicago Still Lagging as Relief Collectors Redouble Their Effort

Although contributions of $16,500 yesterday brought Chicago's total for the West Indies-Florida hurricane relief to $178,857, leaders of the local drive still were disappointed by the tardiness with which the $300,000 quota is being gathered.

Representatives of fifty-five divisional teams of the Association of Commerce, the heads of American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary drive, representatives of the Illinois Federation of Labor and the All-Chicago Council of Kiwanis International, attending a luncheon in the Palmer house, pledged their workers to extra efforts.

A speaking division which will cooperate with radio broadcasting stations for afternoon and evening appeals, and addresses before civic and fraternal organizations was announced last night by James B. Forgan Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross. The list includes Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, Howard P. Savage, Dr. Walter Dill Scott, Mrs. James A. Patten, George E. Scott, Col. A. A. Sprague, Jacob M. Dickinson Jr., Homer Bang, William R. Dawes, Dr. Herbert Macomb Moore, Dr. George E. Parisoe, and the Rev. Dr. Clinton Lowrie.

Among yesterday's larger contributions were a check for $1,129.12, the proceeds of a benefit performance at the Selwyn theater; and $1,081.75 from the employés of Crane company. Other contributions were: Chicago Tanners' association, $500; First Reformed Church of South Holland, Ill., $305; employés of Illinois Central railroad, $212; Watson & Bealer, $147.50; employés Law and Land tax department, Illinois Central railroad, $101.50; Miehle Printing Press and Manufacturing company, $300; employés Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., $108; employés Illinois Bell Telephone company, $500.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—Red Cross national headquarters issued another appeal tonight for funds for the relief of victims of the hurricane which recently swept the Virgin islands, Porto Rico and the west coast of Florida. Contributions aggregating $4,308,173 have been received, but, it was announced, another $700,000 is urgently needed to carry the total to the minimum of $5,000,000 which the organization has estimated will be required for adequate relief.

Tonight's statement indicates that Red Cross chapters in the eastern area have reported contributions totaling $3,004,112, those in the midwestern area, $820,086, and those in the Pacific area, $333,890. Other contributions are listed as follows:

Porto Rico	$83,021
Insular and foreign	5,541
American National Red Cross	50,000
The United States at large	11,522

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

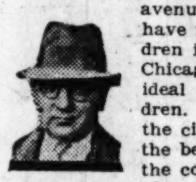
The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question E. B. Richards, McGregor, Ia., was awarded $5.

The Question.

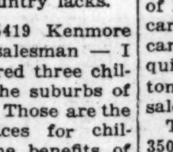
In which would you prefer to rear your children, the country or the city?

The Answers.

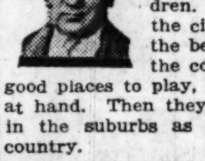
Mrs. Henry Levy, 1540 Lake Shore drive, housewife—I believe they have as many advantages in the city as in the country. There are school advantages, outdoor sports, everything. I doubt if the country can offer anything that the city hasn't got. There is much the city has that the country lacks.



Edward C. Burger, 5419 Kenmore avenue, salesman — I have reared three children in the suburbs of Chicago. Those are the ideal places for children. The benefits of the city are accessible; the best advantages of the country—fresh air, good places to play, good schools, are at hand. Then they are not isolated in the suburbs as they are in the country.



Mrs. Helen Nelles, London, England, housewife—In the country, of course. I think that's best for them. The country schools of England are up to date. I don't know anything about either the country or city schools in this country. But the best place in the world for a child when it reaches the teens is grand old London.



B. G. Wik, Allerton house, construction superintendent—In the country, of course. I wasn't reared in the country but I have lived somewhat in the country and know its benefits for children. The country schools are getting better all the time.

Mrs. J. H. Fraser, Elizabeth, Ill., housewife—I would not give preference to the city or to the country, but to the small town. The city doesn't look like the place to rear children. The child on the farm is beset with handicaps. The child of a small, but well run town—well, the one fits the other, in size and otherwise.

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

More Profits than Prophets in Revivals, Methodists Are Told

Evangelistic methods of Billy Sunday and Aimee Semple McPherson were criticized yesterday by the Rock River conference of the Methodist church by Prof. Harry F. Ward of the Union Theological seminary, New York.

"In the beginning revivalism served a useful purpose in American life," he said. "Now it has become nonmoral and is a mere appeal to the emotions. The last depth in the degradation of revivalism is reached in the commercial methods of Billy Sunday and Mrs. McPherson."

Prof. Ward, who spoke on "The Need for an Ethical Religion" also condemned Bruce Barton's "Life of Jesus."

"That is the most lamentable travesty of the character of Jesus that was ever drawn," he asserted. "There was parody in the imperialism of Rome, which made the peace loving carpenter into a conquering hero. We can recover from that idea more quickly than from this one of Barton's, which makes Him a supersalesman."

The conference, attended by about 350 churchmen, is being held in the Morgan Park Methodist church.

Today, it is expected, the matter of recommendations on the fitness of candidates for office, to be voted on Nov. 6, will be debated.

Outlook Magazine Buys the Independent; Keeps Names

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Outlook magazine announced today that it had bought the Independent, thus merging two of the oldest weekly journals of opinion in this country. The Independent was founded in 1848 and the Outlook in 1869, and both have been published continuously since. Beginning with the Oct. 24 issue of the Outlook the two magazines will be published together as "The Outlook and Independent."

THEATER

SOMETHING in the shape of a play or bearing resemblance to a show will be needed after the 27th instant in the Garrick; for "The Silent House" is to be taken out of the theater that night. And, has been observed in this place from-time-to-time, shows are scarce. Indeed, it seems that there are fewer in October of 1928 than in any previous October within the memory of the undersigned.

Indications multiply that the Woods will be used to house "The Five-O'Clock Girl," due the 28th in Chicago; and it is needless to add that the multiplication of indications about October 5 of any one year has really little to do with what will be done about October 28 of any one year, so far as show-business is concerned. . . . "The Big Pond," current in the Woods, may remain there, if its sponsors be so disposed, until the 27th.

Miss Laura Hope Crews, Arnold Korff, Richie Ling, Grant Stewart, and Miss Cora Witherspoon are well-knowns named to be with Miss Fay Compton, a London leading-woman, when Molnar's comedy named "Olympia" is ready for the populace. Ian Hunter, an English actor, also will be in the cast.

George Nash is experimenting near the Atlantic seaboard with "Danger," something new by Tom Barry, who may be remembered in Chicago for "The Upstart," and Maurice Marks.

Jack Sheehan, who replaced Lynne Overman in "Sunny Days!" while that show was in Chicago, is to return to "Lovely Lady," wherein Mitzi is soon to start a tour.

"Present Arms!" a recent washout in the Woods, is to have its existence as entertainment ended late tomorrow in Philadelphia.

Next week's novelties in New-York will be eight in number. They are, by title, "Faust," "Paris," "Courage," "Just a Minute!" "Ups-a-Daisy!" "The Light of Asia," "Little Accident," and "Hold Everything!" . . . "Just a Minute!" "Ups-a-Daisy!" and "Hold Everything!" have songs and dances and girls. "Paris" has Miss Irene Bordoni, a band, and three or four songs. "The Light of Asia" was in the list of openings for this week, and was put off for more rehearsing. "Faust" is a new stage-version of Goethe's poem by Graham and Tristam Rawson, of England, and is to be the Theater Guild's first novelty of the new season in New-York.

Eric Dressler, not here since the revival of "Trelawny of the Wells," is to be in a new piece named "Exceeding Small"; and Miss Katherine Alexander, who isn't known at all in Chicago, is to be in the one named "Little Accident."

Famous Gainsborough Painting Back in Britain

New York, Oct. 4.—[Special.]—The United States has lost an art treasure to England. Although most paintings by old masters which have crossed the Atlantic in recent years have traveled westward, it was learned here today the "Gainsborough Portrait," until recently owned by a Philadelphia collector, has returned to England.

The canvas, which was painted by Gainsborough in 1748, when he was 21, depicts himself, his daughter, and his wife, Mary Burr. Recently the painting was sent to England for showing at Ipswich. The canvas was seen there by Sir Philip Sassoon, England's undersecretary of state for air, and its sale to him was arranged.

Alden Descendants Meet Oct. 11 to Talk Ancestors

The Midwest chapter of the Alden Kindred of America will hear a talk, "Ancestor Hunting, an Indoor Sport That Is Free to All, with No Closed Season," by Dr. R. J. Atwood, historian of the chapter, at dinner next Thursday evening, Oct. 11 at the Woman's City club. The club is composed of descendants of John and Priscilla Alden, the couple celebrated in Longfellow's poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Standish was a leader in the founding of the Plymouth colony on the Massachusetts coast.

THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE of Sept. 28 stated that a watch had been stolen from the apartment of Mrs. Nathan Sanders in the Seneca hotel and one of the hotel janitors was arrested. The Seneca hotel management states that the man arrested was not their employé, but was working for a concern installing radiator covers in the hotel.

Heaven's Gate Delays Science, Bishop Insists

Tells Britons Soul Values Are Not Wasted.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The continuation of life after death was affirmed today at the church congress at Cheltenham by Dr. E. W. Barnes, famous modernist bishop of Birmingham, who aroused a storm some time ago by his denial of the theory of personal creation and acceptance of the Darwinian theory.

"Belief in the existence of the human personality after bodily death is bound up in our conception of the nature of God," the bishop said. "If we accept Christ's view of God, we cannot believe he will allow anything of value in the universe to be destroyed, and we confidently claim that the spirit of man is of such value as to be worthy of preservation. How man's spirit or personality is to be preserved we cannot say. Shall not we be content with St. Paul's confident hope that God will give it body?"

Referring to Prof. Einstein's theory, on which he is an authority, Dr. Barnes said: "With regard to space or time in the kingdom of heaven, very much the same difficulties arise as regards the body and personality. In neither case can natural science offer effective guidance. We cannot expect to discover from the mechanisms of natural science that knowledge of things as they really are."

Dean William Ralph Inge of St. Paul's advanced the idea of the devil evolving, as well as man, saying: "There is such a thing as progress in the direction of evil. The German war machine was as much a product of evolution as the church congress. To those who think a mere lapse of time must bring about a golden age, the devil replies, 'You forget I am evolving, too.'"

The dean, however, asserted that God is outside the scope of evolution.

"Religion always believes there is absolute reality and truth, and finds them in God. To assert the ultimate of relativity is to cut the nerve of faith. 'The Lord sitteth above the water flood; the Lord remaineth a king forever.' My conclusion is that evolution is only a method by which the eternal God carries out most of his purposes in the world. I do not think the existence or attributes of God are involved in it at all."

They Want to Marry, but His Mother Stands in the Way

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Fred and I have been keeping company for nearly three years. We are both 25 and plan to be married within the next year or so.

"Now, this is the problem I'm faced with. Fred's mother is entirely dependent on him for support. She has been working and earning good money and Fred has given her his entire salary always. Out of these combined incomes she could have saved something for a rainy day and at least be partially independent. But she is a poor manager and now unable to work much longer, finds herself looking to him for support.

"Further, she seems to dislike me for no apparent reason I know of but jealousy. I have tried to be as nice to her as I knew how, the few times we met. Fred often comes over in a downhearted mood after quarrels with her during which I seem to be the topic of conversation. The nature of the quarrels is not disclosed to me, but I have a suspicion that they do not consist of any very flattering remarks for me.

"She claims he spends too much time with me, whereas we have only three evenings each week together. It's understood, of course, that if Fred and I marry, his mother will make her home with us. But knowing how she feels toward me, and that I'm not the type to suffer in silence, I hesitate taking the final step as I'm afraid it'll prove once again that "three is a crowd" and most likely I'll be the third party.

"H. A. L."

The above is printed not with the hope of ironing out the mother-in-law problem for H. A. L., rather, we hope it might catch the eye of a mother here and there of an only son. We hope it will catch her eye before she gets to the stage of dependence. During her best years, when she is earning or being supported by a husband of her own!

The picture of how unwanted is the dependent female parent by her son's wife we hope might carry home a lesson in thrift, that the late years may not be made unhappy by the conflicting drama of two women depending on the same man for companionship, love, and support. These dramas are pitiful in that each woman believes her rights to be prior ones. With the sympathy always against the older woman, there's only one happy road open to her.

It is to be in a financial position to maintain her own and separate establishment, no matter how simple, and to let the young couple have their house to themselves.

Making It Worse.

I am rather large and frequently find that fact most annoying. The other evening as a group of us were walking down the street the conversation ran to lightness of foot.

"Well," I remarked, immediately on the defensive, "fat people are often much lighter than others on their feet." It was just at that moment that I unaccountably slipped and fell, landing ungracefully on my companion's foot.

Now this was sufficient to embarrass me to the utmost, but when the young man in question jokingly remarked, "Well, fat people may be light on their own feet, but they certainly aren't on others," I surely experienced my most embarrassing moment.

W. G.

Dangerous Ground.

I visited school one day when there were several mothers there. One little boy acted terribly and I said to the mother sitting next to me: "Well, if I were the teacher I'd send that boy home and let his mother teach him something."

Her head when up alarmingly as she said: "He is only playful, I'll have you understand."

Of course I knew then who his mother was and I hurried away to another room at once.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Coolidge celebrated very quietly, as is their custom, the twenty-third anniversary of their marriage. Their only guests at the White House are their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns of Boston. The chief executive and his wife are expected to occupy a box tomorrow at the military carnival and war exhibit which opened this afternoon in the grounds of the Washington barracks.

Mr. A. L. Cayzer and Mrs. F. K. Moody of Evanston, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. James and Miss Mary E. James of Winnetka, Ill., are a motoring party spending some time at the Grace Dodge hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Canby Jr. and their small son, Caleb, and Mr. Canby's mother have taken an apartment here for a stay of several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll King of Rockford, Ill., are at the Carlton for a short visit.

Will Discuss Hospital.

The board and staff of the Women and Children's hospital will hold a joint dinner meeting at the Cordon club this evening to discuss plans for the opening of their new building.

Now, before your baby comes—help him to build strong, straight bones and sound, even teeth

In the months before your baby comes, you can help him build a strong, sturdy framework and uncrowded, even teeth that will not decay easily in future years.

The best way to help, physicians say, is to include in the prenatal diet, good cod-liver oil. This not only helps to build strong bones and sound teeth for your baby, but also to protect your own teeth from the decay which is so likely to occur during pregnancy.

The only other plentiful source of this protective element that cod-liver oil supplies (Vitamin D), is sunshine. But it is almost impossible to get enough sunshine on the bare skin to be of benefit. Clothing, clouds, fog and smoke prevent it. Even ordinary window glass filters out the protecting ultra-violet rays.

Authorities urge Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil—as the surest protection. And many of them insist on Squibb's Cod-Liver Oil.

They prefer Squibb's because they know they can depend on its rich vitamin content. It is not only very rich in Vitamin D, which helps to build good bones and teeth, but also in Vitamin A which promotes growth and increases resistance to many infections.

You will be pleased with Squibb's new Mint-flavored Cod-Liver Oil. It is so easy to take—appeals to even the most sensitive taste!

Your physician knows the importance of good cod-liver oil both for you and your baby. Use the vitamin-tested, vitamin-protected oil—Squibb's. All good drug stores have Squibb's Plain and Squibb's Mint-flavored Cod-Liver Oil.

Gen. and Mrs. Dawes Will Be Hosts to Field Marshal Allenby

BY THALIA

The English Speaking union and the Council on Foreign Relations are, figuratively speaking, putting their heads together to plan a large affair for Field Marshal Viscount Edmond Allenby and Lady Allenby who are to be in Chicago, the guests of Vice President and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, the latter part of this month.

It is not quite definitely settled whether the occasion will be at luncheon or dinner time, but indications are rather in favor of the evening party. It is to be at the Blackstone, and Carroll H. Sudler is representing the English Speaking union and Mrs. Sudler the Council on Foreign Relations in planning the joint arrangements. Rather convenient that, keeping the committee heads in the family, as it were. There isn't much else known about the affair, except that Viscount Allenby is to speak, and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Dawes are to be at the speakers' table.

The Allenbys are in San Antonio, Tex., now as guests of the American Legion auxiliary at its annual convention. Viscount Allenby is to speak before the Commercial club on the [illegible], and there will doubtless be much to do about his and Lady Allenby's presence here. The Dawes will be present a few days later—Oct. 31 to be exact—at the marriage of their niece, Miss Jean Dawes to Roger Sher[illegible] of Evanston, to take place at the First Presbyterian church there.

Lady Edward Spencer-Churchill was in Chicago for a few hours yesterday on her way to San Antonio, Tex., where she also is in the group of distinguished guests of the American Legion auxiliary convention. Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick gave a tea for her yesterday afternoon.

The Onwentsia Hunt club is giving a supper party on Sunday following the weekly hunt. The riders will attend, clad in their riding togs.

The Opera club, which supplies such a smart and popular rendezvous at [illegible] West Walton place for dinners and after-the-theater parties on Wednesday and Saturday nights during the winter, is to have its opening party on Oct. 31. Rumors about new quarters for the club, which is no longer big enough to accommodate its members, are now materializing into plans for a large building on the same site, which it is hoped will begin to be erected next spring. The new place is to have two ballrooms, a glassed-over garden, and is to be done in the latest developments of the modern manner. Motion picture screens are to be installed, so that movies can be shown to divert dinner guests, and an effort is to be made to invite even more theatrical personages than have attended the parties before. The present ballroom has been redecorated with a tentlike arrangement of gold cloth and black velvet for this season, and a number of reservations have already been made for the opening party.

Keeping an eye on the progress of these various charity events is something of a job. Mrs. William H. Mitchell told the St. Luke's fashion show committee that 53 boxes have been disposed of for the evening program of the show on Oct. 23 at the [illegible] hotel ballroom and 21 have been sold for the afternoon. Mrs. [illegible] Coates Reed, in charge of the tickets, reported that the invitations and tickets are all to go in Saturday night's mail, and that she has opened an office in the Marshall Field annex for her own work and that of any of the other members who care to use it. There are to be weekly meetings on Wednesday mornings—next week at Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr.'s, and Mrs. John L. Cochran has been made chairman of the [illegible] committee, and Mrs. E. I. [illegible] is co-chairman with Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland of the tea and dinner committee.

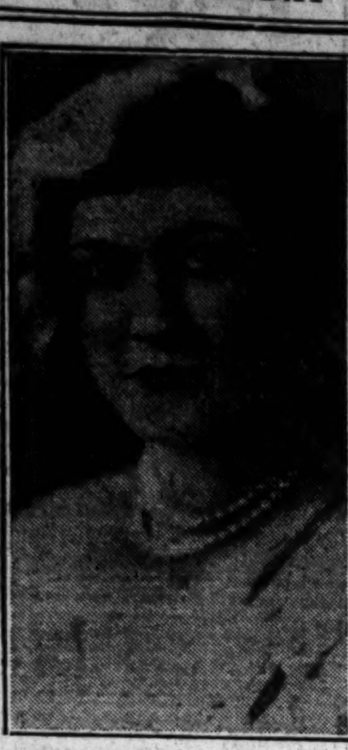
Prospects for the Junior league's presentation of "Racketty Packetty House," to open on Nov. 17, assembled at the Harris theater yesterday morning to look over the manuscript of the play and start rehearsing. Parts will not be assigned until next week, according to Miss Dorothy Schmidt who does the directing. Some of the leaguers who turned out yesterday included Mrs. Lyle Ritchie, Mrs. Robert Morrisson, Miss Edith Louise Newcomet, who is doing the publicity; Miss Margot Atkin, Miss Harriet Borland, and Miss Roberta Harvey, ticket chairman.

The Charlotte Cushman club at 70 East Elm street is to have a tea on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock. Among the women who will assist in pouring and receiving will be Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Charles Kohl, Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, Mrs. Walter F. Braun, Mrs. Erich Gerstenberg, and Mrs. R. Townsend McKeever.

Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw who has returned from abroad will divide her time between Ragdale, her Lake Forest place, and her apartment at 2450 Lake View avenue during the fall. The John Bordens, who had Ragdale for the summer, moved into their residence at 1450 Astor street this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Beuttas, who have had a house in Highland Park for the summer, are to be at the Sovereign hotel for the winter.

TO WED SUNDAY



MISS EMILY WENDEL.

The wedding of Miss Emily Wendel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wendel of 1533 North Latrobe avenue, to Fred C. Heck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heck of 2704 North Neva avenue, will take place next Sunday at the Wendel residence.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This advance fall design is distinguished by its slender, graceful flowing lines and is decidedly youthful. The molded bodice and slim skirt, fitted through the hipline, create a slender appearance. The jabot frill at the side of the bodice and the shirred flounce on the skirt add to its attractiveness. Black crêe satin, harvest brown sheer velvet, flat silk crêpe or georgette crêpe are chic materials.

The pattern, 2563, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅜ yards of 40 inch material.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin [coin preferred; wrap it carefully] for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 247 Park avenue, New York City.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

Daughter of American to Wed Relative of King

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—America is making a close approach to British royalty in the engagement, announced today, between David Bowes-Lyon, brother of the duchess of York, King George's daughter-in-law, and the probable future queen of England, and Rachel Spender-Clay. Miss Spender-Clay's mother is the former Pauline Astor, daughter of the first Viscount Astor, born an American citizen, and a sister of the present Lord Astor and Maj. Jack Astor. Col. Spender-Clay, father of the prospective bride, is the Conservative member of parliament for Tonbridge division, Kent.

Nominate Brown to Head Illinois Commerce Group

Scott Brown, capitalist and corporation lawyer of Chicago, has been nominated for president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce to succeed John H. Camlin of Rockford, it was learned yesterday. W. H. Fitch of Aurora, president of the Richards Wilcox company, has been nominated for vice-president. The ticket is so far unopposed. The election will be held in Chicago on Oct. 18.

Eatmor Cranberries
Now in Season

Serve Cranberry Mold
Recipe—4 cups cranberries, 2 cups water, 2 cups granulated sugar. Boil cranberries with water until berries stop popping. Strain through fine sieve; add sugar and stir; then boil rapidly for 8 to 10 minutes—or until a drop jells on a cold plate. Turn at once into a wet mold; and cool.
Ask for Eatmor—the name is on the box.

Now— it's ketchup time!

Of course, you'll want to make sure there's a bottle of Heinz Tomato Ketchup on your pantry shelf. Several bottles in fact.

Almost anything you serve—steak, chops, fish, cold cuts—is better for a dash of this thick, spicy, savory goodness. It's full of the flavor of Heinz ripe juicy tomatoes, fresh from the garden—simmered-down to a rich undiluted thickness. And of the tang of rare spices, personally selected by Heinz representatives in the far East.

Heinz Tomato Ketchup is the largest selling ketchup regardless of price. Get some now—for fall—at your grocer's.

Lipstick Is Magic Wand That Changes the Mouth's Contour

by

There was an argument on at the table about whether one can get a softer mouth modeling with the lipstick or with the finger tip. Not a serious argument, to be sure. But it was decided to withdraw to the washroom after the meal and try out both methods. In this instance, the finger tip was voted the smoother weapon.

Perhaps another two would have found the lipstick equally pleasing to themselves. But, at least, the incident reflects the interest there is in getting one's lips on smoothly.

The lipstick was given the credit of more successfully marking a starting point for the work. The finger nail, it was agreed, got in the way of the eye trying to find the center of the lip.

If you've been using the lipstick only, perhaps you might find that you, too, could get a smoother finish by touching the center of your lip with the red pencil and then using your finger tip ot finish the task.

Any way, whatever you do, get the mouth on nice and even and natural looking in shape. Do not purse your lips as you color them. Don't try to hold them firm. Relax and don't do the job too hurriedly. When well done it's too effective not to take time about it.

If your lips are thin I don't think it adds any charm to make them look fuller by pushing the red along above the lips. If anything can be done to make lips look fuller, it is by adding the extra back in and behind the lower lip. Thick lips, however, can be slightly reduced in appearance by keeping the red well within the line of their edge.

It's not idle rumor that you can change the appearance of a large mouth to a more regularly shaped one by halting the red a bit inside the mouth corners. And the small mouth can be lengthened somewhat in appearance by carrying the paste to the very ends of the lips at the mouth corners.

A trick to make the mouth look temptingly soft [in case you have use for a look like that] is to leave the upper lip free of red in the very center, then arch the color on the curve of the lip on both sides of the center.

Establish Foundation to Honor Raskob's Son

Dover, Del., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A charter was granted by the state department here yesterday for the "Bill" Raskob foundation in memory of the late William S. Raskob II., who was killed in an automobile accident last July while driving to his father's summer home near Centreville, Del. Young Raskob was a son of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee. The foundation is for the relief and assistance of poor children, according to the charter.

German Prisons Without Occupants; Crime Reduced

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The prison at Regen, near Frankfurt, is completely empty. The last prisoner was released a few days ago. Berlin's largest penitentiary, near Lehrten, is offered for sale. Various other cities have combined their prisons, evacuating the superfluous ones. All this indicates that criminal figures, which went up to a comparatively high mark in the years following the world war, have been greatly reduced recently.

Venizelos Tells Britain Duce Seeks Greek Pact

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Premier Eleutherios Venizelos of Greece on his visit here told the British government that Premier Mussolini of Italy had tried to induce him to conclude a military and naval coöperation treaty with Italy. Premier Venizelos said he refused, as such a treaty could only be directed against Serbia, with which Greece's relations are improving.

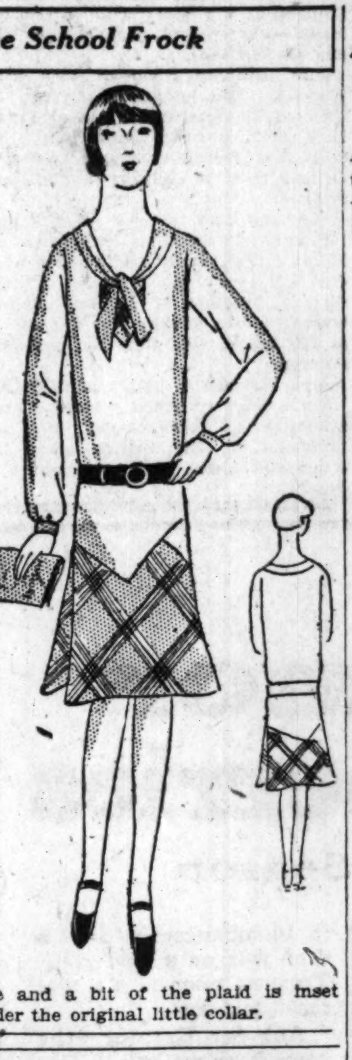
Plaids Add Life to the School Frock

by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—I myself used to call plaids among the child's garden of curses, I got so tired wearing the homely tihngs that I should willingly have taken a chance on Joseph's coat in preference. Today, however, the plaids made for school girls are very different affairs. They are so charming in coloring and so de luxe in fabric that all my old prejudice has been swept away.

Just at present there is a pronounced vogue for the combination of plaided and plain materials in jacket and skirt combination. One of these which I saw not long ago was so delightful that for once I echoed a prayer with which I have never had any really broad sympathy. I could have been a child again just for that lovely skirt of plaided blue and gray velveteen with its jacket of blue cloth worn over a white blouse and decked with white collar and cuffs. It was such a beautiful bright cheery blue and then the shape of the jacket, rounded at the corners, was as picturesque as those worn by little girls in the seventies of the last century.

The model to which I refer was designed for the girl of from 6 to 12. Today's model, on the contrary, is for the mature person of 10 to 14. It, too, is a combination of plaided and plain fabric and it, too, chooses for its color the same rollicking bright blue. The bodice is of this plain blue in a soft woolen material and the skirt combines the blue with gray stripes. A gray suede belt defines the waistline and a bit of the plaid is inset under the original little collar.

American Woman Kills 9 Polar Bears, Traps Cub

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 4.—(AP)—An arctic skipper said today that Miss Louise Boyd of San Rafael, Cal., had personally killed nine polar bears and caught one cub alive in the arctic. She also bagged many seals. The skipper returned to Norway after meeting the sealing ship Hobby, which Miss Boyd had chartered, off Spitzbergen.

Afghan King Orders Four Air Fields on East Border

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PESHAWAR, India, Oct. 4.—Amir Amanullah of Afghanistan has ordered the establishment of four landing fields with airdromes attached on the eastern frontier of Afghanistan. He is said to desire the establishment of an Indore-Afghan air service via Peshawar, Dhakka, and Kabul. Afghanistan now has two air services, one between Kabul and Tashkent and the other between Kabul and Mazar-i-sherif, on the northern frontier.

Nurses discover a "miracle cream"

If you want a softer, finer, lovelier complexion, try this new kind of beauty cream that was started on the road to fame by trained nurses.

Doctors first prescribed it for chapped hands, burns, eczema and other skin troubles. Nurses noticed how it made roughened, irritated skins smooth and beautiful, and tried it on their own faces as a powder base and as a massage at night. Their complexions became clearer, healthier, lovelier than they had dreamed possible. Largely through their recommendations, Noxzema Skin Cream has become almost overnight one of America's most popular toilet creams.

Beauty experts say that most complexions would be beautiful were it not for common skin flaws. Noxzema Cream beautifies by correcting just those beauty-destroying faults that have been preventing your complexion from being lovely.

Snow-white and dainty as the finest toilet cream, but wonderfully healing, it sinks deep below the surface, cleanses the pores, heals away every tiny skin flaw, and acts as a tonic, refreshing and stimulating so that the skin glows with renewed vitality, health and beauty.

You don't have to wait long for results with Noxzema; the instant you put it on you can "feel it heal", and then you just watch your mirror for the ever-growing loveliness that it brings.

Make This Test

Get a 25c trial jar of Noxzema for 10c this week, use it for ten days, and see the great improvement it makes in the beauty of your complexion. On sale at all drug and department stores.

LARGE PORES BLEMISHES
Noxzema is healing and astringent, closes pores, refines skin, makes it velvety soft and smooth

DRY OR OILY SKIN
Noxzema corrects oiliness or dryness—restores skin to normal healthy beauty

CHAPPED HANDS
Noxzema is wonderfully soothing and healing—quickly makes hands smooth, white, beautiful

25c Introductory Jar—10c

For those who have never tried Noxzema Skin Cream

TRUE BEAUTY OILS

Use them this way to protect your natural charm

If skin is kept naturally lovely, make-up cannot harm. But always remove it carefully each night.

AGE is a challenge to beauty. Today the woman of forty or fifty refuses to let the years conquer her loveliness. She protects her treasured complexion, first index to enduring beauty.

Every night remove all traces of rouge and powder, of dust and grime, of oil secretion and dead skin by massaging the face thoroughly with a profuse lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water.

Its rich unguent lather, composed of the priceless beauty oils Nature supplies in palm and olive trees, gently penetrates the pores and leaves them fine-textured, cleansed and youthful.

Work the lather into the skin with your two hands to massage away any telltale lines of age. Rinse with warm water, then cold. Dry by patting with a soft towel. Occasionally use an ice massage.

In the morning, observe the same treatment; end by applying finishing cream. Then (and then only) are you ready for rouge and powder. If your skin is apt to be dry, an olive oil rub before your soap massage brings grateful results.

But—never omit your Palmolive treatment night and morning. At 10c the cake it offers the world's least expensive beauty recipe. On sale everywhere.

Steer Parental Authority with Your Compass at 'Reason'

Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

If you can get your parental compass at the direction marked "Reason" and steer your course by it pretty steadily, you'll come out remarkably well.

One of the things that it will lead you to is fairness. If, before you sit in judgment, before you get impatient and cross with your children, you glance at your compass to see whether you're a point off your course, you'll be saved many mistakes.

Billy and his mother went for a number of long walks and always had a beautiful time together. And each time they'd tell Bill's father about it.

But when all three of them went for long walks the events were what you might call socially unsuccessful. Billy always lagged and dragged and had a pain in his side, or one leg tired, and the edge of every one's enjoyment was spoiled. In the end Billy's father would get cross, his mother disgusted, and Billy upset, and they all would come home in ill humor.

"I don't see why it is that you act up like this whenever we go out together. I don't see why you can't walk along and behave yourself the way other children do. I'm never going out with you again—that's all, and I'm beginning to think these stories about the long walks you take with your mother are fairy tales."

After this had happened half a dozen times, Billy's mother decided that it behooved her to do a little thinking on the subject. If she and Billy could have these delightful walks together, why were the walks made up of herself and Bill and his father such fiascos? And why did all their scolding of him on every walk have no effect?

Finally, she hit upon the cause. When she and her son went out together they talked chummily in real give and take. But when all three of them went off together she and her husband talked exclusively about the things that interested them. This left Billy just trudging along without any part in the conversation and, of course, he was bored and had time to think how tired he was, and wanted to go home. This was the simple cause of the discord.

A third grown person excluded from a conversation is neither happy nor interested. Why should a child be? In this case it was unreasonable and unfair to expect the boy to walk along with them like an automaton. Often what we call a child's ill temper or peevishness cannot fairly be called his fault. Frequently all that is needed to remove it is a reasonableness on our part in what we expect of him.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Take your milk bottles in off the window sills. That is Uncle Sam's advice. His staff has discovered that sunlight injures milk. That will be a surprise to many who have looked on sunshine as nature's cure-all.

Outdoor "iceboxes" and handy shelves on the window sill should be done away with, for if milk is exposed to the sun's rays it sometimes develops a flavor described as a "cardboard taste" by government scientists. The odor is like drying linseed oil, according to Dr. William C. Frazier of the bureau of dairy industry.

It is explained that the sunlight apparently acts on the butter fat in the milk. Duplicate samples were used in tests where some of the milk was exposed to daylight and other samples were put in a dark place. Samples kept in the dark developed no off flavors or odors, even after seven to nine days at near freezing temperatures. Samples kept in the light at the same temperatures developed the characteristic cardboard odor and taste after twenty to forty-eight hours of which eight to twelve hours were daylight.

Cardboard caps do not cause this peculiar taste. Oil feeds of cattle do not cause it either, tests showed.

The tests were made in diffused light—in a north window—not in direct sunlight. Other tests have shown, however, that direct sunlight on butterfat or milk rapidly injures the flavor.

Camp Fire Plaques.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Stewing Pumpkins for Pies.

By consulting my files I find that a long time ago I lamented the fact that pumpkin was cooked to just the insipid stage and then overspiced for pies, or for a pie that ranks as traditionally American. As I read over what I wrote it seems to me that I cannot improve upon it, so here it is again:

A proper pumpkin pie has an aroma. This aroma is as positive and alluring as that of the best cake ever baked. The common way of expressing this fact is to speak of the spicy pumpkin pie. But this may be quite misleading, since pumpkin pies are often flavored with an excess of ginger, cinnamon, and cloves and it is their odor that is disseminated. It is the pumpkin's own aroma, deepened and intensified by the right sort of cooking, that should constitute the main thing in the odor from a pumpkin pie. By long and careful cooking only is this intensification brought about.

It cannot be too much emphasized that pumpkin for pies should be cooked until it is of a dark brown shade. This means that it is cooked much longer than the time required to make it tender. A double boiler or some similar contrivance is the best utensil in which to cook it so, and no water should be added to it, as none is needed when it is so protected.

Now note: The edible portion of a pumpkin contains over ninety-three per cent of water and by dry steaming—as in the double boiler—much of this can be dried out and at the same time whatever sugar there is in the pumpkin, and there is some, is actually caramelized or browned and that is undoubtedly what gives the dark color so superior to any similar color obtained by spices and molasses. A pumpkin pie made of sugar pumpkin without an egg in it may be sort of delicious cake in a crust, not the custardy thing or watery that some pumpkin pies are.

Pumpkin was cooked in the old days in an iron kettle all day on top of the old stoves, but if it was not kept over a slow fire it would quickly burn on, and to have it do so after hours of cooking was discouraging. The double boiler way is even slower but surer. However, there is something in the direct cooking that seems to give a desirable effect.

Mercolized Wax Keeps Skin Young

Remove all blemishes and discolorations by regularly using pure Mercolized Wax. Get an ounce at any drug store and use as directed. Fine, almost invisible particles of aged skin peel off until all defects, such as pimples, liver spots, tan, freckles and large pores have disappeared. Skin is beautifully clear, soft and velvety and face looks years younger. Mercolized Wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and age lines, use this face lotion: 1 ounce powdered Saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

Church Society Party.

The Nocturnal Adoration society of Notre Dame church in conjunction with Notre Dame auxiliary is sponsoring a card party and dance to be held this evening at the Congress hotel.

"Youthful Bloom

. . . which MELLO-GLO reproduces, does not wear off so quickly," says beautiful Laura Lacaillade, of 226 W. 55th St., New York City, in praise of this new, wonderful French process face powder. "MELLO-GLO does not leave the skin dry or clog the pores. It keeps the ugly shine away and spreads so smoothly that not a single pore is visible."

AN OPPORTUNITY

FOR MEN WHO ARE

WILLING TO WORK.

Many men cheat their families and themselves out of the pleasure of life because they say: "I am not a salesman," "I can't sell," or "I am unlucky."

Salesmanship depends upon the frame of mind a man is in. If you believe you can do what you see other men do you can learn to sell and make $40 to $60 a week while you are learning.

Selling is not a mystery. It is just knowing what you have to sell and knowing how to properly explain it to your prospects.

In 2 or 3 months our business will pay you $75 to $80 a week, with an increasing income.

Men of exceptional sales ability are able to double and triple this amount. I have men who made over $300 last week.

You are not limited with us. You are put into business for yourself. No investment or deposits required.

EMPLOYMENT MANAGER,
SUITE 2118,
203 N. WABASH-AV.

AN EXPANSION PROGRAM now being planned offers 5 territories in Chicago and suburbs to experienced salesmen.

The men selected will be properly trained and given protected territories with a drawing account against a commission. This is an opportunity to enter the fastest growing industry in the United States.

See Sales Manager,
313 N. Michigan-av.

AT LAST—YOUNG MEN.

A position worth while; exp. unnecessary; liberal salary, commission, and bonus, with exceptionally rapid advancement; large, reliable concern in its best season offers you a genuine opportunity if you are young, ambitious, and eager to really work hard. SALESMEN.

This advertisement has never appeared before. It offers a genuine opportunity on an entirely new proposition.

The A. W. Shaw Co., the largest publishers of business literature in the world, is marketing today, for the first time, a new service sold to industrial executives. This represents the result of 15 years research work in the industrial field. This undoubtedly is the greatest service that has ever been offered to American business men. In this connection we require the services of 15 high grade salesmen, who have had actual experience calling on business executives, to cover the United States. Following a most unusual plan of operation, we will place the sale of this proposition on an exclusive territorial basis.

We want men with actual sales experience. Preferably those who have sold intangibles. To those who qualify we will pay a starting salary and liberal commissions and transportation to territory. For interview see A. C. Croft, 660 Cass-st.

MEN—WOMEN

FROM EVERY WALK OF LIFE, 21 TO 50.

All your life you have waited for an opportunity to better yourself—an opportunity to give yourself and family the finer things of life—vacations, beautiful clothes, education, etc.

I have pointed the way to success for thousands of ambitious men and women. Let me talk to you—possibly I can show you the way to finer things; possibly I can tell you things you never dreamed of.

I CAN GIVE MANY PERSONS SPARE TIME WORK—IN YOUR OWN HOME! NO SELLING, NO CANVASSING AND PLENTY OF MONEY. POSSIBLY YOU CAN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MY OFFER.

Anyway, write me a letter, tell me about yourself—your education, your desires, your present position; anything that might guide me in helping you.

Your letters will be held in strictest confidence and returned to you when I finish studying them.

I need you if your ambition makes you restless with the humdrum things of life and if you have an inborn craving for more money than you now seem able to earn [you may need me for the same reason]; drop me a letter right away and let's arrange for a personal interview.

H. JAMES VAN BUSKIRK.

A GOOD POSITION

OPEN FOR SIX AMBITIOUS WOMEN over 25 years of age. Must be willing to work and want a permanent position. Large rate of commission, quickly paid. Liberal expense provision made.

I represent a financially responsible firm, well advertised in the Chicago papers. If you have sales experience I can start you in this field at once. No traveling. I will also consider one or two beginners and teach them our method of salesmanship and give my personal help. This is an opportunity to connect with a live, well advertised firm selling the same line for more than a quarter century to thousands of satisfied customers. References exchanged. This is a sound, conservative selling position with a good future. Apply, in person only, today, 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m., Suite 1329-1330 Hotel Morrison. JAMES KELLY.

WOMEN—MEN FROM EVERY WALK OF LIFE, 21 TO 50.

All your life you have waited for an opportunity to better yourself—an opportunity to give yourself and family the finer things of life—vacations, beautiful clothes, education, etc.

I have pointed the way to success for thousands of ambitious men and women. Let me talk to you—possibly I can show you the way to finer things; possibly I can tell you things you never dreamed of.

I CAN GIVE MANY PERSONS SPARE TIME WORK—IN YOUR OWN HOME! NO SELLING, NO CANVASSING AND PLENTY OF MONEY. POSSIBLY YOU CAN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MY OFFER.

Anyway, write me a letter, tell me about yourself—your education, your desires, your present position; anything that might guide me in helping you.

Your letters will be held in strictest confidence and returned to you when I finish studying them.

I need you if your ambition makes you restless with the humdrum things of life and if you have an inborn craving for more money than you now seem able to earn [you may need me for the same reason]; drop me a letter right away and let's arrange for a personal interview.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

The second mortgage business is a good deal better organized than it was five years ago. In fact, five years ago there was no organization at all. There were literally thousands of people interested in second mortgages as a sort of detached business. They were willing to loan because the rate of return was tremendously large. Within the last three years it has been demonstrated that second mortgage loans, when properly made, are relatively as safe as first mortgage loans and that if loans are made to the home owner there is no earthly reason why such a high cost should be charged, at least high cost which is probably warranted in commercial and speculative ventures.

We have seen rates on second mortgages come down very materially since we first became concerned in this business. Our rates are still lower than any rates quoted in Chicago, and we are prepared to meet home owners of Cook, Lake and Du Page counties to figure with them on an advantageous basis for their second mortgage financing.

To make this plan a success monthly payments of at least 2% plus interest are required. We charge 6% accruing interest and commissions of 3½% for one year, 6½% for two years and 9% for three years.

It will pay you to shop around a bit before placing a second mortgage on your home, and as you shop we invite you to come in and satisfy yourself that the rates quoted by The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, Agent, are lower than any. We are fortunate in having been placed in command of a very large fund to be used exclusively in this endeavor.
